Our Real Gold Mine.
Miles of Corn.
Better Pictures.
No Fighting, Perhaps.
A New Monroe Doctrine.
—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 5.

THIS IS written on the Chicago and Northwestern train No. 9, traveling through Iowa and Nebraska from Chicago to Omaha. Gold mines, copper mines and diamond mines are beautiful, but they become exhausted.

This train is rushing through a mine of wealth that will never be exhausted, increasing in value and productive power as the mines of agriculture develop.

MILES AND miles of green cornfields, on either side of the track; billions of yellow tassels swinging in the summer breeze. Here and there on smaller farms, where work falls behind, men are separating wheat from the straw, blowing the straw into great piles, for which the farmer has little use.

The modern wheat grower uses a huge "combine" that goes through the standing wheat, cutting, threshing, delivering grain in bags to trucks that accompany the "combine."

THIS IMPORTANT part of America produces our real wealth, THE CROPS. Farmers get little of it, prices are low, and what little is left above cost of production goes to banks for mortgage interest, to railroad freight charges, to middlemen profits. But that will not be so always.

M. C. JOHNSTON, conductor of No. 9, says:

"This is the finest country in the world, you can't help being healthy out here. Isn't it a pleasure to look at that corn? Of course, it is hot sometimes, but that doesn't last, and, what difference does it make? It's only hot; you are not boiled in humidity as you are back East."

He adds, confidentially, that the Chicago and Northwestern is the best railroad in the world.

IOWA IS CHEERFUL today for two reasons. George Saling, Iowa University student, yesterday won the 110-meter hurdle in 14.6 seconds, tieing the old Olympic record. Day before yesterday he broke that record.

Also the National Editorial Association in San Francisco declares the Iowa, Storm Lake, Pilot-Tribune, the "best weekly" newspaper in the United States. W. C. Jarnagin is publisher of the Pilot-Tribune.

Some of our "big men" including important advertisers fail to appreciate the importance of weekly newspapers. Their influence on public opinion exceeds that of all other publications in the country.

PARAGUAY AND BOLIVIA may after all not enjoy their "real war." Young gentlemen of Paraguay and Bolivia are "rushing to the colors," eager to fight somebody.

In Paraguay young women, "including debutantes and society ladies," insist on joining the army. They won't knit or do homework, but insist on fighting in the front line trenches and if there are no trenches they will dig some. But the South American ladies and gentlemen may miss the "pleasure" of finding out what a real war is like.

The United States has joined with South American countries in declaring that it will not "recognize territorial gains made by armed force."

(This means a sort of Monroe Doctrine among countries in South America. It would hardly be worth while to fight for land if you couldn't enjoy it after you got it).

Europe should have had such a "non-recognition" agreement in 1914. It would have prevented the silly program of carving out and setting up impromptu nationalities, for which one of our distinguished Presidents was largely responsible.

THERE IS a little "light in the darkness" for farmers along this and other railroads.

Many farm products have recently increased in price, corn two cents a bushel, oats three cents, barley four cents, wheat five, rye seven, hay $1.50 a ton, potatoes five cents a bushel, sweet potatoes fifteen cents, apples twenty-five cents, and hogs, which is most important, $1.70 a hundred-weight.

Increases, also in beef, veal, lamb, sheep, chickens, eggs, butter, butterfat, wool, milk cows, up $3 per head, horses $5 per head, mules $2 per head.

Republican office seekers every night should add to their "Now I lay me" a prayer for continuing and increasing farm prices.

IN DES MOINES three men are accused of torturing a ten-year-old boy "just for a little fun." One has confessed. The child was stripped of his clothing, water poured over him, burning matches applied to his body.

The burns were not serious, and the boy will recover. But no punishment could atone for such a crime, or for the mental agony inflicted upon the boy's mother.

DES MOINES justice can be relied upon to impress that fact upon those guilty of what they call a "little prank." The right punishment would be twenty years in prison and arrangements that would make it impossible for the three enjoying the "little fun" ever to perpetuate their kind and hand on to another generation their idea of "amusement."

Police Pensions Slashed Despite Injunction

POLICEMEN GET CUT IN PENSIONS

Emergency Declared to Evade Injunction Sought by Men

The city administration today succeeded in circumventing a court injunction against reducing police pensions, cutting the base rate—$86 a month for ex-patrolmen — to $51.60.

The injunction, obtained by Attorney Ralph H. Smith, counsel for the Veteran Police Association, restrains the board of directors of the Police Pension Fund from reducing the pension rate by adoption of a by-law.

The board today, under its constitution, was able to declare a temporary abatement in payments because of an emergency, inasmuch as it estimates a $50,000 deficit in income during the year. Final rates will depend on court hearings, but apparently the "emergency" will enable the reduction to stand the rest of the year.

The pensioners contend that with $2,020,000 in investments, the fund could have used last year's $52,000 surplus to pay full rate pensions the rest of this year.

Pensioners today pointed out that the board had not reduced the salaries of Chester Morley, fund secretary, $5,000 a year; an assistant secretary at $3,600; James M. Clark, public safety director, who is also the fund's solicitor, although he has never appeared in court for it, special counsel being engaged. Clark receives $1,200 a year as fund solicitor, besides his $8,000 a year as safety director.

Police Supt. Peter P. Walsh, who during an absence from the police department successfully sued the fund for $7,000 it had refused him, presided at today's meeting. Inspector Ed Kirby presented the resolution. The vote was 7-1, the one pensioner on the board voting against it.

Chicago Friend Gets Malie's New Songs

Unpublished songs of Tommy Malie, armless writer of song lyrics, were bequeathed to Willard Herring, a Chicago friend, who volunteered to defray the cost of the former Pittsburgher's funeral. Malie's will was filed today in Chicago.

Malie, reputed to have accumulated $100,000 from his ballads, died penniless Monday in a Chicago hospital.

Bloomfield Trust To Pay Dividend

A dividend of $152,721.12, the first from the closed Bloomfield Trust Company, will be distributed Tuesday, August 16. It is 12½ per cent of the approved claims. The bank closed September 26, 1931. Amounts under $1 will be paid in cash and above that will be sent by check to the last known address of the depositors.

Wives of Volpes Sought Prayers For Safety

One day before the three Volpes were slain by gunmen their wives gave $6 to a solicitor for prayers for the safety of their families.

This was revealed in Central Police Court today by Detective Walter Monahan, testifying against Chester Kosenski, 24, solicitor for the Guardian Angel Orphanage of Chicago.

Monahan said the wives of John, Arthur and James Volpe each contributed $2 for a religious magazine and the prayers to the solicitor in their Wilmerding home.

Kosenski was fined $10. James Schlifer, 27, of Veteran street, North Side, was discharged.

Lancaster Diary Read To Jury

By LARRY SMITS
International News Service.

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 5.—Capt. William N. Lancaster's own story of his infatuation for "Chubbie"—Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller—and the mental agony he underwent when he learned Haden Clarke had won her affections was laid before the jury at Lancaster's trial for the murder of Clarke today.

That story, in Lancaster's own words from the diary which the British flier kept, was read into the record by the prosecution in support of the state's contention that Lancaster, beside himself with jealousy, shot Clarke to death in the Keith-Miller home here the night of April 20.

The diary covered the first four months of 1932. Its last entry, April 17, was made in St. Louis just before Lancaster left there on the hurried flight which ended in Miami the afternoon before Clark was killed.

TELLS OF DEVOTION

Day by day the diary told its story of an intense devotion, of an unending battle against lack of money, of a continuing pursuit of will-o'-the-wisp business schemes, and of a regard for "Chubbie" which mattered more to Lancaster than the failure of futile ventures or the ever-pressing problem of where his next meal was coming from.

It spoke of the meeting with Clarke, young newspaperman, who was to "ghost-write" Mrs. Keith-

MT. LEBANON GETS BUSES

Motor coach service to Mt. Lebanon will be restored Sunday, T. Fitzgerald, vice president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, announced, following a conference with township officials.

Attending the conference were L. C. Clark, president of the board of township commissioners; F. W. Cook, township manager, and S. A. Schreiner, township solicitor. Company officials, in addition to Fitzgerald, were W. H. Boyce, commercial manager, and C. D. Palmer, research engineer.

Fitzgerald said that coaches would be operated for a trial period, hourly, beginning downtown at 8:45 a. m., leaving from Grant street and Liberty avenue, and returning from Mt. Lebanon at 11:15 p. m.

The new arrangements met with the approval of the township officials.

Torch-Song Widow of Reynolds Hunted In 3 States

International News Service.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Aug. 5.—A telegram sent to the solicitor's office today by Alfred Holman, father-attorney of Libby Holman Reynolds, charged with the murder of her young millionaire husband, Zachary Smith Reynolds, indicated that the missing defendant might shortly surrender to North Carolina authorities.

Holman will arrive here from Cincinnati late today in an attempt to treat with authorities concerning his daughter, hunted by authorities of three states.

The telegram sent by Holman, addressed to J. Erle McMichael, assistant solicitor of Forsyth County, North Carolina, read:

"Undergo no expense re Mrs. Reynolds' appearance at Winston. Please have court await my arrival."

SEE SURRENDER

From the contents of the telegram received from Holman, authorities believed he would reveal when and where his daughter would surrender to the sheriff.

Solicitor Carlisle Higgins declared that he knew of no regular legal move Holman could take upon his arrival to obtain fraedom under bond for his daughter unless she was turned over into the custody of North Carolina authorities. The Solicitor said:

"I do not intend to trade with Mr. Holman. The status of the case at present is very clear. Mrs. Reynolds has been duly indicted for murder with Ab Walker by a grand jury. It is now our duty to see that she is taken into custody."

The Solicitor pointed out that after Libby surrendered to North Carolina authorities it would be possible for her counsel to begin habeas corpus proceedings.

UP TO JUDGE

In the event of habeas corpus proceedings, the solicitor pointed out, defense counsel might demand presentation of the evidence upon which the grand jury based its indictment.

The presiding judge would then decide whether the evidence war-

The assailant was seized immediately but he swallowed poison and died a few minutes afterwards.

Gang Will 'Get' Volpe Killers, Ferris Says

The police failing, Lieut. Frank Ferris, of the Homicide Squad, today looked to surviving henchmen of the departed to avenge the massacre of Johnny, Jim and Arthur Volpe, booze racketeers.

Ferris, whose sleuths have been unable to locate the killers, after seven days of search, predicted:

"In less than six months there'll be more killings. If the police don't get the mob that rubbed out the Volpes, then the Volpe gang will."

Ferris today added two more clues to the list, but neither seemed to promise much. One was discovery that one of the four guns used to wipe out the Volpes had been sold in Camden, N. J., nine years ago to B. Bloom, of Steubenville, said to be in California now. The other was a check on the 13 hats found in the Volpe coffee shop in Wylie avenue, where the brothers were slain.

Sam Bazzano, who saw the massacre, said 10 of the hats belonged to the Volpes.

Bazzano insisted he did not know the owners of the other hats, but Ferris was checking their ownership today through numbers found in the bands.

ZIEGFELD WILLS ALL TO FAMILY

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Florenz Ziegfeld's will, a simple document dividing his estate equally between his widow, Billie Burke, and his daughter, Patricia, was filed today.

No appraisal of the estate was attached to the will.

The will, five pages in length, dated April 30, 1929, provides for payment of funeral expenses and then says the residue shall be divided between the widow, Ethelbert Appleton Ziegfeld ("also known as Billie Burke") and Patricia.

It requests that Billie Burke pay his mother not less than $500 monthly in not less than quarter annual payments and suggests that when Patricia is of age she contribute equally to the elder Mrs. Ziegfeld's support.

Dr. Rinehart Shows Some Improvement

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Members of Dr. Stanley M. Rinehart's family, including his wife, the widely-known novelist, Mary Roberts Rineharrt, today had found some encouragement in a report that the physician's condition seemed somewhat improved.

Mistinguett Night Club Stormed

ANTIBES, France, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Disappointed pleasure-seekers, many Americans among them, paraded noisily the streets of Antibes last night and threw sand through the windows of a night club owned by Mlle. Mistinguett, the dancer.

The demonstration followed a mayor's decree forbidding noise in "Pajamaland," as the beach and night club district is called, stopping the music in cafes at 10 o'clock and closing the cafe terraces at midnight. Mlle. Mistinguett's night club and the municipal casino were the only places permitted to remain open all night.

The club was thoroughly deluged with sand. Maurice Chevalier was one of the club's guests.

TANK OF GAS, $1 ALLOTTED EACH CAR

Mayor Convinces Men He Cannot Deliver 'Ride on Cushions'

By AL GOUGH
Staff Correspondent.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 5.—Evacuation of the Bonus Army from its Ideal Park encampment was expected to be completed by nightfall. This afternoon the veterans' autos were gotten underway with a tank full of gas and $1 out of the camp fund for each car for incidentals. More than 100 State Highway Department trucks stood ready to haul the others.

For those who insisted on remaining here, Mayor Eddie McCloskey, who had invited the men here and who had promised free gas and eats or a train ride all the way home, promised action by the police.

At noon today about 2,000 men, women and children were holding firm in their demand for gas all the way home, or a "ride on the cushions."

CALMS OBJECTORS

McCloskey went among the veterans and pacified them. He told them it was impossible to meet their demands.

When he got through, 152 private cars were filled with gas and the state trucks were held in readiness to evacuate the others after the private motorcade left.

The army was magnanimous in its attitude toward McCloskey, who is still fighting the Pennsylvania Railroad for passenger coaches for the veterans destined for the East.

They cheered Eddie Atwell, representative of Commander Waters, when he told them that by obeying orders they were sticking together and keeping their organization intact.

As the bonus veterans began moving out, another group was received with acclaim by the citizens of Johnstown. It was the Prices of securities and commodities continued to appreciate in American markets today.

Shares on the New York Stock Exchange scored substantial advances, many leaders rising $2 to $7 in active trading. Profit-taking had a dampening effect at times, but the market was comparatively quiet when reacting.

Prices of leading staples were buoyed by the reported movement for formation of a so-called "pool" which would extend credit to manufacturers so that they might replenish inventories.

Strength of the dollar against leading European currencies, especially sterling, was taken as further evidence that foreigners were buying American securities here.

Raised Charity Orders To Feed Needy Kin

A man dependent upon public charity, who once told welfare workers they had given him an order for more food than he was entitled to, was held for investigation in Penn Avenue Police Court today, accused by police of having raised three food orders from $2 to $7, given him by the city.

Leopold Rivinski, 50, of 3406 Ligonier street, testified he had raised the orders to feed his wife and four of his 16 grandchildren living in Glassport. Rivinski, taken into custody yesterday, refused to answer questions asked by City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt and Mrs. Enoch Rauh, head of the Department of Welfare.

Previous to the hearing Magistrate J. J. O'Connor, of Penn Avenue Police Court, said Cath City charities workers had told arrest Rivinski bore an excellent tation and once had return them for revision a food orc thought too generous.

STATE SALES TAX TO BE PUSHED TO RAISE RELIEF FUND

LEVY PROPOSED ON CIGARETS, COSMETICS

Legislative Leaders Convinced Money Must Be Raised

By MARK SHIELDS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 5.—Sales taxes on cigarets, cosmetics and soft drinks are to be pushed in the legislature as alternates to occupational and income taxes as methods of raising revenue for relief of the states' 1,150,000 persons jobless.

While neither Gov. Pinchot nor legislative leaders who yesterday were rebuffed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in their plea for an immediate contribution of $10,000,000 from Washington would officially comment on next week's program, it was learned from a reliable source that steam will be put behind the excise tax bills.

BILLS IN COMMITTEE

At present they are in the House Committee on Ways and Means, but will be reported out Monday night by Representative Philip Sterling, according to present plans.

The income tax and occupational tax bills are on third reading Monday night, but strong sentiment has developed against both.

A third proposals, for county occupational taxes, to be introduced Monday night by Representative Wade, of Cumberland, is not making much headway in the larger counties, which demand that the state, rather than local governmental units, shall meet the relief need.

Gov. Pinchot today said he would sign any proper tax bill sent to his desk by the Legislature. He said that yesterday's attitude of the federal officials confirmed his past statements that United States Treasury money would not be allotted to Pennsylvania until the state had made a real effort to meet its own needs.

LEADERS IMPRESSED

Senator Harry B. Scott, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee; Senator Frank Baldwin, of the Senate Finance Committee, representing Joseph G. Steedle, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and Representative Sterling, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, who were in the Pennsylvania party at Washington yesterday, were impressed by the urgency of passing tax legislation in order to become eligible for the federal loan.

Rural sentiment is understood to have swung to the sales taxes. The attitude of members from the interior counties is that the larger communities will pay the bulk of the tax on cigarets, cosmetics and soft drinks.

Despite this veering of sentiment, there is powerful opposition to the selective sales taxes, and a bitter fight is brewing over the whole subject of taxation next week. Both House and Senate are in the hands of blocs without a strong leadership capable of coalescing sentiment behind any tax program.

The result may be a battle not only within the houses, but between the two, which may lead to the prolongation of the legislative session for another week.

Harris Urges Political Meet in Relief Crisis

While Pennsylvania legislators today were realizing that the state must do something for relief of the needy before it can call for federal aid, it was learned that 62,000 families receive public or private relief in Allegheny County and that at least 1,000 new families are being added to the rolls each week.

Welfare workers explained the organizations associated with the Welfare Fund, the Allegheny County Emergency Association and the Poor Board are administering relief to approximately 31,000 families and expect to get appeals from 57,000 families by December 31. Other agencies, unassociated with these three, they say, bring the total now receiving aid to 62,000 cases.

On the action of the R. F. C in refusing aid, State Senator Frank J. Harris said:

"I believe the political leaders of the state should meet next week, agree on a tax program to provide revenue for adequate relief, recommend its passage by the Legislature and thereby demonstrate to the federal government that we are making a sincere effort to alleviate suffering in our state, and then, perhaps, they will look with favor on our request for aid.

"I suggest a reasonable and fair luxury tax, but no taxes on the necessities of life.

Wilbur F. Maxwell, secretary of the Welfare Fund, said:

"We hope that the Legislature will see the necessity of passing real relief measures. The Legislature should find some way to give real help before we go to the federal government."

Miss Eleanor Hanson, of the Family Welfare Association, said:

"I do not feel that we should ...for federal aid until we have ...usted our own resources. ...aven't done that yet. ...sure that welfare work... Allegheny County agree ...e, that we are in serious ...help from the state."

DETROIT GIVEN RELIEF LOAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Detroit was granted a Finance Reconstruction Corporation loan of $1,800,000 for destitution relief yesterday.

The money is to be used for relief during the next two months. The loan was made at the request of the Governor of Michigan. A corporation statement said:

"The amount is made available to the city of Detroit at this time to enable the city to meet the immediate emergency and to give time for the development of further state and municipal relief plans."

The statement said supporting data accompanying the application indicated the city was unable to dispose of $1,800,000 of a $10,000,000 bond issue for welfare purposes and that it would be impossible for the state to act in time to meet the emergency.

Weather Conditions.

There is a low pressure area centered north of the Great Lakes and another over the Gulf of Mexico, while high pressure covers the West and the South Atlantic Ocean. There is considerable cloudiness over the lake region and the Mississippi Valley, but there was no rainfall of consequence in that section except north of the lakes. Generous rainfall occurred over the South Atlantic states. The temperature change since yesterday morning was slight, but maximum temperatures of 90 degrees or higher occurred yesterday over a larger area than the preceding day. The only places reporting 100 degrees or higher were San Antonio, 102, and Phoenix, 110.

COX DENOUNCES ROUT OF VETS

The Rev. James R. Cox, of Old St. Patrick's Church, addressed several hundred persons who attended the street fair and carnival of Overbrook Post No. 1620, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at Overbrook last night.

The priest criticized the government officials for driving the bonus-seeking veterans from Washington. He declared the officials now in power there also would be driven out, through the ballot.

The winners of the carnival's second annual beauty contest, were: First, Palma Hahne, 18, of 115 Ormsby avenue, Mt. Oliver; second, Miss Emma Helen, 16, 420 Park avenue, Monongahela, and third, Miss Kitty Farr, 20, 404 Ivyglen street, Overbrook. Miss Hahne took second prize at last year's contest. The three will be presented with loving cups tomorrow night. A baby contest will be featured tonight.

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., Aug. 5.—One of the largest crowds ever present in the park is expected Saturday night, August 13, when Father James R. Cox, of Pittsburgh, is scheduled to speak in the Temple of Music. Contributions received will be divided between Father Cox, for his relief work, and the Crawford County relief fund.

COX REBUFFED BY BONUS VETS ON MERGER

Priest Offers to Lead 'Khaki Shirts,' in Johnstown Talk

By AL GOUGH
Staff Correspondent.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 5.—Efforts of the Rev. Father James R. Cox, of Pittsburgh, to merge his Blue Shirt army and the projected Khaki Shirt organization, outgrowth of the ragged bonus army, failed here.

Father Cox met with the tattered remnants of the bonus forces encamped at Ideal Park at 3 a. m. today. He came here, he said, at the invitation of a committee of three bonus veterans, and the camp commander, William Waite, of the ex-soldiers. He said he was willing to lead them if they so desired. His remarks were interrupted several times by jeers.

LOSES COMMAND

Waite had been relieved of his command some five hours earlier on charges of drunkenness. Chief of Staff Edward Atwell, who succeeded Doak E. Carter when the latter refused to carry out National Commander Walter W. Waters' orders to disband, named Bill Norman the new commander.

Father Cox, addressing about 100 of the several thousand remaining in camp, urged the linking of the Blue Shirts of the unemployed, and the Khaki Shirts.

During the discussion "Red" Donlan, one of Waters' staunchest supporters, walked to the speakers' platform. He said:

"I know this is not the time nor place to be talking about the Khaki Shirts.

"I'm one to obey orders. Nobody has any right to speak here except by permission of the camp commander.

"Walter W. Waters is still our national commander and I think that we had better adjourn this meeting until after breakfast."

Cheers greeted his remarks from all parts of the camp and the crowd shambled back to bed.

Father Cox, preparing for immediate return to Pittsburgh, said:

"I came here at the invitation of this committee. If the men need me, I will always be ready to serve them. If they don't want me, I'm still their friend."

COLLISION KILLS HITCH-HIKER

One hitch-hiker was killed and another injured when the auto in which they were being given a lift collided with a truck in Bigelow boulevard at Herron avenue early today. A third man, William Bashore, 24, of Mt. Pleasant, O., driver of the auto, also was hurt.

Jack Carnahan, 30, of Lawson street, Steubenville, O., was killed. He was identified by his companion, Ted Walsh, of Weirton, W. Va., who fled from the emergency room of St. Francis Hospital while needing medical attention, the police reported.

A charge of reckless driving was placed against Bashore. The truck driver, Walter Mann, 26, of Wilkins avenue, also is being held.

Brazil's Navy Sails To Attack Rebels

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—The second division of the Brazilian federal navy left the capital at dawn today for Santos, where it was planned to land troops, if possible, and immediately open an attack upon the Sao Paulo rebels.

2 VET FAMILIES STRANDED HERE

Homebound veterans came through Pittsburgh today. A train of 15 cars on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, bound for Wheeling and the West, stopped at Glenwood last night to unload 40 bonus marchers headed for Cleveland. "Wait Until November," "Hoover Killed Our Buddy," and similar slogans were chalked on the sides of the special train.

Among those who left the train at Glenwood were two distressed families. Albert L. Klein, his wife and three children piled off with a tent, cots and food containers, the supplies given them by a friendly Johnstown farmer. Their only home, "Camp Happiness," a shack along Pennsylvania avenue, in Washington, was burned by soldiers, Klein plans to have his own "bonus camp" if authorities will allow him to pitch his tent in Pittsburgh, his former residence.

Irvin Metten, his wife, and two children also got off at Pittsburgh when they found they were on the wrong train. Their home is in Brooklyn. They had been put on the Wheeling train by mistake. Authorities here will attempt to get them home.

FORCE HINTED BY HINDENBURG

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—The soldier fist of Germany's octogenarian president, Field Marshal Paul Von Hindenburg, poised today over Adolf Hitler's National Socialist storm troops and other organizations which have participated in the last six weeks of bloody riots.

Newspapers said the aged president, after a long cabinet session yesterday, was prepared to strike with the full force unless the r... stopped immediately.

Hitl... Nazi circles issued a half warning, half threat, against such action, declaring discipline was being maintained but that if heavy-handed measures were taken it would be impossible to make guarantees.

The death total in the rioting, which has grown almost to civil war since the present government took office two months ago, stood today at 130 and more than 1,000 have been injured.

TWO CAPTURED IN DEATH OF OFFICIALS

Posse Gets Suspects After Chase in Fields, Woods

HASTINGS, Minn., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—A posse captured two men shortly after one of them had snatched a deputy sheriff's pistol from his holster in the jail office today and killed the officer. They were chased through cornfields and woods until they gave up.

Dewe Sharp, 33, of St. Paul, a former convict, was captured nearby after the posse surrounded him. He threw down his gun and surrendered. Harold Wilder, 29, of St. Paul, was taken about two hours later in a cornfield.

ONE HELD MURDERER

Sharpe, who Malvin Passolt, chief of the State Crime Bureau, said, has served time for murder, accused Wilder of killing Rudolph Fischer, Dakota County deputy sheriff, after which the two menaced Larry Dunn, another deputy in the office, with the gun, and fled.

Fischer had arrested the men for questioning regarding the burglary of a Mendota, Minn., store. While he searched one of them for weapons and while Dunn, son of Sheriff William Dunn, looked on, the other jerked the deputy's gun from its holster, jammed it against his chest and fired. Cowing Dunn with the pistol they backed out the door, stole an automobile and fled.

GIRL GIVES CLUE

Wilder's capture was brought about by a young girl, who espied him sneaking into the cornfield and told possemen.

Wilder was at liberty on $5,000 bail after his arraignment in St. Paul court for attempted extortion in connection with the Haskell-Bohn kidnaping case in St. Paul.

Sharpe was out on $2,500 bail on a federal liquor charge.

4,000 VETERANS STAY IN CAMP

American Legion units from all parts of the state coming to attend the drum and bugle contests.

A force of state highway patrolmen was on hand in case the trucks moved out. Since yesterday about 50 privately owned automobiles and trucks have moved out, reducing the number of veterans still in camp to nearly 4,000.

Commander Edward Atwell, chief of staff, declared anything was acceptable so long as his men could get under way. He said:

"We'll take anything so long as we get out of here and get out quick."

At the camp, however, there was a different feeling. Said one of the spokesmen from the rank and file:

"All we want is that those who have double crossed us keep their promises just this once."

BATTLE FOR FOOD

Hungry men and women battled in camp last night over the few scraps of food left in the commissary. The trouble started at dinner time when one group complained they were being given short portions. Men, women and children pulled and snatched at each other, dragging off what they could lay their hands upon.

Several fist fights occurred during the night. The camp was in an uproar until early morning. The camp commander was relieved of his command on charges of drunkenness.

Mayor Eddie McCloskey was definite for the first time concerning evacuation of the camp. He issued the following ultimatum just after midnight:

"Ideal Park must be cleared by tonight. I'll find transportation somehow."

A special train, according to Mayor McClockey, was scheduled on the Pennsylvania Railroad to carry the main body to the East. The western, northern and southern contingents went out yesterday—approximately 2,500 in all. These groups were carried over the Baltimore and Ohio.

Efforts to obtain coaches on the Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday failed.

The Mayor has been busy trying to keep his promises, and earned his title, "The Fighting Mayor." He was fighting most of the day.

The bonus camp took on the aspect of an ill-kempt circus lot, with curious visitors willing to part with a 25 cent piece (collected by the management of Ideal Park) milling around.

LIBBY REPORTED IN SECLUSION AWAITING BABY'S BIRTH

TORCH SINGER'S DAD SURE OF INNOCENCE

Holman Again Asserts Evidence Points To Suicide

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—The spotlight of law, powered by a charge of husband murder, groped across the Ohio stage today for Libby Holman, hoarse-voiced singer of songs.

It was known that Miss Holman, widowed when a bullet left young Smith Reynolds dying across a bed in their home a month ago, was at a "country retreat" and that she was ill under the care of doctors and nurses.

Whether her illness had any relationship to her tortured cry in a Winston-Salem hospital room a month ago—the anguished cry of "My baby!"—was not known. When her father, Albert Holman, was asked last night if approaching motherhood was a factor of her illness, he said only that was "a matter of record."

When officers showed him a telegram from Winston-Salem asking that the 26-year-old singer of torch songs be arrested for the murder of her husband, he refused to recognize it as a legal warrant.

At "the proper time," he said, she would appear to answer the indictment.

LEAVES FOR SOUTH

Holman, short and trim, and in affabale mood, left for Winston-Salem last night by train. In the southern city, he said, he intends to plead for bond so that his daughter may be spared the "humiliation" of spending weeks behind bars while awaiting trial.

His affability was new-found, however. Earlier in the day he stormed that the indictment of his daughter was a "frame-up." Still later he turned away officers who sought to arrest her. Denying Libby was at a sister's home, he curtly refused "information on a frame-up," when officers sought to learn her whereabouts.

He puffed his pipe angrily and flipped the pages of his magazine impetuously as he talked of the indictment against his daughter. Again he charged the sheriff of Forsythe County, North Carolina, the solicitor there, and others involved in keeping alive the investigation of Reynolds' death, with "self-seeking," and with striving to make "political capital" of the case.

SURE OF INNOCENCE

He snapped:

"I am firmly convinced she is innocent. If I had any thought whatsoever that she had anything to do with the slaying of this boy, I would, with tears in my eyes, be the first to ask that she be punished."

Again he asserted that the physical facts surrounding Reynolds' death inevitably pointed to suicide.

Holman denied reports the young widow was in Delaware, California or New York. He parried questions as to whether she was in Ohio.

Earlier he had stoutly maintained she was not at the home of a sister in suburban Wyoming, O., where she took refuge after interrogation at Winston-Salem, following Reynolds' death July 5.

As he sped toward North Carolina today, Holman's attitude had changed much from the afternoon. He said:

"We all have our crosses to bear. This is the greatest I've ever borne. And my poor little girl. How this affects her is indescribable."

Holman, who says he is Libby's only attorney, said he wasn't surprised by the indictment. He declared:

"I knew they would fix up some kind of a case."

SHERIFF TRANSOU SCOTT'S OWN DIAGRAM OF THE DEATH SCENE . . . SHOWING THE CLUES

The diagram on which, no doubt, the grand jury at Winston-Salem based much of its belief in indicting the Widow Reynolds for the murder. Sheriff Transou Scott studied this map, said he wouldn't stop investigating the mystery even when a coroner's jury freed Libby by its verdict.

New Reynolds Death Clues 'Startling'

Sheriff Keeps Secret Fresh Evidence in Mystery

WINSTON--SALEM, N. C., Aug. 5.—(INS.)—The new evidence in connection with the Smith Reynolds death gathered by Sheriff Transou Scott, the one-man investigating force of the county, has not yet been officially revealed.

This fresh evidence, in addition to the testimony given by the defendants and guests at the tragic party before a coroner's jury, has been termed "startling" by Sheriff Scott.

It includes statements made by persons unheard at the inquest and the discovery of several new "clues."

Ab Walker, 19-year-old son of a wealthy real estate dealer, is one of the most popular members of the Winston-Salem younger social set.

Walker had known Reynolds, one year his senior, since childhood and they were inseparable chums. Walker accompanied him on his prolonged courtship of Libby Holman. When Smith followed the husky-voiced singer on tour through a dozen cities, Walker was generally with him.

The Damon-and-Pythias relationship between Ab and Smith culminated into the employment of Walker as secretary to the heir to $15,000,000, the commission being given only a few days before the shooting.

Ab, in his hesitant testimony before the coroner's jury which scotched an earlier verdict of suicide, indicated the confidence and trust in which he was held by Smith.

HECTIC PARTY

During the hectic party at the Reynolds home on the night of July 5, Libby put her arms about Ab down at the boathouse, Walker testified. Walker said Libby whispered into his ear:

"Smith doesn't love me."

He added:

"She was very tight."

Young Reynolds saw this scene and took the matter up with his Broadway bride. They came over to Walker. According to Walker's testimony, Libby asked him:

"I didn't kiss you, did I?"

And Walker said he replied:

"Of course not."

Then Walker testified his chum said to him later in the pantry (it was here the drinking ingredients were kept):

"I want you to get it straight that I wasn't accusing you of anything."

Libby was in her bathing suit during the evening. Over the suit she wore a pajama ensemble including a sweater. She wore slippers.

Walker was also in his bathing suit.

Other witnesses told how Mrs. Reynolds was missing from the party for from two to three hours.

F. E. Fulcher, the night watchman on the estate, said Libby returned at 12:30 a. m., that Walker joined her from somewhere, and that they walked up the path toward the house where Smith sat on the porch waiting.

Smith, without a word, took Libby by the arm and led her inside the house.

What happened between 12:30 and 1 a. m. has never been satisfactorily explained to authorities.

Walker said he had been downstairs closing up the house when the shot was fired.

He testified that he saw Smith and Libbey enter his (Walker's) room where they talked over something for 10 or 15 minutes.

After Smith died in the hospital, authorities found parts of a pair of feminine pajamas on the divan in the living room. In Walker's room they discovered the sweater and slippers worn by Libby during the evening.

REYNOLDS TRIAL TO BE RUSHED

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Aug. 5.—(INS.)—The trial of Libby Holman Reynolds, widow of Smith Reynolds, young tobacco millionaire, and of Ab Walker, charged with murder, may be held next month.

Although there is no regular term of Superior Court scheduled for Forsyth County until October, there may be a special term of court in September.

Libby Rehearsed Murder Drama Before Tragedy

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Aug. 5.—(INS.)—An ironic touch was added to the Smith Reynolds shooting case when it was learned today that Mrs. Libby Holman Reynolds, now indicted for his murder, had been rehearsing a murder play for many days prior to the shooting.

Mrs. Reynolds had decided to attempt serious legitimate acting in her proposed next appearance on Broadway, it is understood, and with her friend, Blanche Yurka, the actress, was learning the rudiments of this craft by using the murder play.

LIBBY TO GET NO PRIVILEGES

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Aug. 5.—(INS.)—When Libby Holman Reynolds is arrested on a charge of murdering her young millionaire husband, Zachary Smith Reynolds, she will be lodged in the county jail with no special privileges, authorities said today.

There is a women's quarter in the jail. This section is known as the "hospital section" and prisoners who are ill are treated in this wing.

The quarters in which white women prisoners are kept are on the top floor of the prison. The section in which Negro women are lodged is on the ground floor.

There are no matrons in the jail, but Sheriff Transou Scott said it was possible one might be hired to guard Mrs. Reynolds.

Ab Walker, jointly indicted with Libby for the murder of Smith Reynolds, is in a cell on the opposite side of the jail to where she will be placed.

Bad Weather Delays Boy Flier's Long Hop

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Bad weather reports from the Carolinas again balked Bob Buck's take-off on his 2,250 Newark-Mexico City flight early today. The 18-year-old Westfield aviator plans to hop off at midnight tonight if conditions are favorable.

YURKA STUNNED BY CHARGES

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Blanche Yurka, actress, expressed surprise today at the news from Winston-Salem, N. C., that Libby Holman, torch singer, was indicted for the murder of her husband, Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir. She said:

"This is terrible. I was under the impression the grand jury exonerated both Libby and Ab Walker.

"If I am summoned to testify again, I suppose I will have no choice, although all I know of that terrible night I told at the inquest."

Libby's Stage Return Forecast by Friends

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Friends of Libby Holman Reynolds, sought on an indictment charging her with the slaying of her husband, Smith Reynolds, today declared that the former Broadway singer will attempt a comeback on the stage if freed of the murder charges.

Friends said that she virtually is without funds.

ranted a charge of first degree murder, second degree murder or manslaughter. A first degree murder charge does not permit a defendant to be freed under bail, but the lesser charges do permit granting of bail.

A first degree murder charge upon conviction calls for a mandatory sentence of death under North Carolina law, second degree murder carries a penalty of from two years to 30 years in prison. Manslaughter carries a penalty of from four months to 10 years imprisonment.

Meanwhile, Ab Walker was lodged in the county jail. He and his attorney, Bailey Lupfert, gave their permission to newspaper photographers to take his picture in his cell.

The only photograph of Walker which has been available showed him as a lad in a football uniform.

Walker is having his meals sent him from a local hotel.

He appeared in comfortable spirits.

Smith was fatally wounded on the sleeping porch of his home after a gay party just one month ago today.

Before leaving Cincinnati, the father of Mrs. Reynolds charged his daughter was being "framed," that she was resting at a resort near the Ohio city and that he would negotiate for her surrender when he arrived here.

OFFICIALS IRKED

Officials expressed irritation at the statements made by Holman, recalling the declaration he made in a recent telegram sent to Winston-Salem authorities that Mrs. Reynolds was available whenever she was needed in the North Carolina city.

The Sheriff dispatched a telegram to Sheriff Asa Z. Butterfield, of Hamilton County, Ohio, and another to Chief Police Inspector John O'Brien, of New York City, asking for the immediate arrest of Libby.

Brother to Make Own Reynolds Death Probe

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 5. — (AP.) — Richard Reynolds, brother of Smith Reynolds, sailed for the United States today on board the steamer American Legion.

He said he would investigate personally the circumstances of his brother's death at Winston-Salem, N. C., in connection with which Mrs. Reynolds, the former Libby Holman, has been indicted for murder.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 5.—(Universal.)—Richard Reynolds, brother of the late Smith Reynolds, said today he would bend all his efforts to avenge his brother if he becomes convinced Smith was murdered.

When informed that Libby Holman, actress-wife of the late tobacco heir, and Ab Walker, Smith's friend and confidant, had been indicted in Winston-Salem, N. C., on a murder charge, Richard's face became pale.

At first he refused to comment, but then he declared:

"Naturally, I will insist upon the sternest punishment for the miscreant if I find my brother was the victim of a foul deed.

"I have only meager news of my brother's death. It was a terrible shock, for I loved Smith dearly."

Broadway Loyal to Libby In Tragic Role of Life

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Broadway was a golden charm to Libby Holman. Winston-Salem may prove a bitter curse.

Broadway wrote her name in lights on blazing signs.

Winston-Salem wrote her name in ink on a murder indictment.

Broadway was adulant. Winston-Salem is accuser.

On Broadway she sang. In Winston-Salem she wept.

New York offered her fame, homage.

Winston-Salem holds open the door of a cell.

She hymned her Broadway torch songs in the rags of a Tenth avenue ragamuffin.

Now she wears widow's weed.

On Broadway "Moanin' Low" was a song to give her fame.

In Winston-Salem it is a bullet-widowed woman's lament.

Broadway says:

"Libby couldn't have done this thing. It is absurd and ridiculous."

Winston-Salem, through a grand jury, said:

"Libby Holman Reynolds did unlawfully, wilfully, feloniously and premeditatedly and with malice aforethought kill and murder Smith Reynolds."

Broadway lifted the name Libby Holman high.

North Carolina's impersonal law has extended its hands to drag it down.

GARNER COMING NORTH TO SEE ROOSEVELT

By LOUIS SEIBOLD

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee Garner is coming up from the pecan belt in Western Texas pretty soon to confer with Gov. Roosevelt regarding the part that each is to play in the campaign.

The rugged and plain-spoken Texan will not waste any time over formal ceremonies of being notified that he has been chosen to make the race with the New York executive.

About all there will be to this function is an exchange of letters with Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, who was the temporary chairman of the nominating convention. Senator Barkley will officially notify Garner that he has been chosen for vice president in due and ancient Democratic form. Garner will accept with thanks.

TAKES NEEDED REST

The coming of the vice presidential candidate to New York has been deferred to some extent for two reasons. The exactions of the turbulent session of the House of Representatives took a good deal more out of him than even his own robust makeup could stand. Consequently he has deemed it advisable to lay in a store of energy to replace it.

Advices from Uvalde, where the Speaker is getting in shape, are to the effect that he will be ready to come north as soon as a date can be arranged that will be convenient to Gov. Roosevelt.

Just what distribution of the work ahead of the two candidates will be decided upon, will not be settled until they have had an opportunity to talk the matter over.

The fact that Speaker Garner has not already showed up at Albany has caused considerable speculation. One version furnished by the Republican opposition is that there exists a wide divergence of views between the presidential and vice presidential Democratic candidates. Some of the Republican leaders insist that the Democratic conservative wing (generally meaning Wall street) does not approve of the liberal and progressive views of Garner.

This may be so, but there does not appear to be any foundation for the assertion that Gov. Roosevelt disapproves of the addresses made by Garner during the closing session of Congress and after he left Washington.

CAN RECONCILE VIEWS

Roosevelt and Garner are pretty well acquainted and there is every reason to believe they will not find it difficult to reconcile their individual views as to the issues to be put forth on the general lines of strategy to be followed in fighting the opposition.

Both have vigorously assailed the leadership of President Hoover and probably will continue to do so throughout the campaign.

The Governor and the Speaker have certainly been in accord in their assertions that the Hoover administration has completely failed to solve economic and unemployment problems.

Democratic leaders in the West and South are convinced that the plan of relief proposed by Speaker Garner would have resulted in a more satisfactory condition of affairs than that which attended the gestures of President Hoover.

EASTERNERS DISTURBED

Some eastern leaders are naturally at issue with the vice presidential candidate of their party. They regard him as "an extremist," whatever that may mean. These men believe that the Speaker should confine his activities to the South and West.

Garner's friends do not agree with them and will insist that the fullest use be made of his wide experience and sound judgment in all sections of the country.

Further, they are convinced Roosevelt will favor the active participation of his running mate in all parts of the country.

MOSES' ATTACK ANSWERED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(Universal.)—Cancellation of the war debts would be a "cruel and unbearable burden upon our American taxpayers," Senator Ashurst, (Dem.), of Arizona, declared in reply to the attack on Gov. Roosevelt's debt position by Senator Moses (Rep.), of New Hampshire.

Answering Moses' charge that the proposal of the Democratic presidential nominee to rehabilitate trade by lowering tariff barriers meant the American people would "pay the debts out of their own pockets," Ashurst said:

"What are the American people doing today? The Hoover moratorium certainly brought about no payments on the amount owed to the United States by its European creditors. The Hoover administration has not even suggested any method for increasing the flow of payments."

Pointing out the specific declaration against debt cancellation in the Democratic platform, Ashurst said Moses could probably tell whether President Hoover and the Republican party would espouse the Borah proposal for cancellation in exchange for disarmament.

LEHMAN SEEKS SMITH'S AID

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—With the full strength of Gov. Roosevelt, the Democratic presidential nominee, behind them, supporters of Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman for the governorship were hoping today for a declaration of support from Alfred E. Smith.

Gov. Roosevelt last night approved the Lehman candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in strong terms. He spoke of Lehman's familiarity with state affairs, his "splendid business training and wide experience with public finance," and of "my deep personal affection for him."

Lehman's friends feel assured of former Gov. Smith's support. They also hope that John F. Curry will throw Tammany Hall's strength behind Lehman.

The former Governor once called Col. Lehman one of the "ablest" men he knew.

OHIO PREPARES FOR ROOSEVELT

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—The address of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt here August 20 will be delivered in the new stadium of the Columbus American Association Baseball Club unless present plans are changed.

This was indicated after Democratic party leaders discussed final arrangements for the rally at which the New Yorker will fire the opening gun in his presidential campaign. The party chiefs announced a final decision would be made today with completion of arrangements for a national radio hookup.

The Governor's address will end the state platform convention which is expected to open August 19. Former Govs. James M. Cox and Vic Donahey and United States Senator Robert J. Bulkley are being considered as keynoters for the convention.

ASTOR BACKS ROOSEVELT

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Vincent Astor believes Gov. Roosevelt as President would be an inspiring leader who would give the nation confidence to rise above its troubles.

Announcing his "whole-hearted" support of the New Yorker yesterday, the head of the wealthy Astor family said Mr. Roosevelt had the "qualities essential to successful leadership" and that he had in addition vision and imagination to be more than just President, that he would be a real leader of the people. He praised particularly the Governor's "ability to lead."

Astor came to Albany to offer his services to the Governor.

Tunney to Launch Roosevelt Drive In Maine

WATERVILLE, Me., Aug. 5.—Gene Tunney, former world heavyweight boxing champion, will launch the boom in Maine for Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for the presidency.

On his return from Albany, N. Y., after a conference with Gov. Roosevelt and Democratic leaders, Mayor F. Harold Dubord, national committeeman from Maine, announced today that Tunney would take the stump for Roosevelt at an open-air rally in Smithfield on Labor Day.

DIARY OF FLIER READ TO JURY

Miller's book for her, of Clarke's coming to live with them at the Keith-Miller home, of increasing doubt as to Clarke's trutworthiness and finally, on the wild-goose flight which Lancaster took to Texas and the Pacific Coast, of his learning from a futual friend that Clarke apparently had taken his place in "Chubbie's" heart.

The entry, written at Los Angeles, April 2, read:

"Russell shows me two of Mrs. R's letters. One says 'Chubbie and Clarke came around tonight. They were all ginned up. I really think now that Clarke has gained Chubbie's affections, and Bill (Lancaster) lost them.' The other letter said: 'Was round at Chubbie's tonight. She and Clarke got all ginned up together. Don't tell Bill.'

"Mental agony! ! ! Hell!"

OTHER ENTRIES

Other entries were:

"Why no wire from Chubbie?"

"4 a. m. Have been trying to telephone Chubbie. No reply. Why?"

"Ill with nervous worry."

"Chubbie, how are you? . . ."

"Chubbie, darling, what is it all about? . . ."

"Wired Chubbie. The reply worries me. If only she would send something nice, such as: 'Don't worry; I still love you.'"

"Thank goodness for one thing—I have made a firm resolution to end all this mental strain—have it out! Then work for our common good."

"I adore her and ant to see her happy. If only she did not drink while I was away, I would feel okay. Gent (Gentry Shelton, a St. Louis friend), says she has two personalities—Chubby drunk and Chubbie sober. I love both.

"Is H. C. trustworthy, is my problem . . .

"(Chubbie, angel, it won't be long until I see you and hold you."

And a day later:

"Awakaned with misgivings. Suffer the tortures of the damned! Ways and means have to be found today to get on East. East is where my life lies. Everything I hold dear is there. If it's gone from me I will end this life. I can't stand the strain much longer. . . .

TO JOIN CHUBBY

"Am going to Miami, whatever happens, to find out firsthand all about everything.

"I love you, Chubby—have done my best—but failed.

"Want to talk things over with you, my sweet. It's five years now since we met."

A few days later he was able to raise the money for the return flight.

Attacking the character of J. F. Russell at the opening of today's session, Chief Defense Counsel James M. Carson sought to undo the damage wrought by Russell's testimony for the state.

Russell, who is serving a six-month's sentence for conspiracy to smuggle aliens into this country from Cuba, testified late yesterday that the British war flier threatened to "get rid" of Haden Clarke.

The threat, Russell said, was made when, while on a flight to the Pacific Coast a short time before Clarke was shot to death, Lancaster learned the young writer had stolen the love of Mrs. Keith-Miller.

Court Records Show Clarke Divorced

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Court records reveal Charles Haden Clarke, for whose alleged murder Capt. William N. Lancaster, British aviator, is on trial in Miami, Fla., was divorced here last January 13 by Mrs. Kathryn Clarke, 26.

An interlocutory decree was granted on the ground of non-support. At the time, Mrs. Clarke gave her address as a San Francisco hotel. The attorney who represented her said he did not know her present whereabouts.

Second Child Born To Irene Selznick

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Selznick yesterday. Mrs. Selznick is the former Irene Mayer, head of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer motion picture studios. The Selznicks have another child, a daughter born last fall.

McAdoo Denounces Hoover Debt Course

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—William Gibbs McAdoo said in a radio speech last night that President Hoover's course has "caused grave concern as to the protection" of the war debts.

Campaigning for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, McAdoo, Democratic national committeeman and former treasury secretary under President Wilson, said the silence of the Republican platform on war debt payments must have been intentional.

Promoter Wagers Roosevelt Victory

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(Universal.)—James J. Johnston, sports promoter of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, has placed a wager through the firm of C. Woodruff Valentine & Co., of $5,000 against $4,000 that Gov. Roosevelt will be the next president of the United States.

The firm says it has additional funds to place the same way and $2,000 at even money that President Hoover will not carry New York state in the election.

Two Seized in Probe Of 25 Alcohol Deaths

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—With the arrest of two paint shop proprietors, one of them a woman, police hoped today to trace the source of the poisoned alcohol sold on the East Side and which caused 25 deaths.

Disguised as Bowery derelicts, detectives found an alcoholic beverage was sold in the paint shops. They arrested Anna Skigim, 49, and Abraham Finkelstein, 21.

SCOTCH OUTING TOMORROW

Twenty-five thousand persons are expected to attend the annual reunion and outing of the Scottish Clans at Kennywood Park tomorrow. The Westinghouse Kilty Band will furnish music, and there will be an extensive sports program with County Commissioner W. D. Mansfield officiating in the absence of Dr. John B. Sutherland, University of Pittsburgh football coach, now touring Scotland.

A women's competitive drill of the Daughters of Scotia and a Highland dance contest with entries from several cities and Canada will be among the features. Quoits, football and other games are listed. Prizes will be awarded. A tug of war, relay race and other track and field events will be carried out.

Thomas Clark is chairman, John Barr is secretary, and Thomas Fraser is treasurer of the Scottish Clan committee.

Club to Transport Children to Picnic

The annual Exchange Club's outing for children of the Strip will begin Saturday at 1:30 p. m., when a caravan of trucks and motor cars will leave the Pittsburgh Goodwill Industries, Liberty avenue and Twenty-eighth street. The outing will be held in Cubele Clearing, North Park.

Grotto Lists Clowns As Picnic Feature

A troupe of clowns, a varied athletic program, cards and games will feature the entertainment program of the annual outing of the Islam Grotto, at West View Park, Wednesday.

3 STUDENTS DIE IN CAR CRASH

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—One man and three youths, East Fairmont High School athletes, were killed early today when their automobile struck a pole.

The dead are Wayne Morgan, 30; Richard Morris, 21; James Schultz, 18, and Tony Bilotta, 18.

The driver of the car, George Heston, 25, is in a hospital, seriously hurt, but physicians say he may recover.

The accident occurred in one of the city's main thoroughfares when Heston failed to see a turn due to a heavy fog.

Motorists Paying More for Gasoline

It will cost Allegheny County tourists $1,500,000 more for gasoline this year than it did in 1931, according to a statistical report of the Pittsburgh Motor Club today. Price of gasoline, including the one cent Federal tax, has increased 3½ cents the report revealed.

Approximately 400,000 gallons are used by passenger cars and trucks each day during summer months.

RICH RECLUSE SLAIN, BODY FOUND

NATCHEZ, Miss., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—The body of Miss Jane Merrill, aged recluse, was found in a thicket about 200 yards from her house early today after an all-night search by a sheriff's posse and bloodhounds.

The body bore two bullet wounds in the neck and one in the left side.

A coroner's inquest this morning brought in a verdict of death at the hands of a person or persons unknown. Dr. Edward Denoist, who made an examination of the body, said there was no evidence of a criminal attack.

Miss Merrill apparently had been shot in the dining room of her famous old Ante-Bellum plantation home. The room was riddled with bullets and a trail of blood led out onto a balcony and to a spot about 200 feet from the house.

Dr. Denoist told the coroner's jury that it would not have been possible for the aged woman to have walked or staggered to the spot where the body was found but that it was apparent she was dragged or carried there.

Sheriff C. P. Roberts, of Adams County, held Dick Dana, an eccentric neighbor of Miss Merrill, for questioning but Dana stoutly denied any connection with the case.

Miss Merrill was about 60 years of age, lived alone and was considered wealthy. Clinging to old traditions, she refused to purchase an automobile until about two years ago, coming to town every week in her horse-drawn buggy. She still wore the garments of fashionable women of 40 years ago.

ATHENS FLIERS LAND IN MAINE

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Roger Q. Williams, trans-Atlantic flier, landed here last night in his monoplane Olympia, in which he plans to make a flight to Athens, Greece. He was accompanied by Miss Elvy Kalep, Esthonian aviatrix, who will be his co-pilot.

The fliers refused to discuss their plans. Several weeks ago officials here invited them to use the beach for their take-off.

When Williams and Miss Kalep left New York they were thought to be on their way to Los Angeles for a letter from officials of the Olympic Games to deliver in Athens.

Williams took off from here three years ago with Lewis A. Yancey on a flight to Rome, which ended in a forced landing on the cost of Spain.

HANDWRITING CLUE IN DEATH

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Specimens of the handwriting of Mrs. Vera O'Brien, 26, who died Monday of poison, were awaited today for comparison with that of a supposed suicide note found near her body.

Awaiting the comparison was Dr. William A. O'Brien, 41, her husband, who was being held by police without charge pending the outcome of their investigation into his wife's death. He was subjected to test by the "lie detector" yesterday. Police said his answers were vague and contradictory.

PLANE FALLS, 3 BURN TO DEATH

GENESEO, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Three persons were burned to death here late yesterday after an airplane crashed into a clump of trees on the edge of the Geneseo Airport and burst into flames.

The dead are Howard A. McKay, 37, of Caledonia, pilot; his brother, Donald, 30, also of Caledonia, and Margaret Carson, 26, of Geneseo.

Observers said McKay overshot the field in attempting a landing and crashed into the trees before he could again gain altitude.

2 Arrive at Station In Bedroom Garb

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Those who have battled the blankets in railway berths for years will applaud the originality and forethought of two middle-aged Englishmen who came to their train at union station last night wearing only top-coats over their pajamas. They had donned sleeping attire at their hotel.

Both wore bedroom slippers and a sleepy look.

Illinois Miners Voting on Scale

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Union coal diggers of Illinois will decide tomorrow whether to accept the $5 daily basic wage scale agreed to by their officials and the mine operators.

The referendum, the second on the wage question in three weeks, will be conducted at the headquarters of 300 locals comprising the state district.

Hungary Hopeful Of Paying Off Loan

JOBLESS MAN JAILED ON OWN REQUEST

Clyde Belles, 25, of McKeesport, stepped from the prisoners' dock in Criminal Court yesterday and said to Judge George V. Moore:

"Judge, won't you commit me to jail for violation of my parole?"

The court asked:

"Why, what have you done?"

Belles replied:

"Nothing, but I am starving, and can't find work. I know I will either steal or commit suicide soon."

Charles Austin, chief probation officer, said Belles had not violated his parole, but wished to be locked up to be saved from himself.

Belles, fighting with another man, fired a shot through the door of 903 Jerome street, McKeesport, February 28, 1931. He was indicted for felonious assault, pleaded guilty before Judge Moore, who sentenced him to the workhouse. He had been on parole since May 19 of the same year.

Judge Moore granted Belles' request and sentenced him to jail for six months, implying he would release him upon request.

RAIL TERMINAL ON RIVER READY

The new rail-river transfer terminal, under construction for many months by the Pennsylvania Railroad at Conway, near Baden, on the Ohio River, 28 miles below Pittsburgh, is ready for regular operation, according to an announcement made by railroad officials.

Representing an expenditure of more than $125,000, the terminal is one of the most complete of its kind, officials say. It was designed primarily for the transfer of coal from river barges to railroad cars, although facilities are available for the trans-shipment of other bulk commodities.

In dredging the river to provide a barge harbor for the terminal more than 60,000 cubic yards of material was removed. The Ohio was dredged to a depth of 15 feet below pool level for a distance of 1,500 feet along its north bank.

WRECK SHOWN AS WARNING

A moving street car display started a week's tour of the city streets today, under direction of the Better Traffic Committee, inaugurating a safety drive to continue until January.

The display, a wrecked automobile mounted on a flat car trailer, warns motorists not to pull from the curb without giving arm signal, and not to pass street cars on the left. Both are violations of the state vehicle code.

Other activities are to include posters, a child radio program, traffic cartoons, traffic officer speakers in the schools, and the sixth annual traffic essay contest.

$40,000 Spent Here To Refurnish Hotel

The Fairfax Hotel, Fifth avenue and Craig street, today did this to speed the return of prosperity.

Its management announced the purchase of $40,000 worth of new equipment, furniture and mattresses. The mattresses were bought at a local plant and the other equipment at Pittsburgh stores.

Autumn Is Forecast in These

New Boucle Knitted Outfits

$19.75

Autumn colors—the deep, dark greens which remind one of a meadow that the first frost has lightly touched; warm vintage shades suggesting September harvest; and deep browns which are as eloquent of autumn as the falling leaves. These shades are contrasted by creamy white sweaters in three-piece boucle outfits; and there are also two-piece models consisting of jacket and skirt.

The Sportswear Shop has brought out these new models for late summer and early autumn vacation wear, for as most women know, nothing travels quite so satisfactorily as a non-wrinkling knitted costume . . . Misses' and women's sizes, 14 to 46.

PINCHOT DELAYS FILLING POST ON P. S. C.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—It was learned today from a reliable source that Gov. Pinchot will make no appointments to the Public Service Commission until the special session of the General Assembly has adjourned.

As a result, the vacancies created by the resignation of Chairman W. D. B. Ainey and the expiration of Commissioner John W. Brown's term, will remain unfilled for at least two weeks. In the interim, Commissioner S. Ray Shelby, Uniontown, automatically will become acting chairman.

DOUBT CONFIRMATION

The Governor's decision was attributed to the press of work incident to the session and to the general belief that appointments made now will not be confirmed by the Senate.

The Senate's failure to confirm Commissioners George W. Woodruff and Frederick P. Gruenberg, appointed last year by the Governor, has strengthened the belief that no Pinchot nominations to the commission will be acted on until the Governor's term expires in January, 1935.

Shelby becomes acting chairman under a section of the public service company law which provides that, in the absence of a chairman appointed by the Governor, the member whose term expires soonest shall preside. This would have made Commissioner Emerson L. Collins acting head, but he is physically unable to shoulder the burden and has resigned, effective October 1.

COURSES OPEN

The law provides further that the chairman appointed by the Governor shall serve for the duration of his term on the commission. The Governor thus can appoint one of the four incumbent commissioners; name a chairman to fill Ainey's unexpired term which ends July 1, 1937, or Brown's successor who would serve until July 1, 1942; or wait until October 1 and name a man who would serve the remaining eight months of Collins' term and be eligible for reappointment for a 10-year period beginning July 1, 1933.

The expiration dates of the incumbent commissioners' terms are: S. Ray Shelby, July 1, 1938; Samuel Walker, July 1, 1939; Frederick P. Fruenberg, July 1, 1940, and George Woodruff, July 1, 1941.

OBITUARY

Renton Funeral.

Funeral services for Walter Renton, 88, a member of the firm of William Renton, Inc., and manager until his retirement in 1923, will be held at his home, 7223 McPherson boulevard, at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Interment will be in Homewood Cemetery. He died at his home yesterday. Mr. Renton was born in Pittsburgh, January 13, 1844. He was a volunteer in the Civil War, and had made his home in the Homewood section 59 years. He was an active member of the Homewood Methodist Episcopal Church. He was the oldest member of Lodge No. 45, F. & A. M., having been identified with that body 67 years. He leaves a son, the Rev. Homer C. Warner Funeral.

Funeral services for L. Russell Warner, 41, who died yesterday, will be held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Warner, 560 Campbell street, Wilkinsburg, tomorrow afternoon. He was a former resident of Wilkinsburg, and was identified with the State Plant Board of Florida, and the Federal Horticulture Board, with headquarters in Key West. He was visiting at the home of his parents when he became ill. He was a member of the Penn State Chapter of Acacia, National Fraternity; Upland Lodge No. 419, F. & A. M., of Upland, Cal., and Egypt Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Besides his parents he leaves his widow and a son, William, of Key West, and a brother, Dr. E. S. Warner, of Wilkinsburg.

Walker Funeral.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Aug. 5.—Funeral services for Mrs. Lelia G. Walker, 75, wife of Frank W. Walker, Sr., president of the Manufacturers' Association of Beaver County, will be held from their Patterson Heights home Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Walker, whose death occurred yesterday, was born at Athens, O., and was married to Mr. Walker, April 25, 1882. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and was prominent in the social, club and civic affairs of the Beaver Valley. She leaves her husband, two sons, Francis W. Walker, at home, and George G. Walker, of Poland, O., and three daughters, Mrs. Hilda W. Vandevort, of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Katherine G. Macartney, of East Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Grace G. Pelley, of Kokomo, Ind.

Caler Funeral.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Mrs. Eliza Cranberry Caler, of 17 Brown's place, Squirrel Hill, who died Wednesday. The funeral will be held in the home and burial will be in Homestead Cemetery. She was born in Ireland and came to this country when a child. She leaves three sons, Christopher, William and Earl Caler, all of Pittsburgh, and a daughter, Mrs. Jennie House, with whom she made her home.

Braddock Blonde Selected as Beauty

Netta Graham, 25, of 539 Price avenue, Braddock, won the blonde beauty contest at Motor Square Garden last night. She will compete with winners of the brunet and red-haired contests and the bathing beauty winner Monday night, when Miss Pittsburgh will be selected. The beauty contests are features of the marathon dance being staged in the Garden.

N. Y. Firemen Reject Payless Month Plan

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—New York firemen rejected Mayor Walker's proposal to work one month without pay as an economy measure yesterday by a vote of 4,900 to 278.

The Mayor has warned city employes that unless they accept his proposal he would seek authority to cut their salaries.

THRIFT GARDEN DRIVE PUSHED

A vacant storeroom has been secured as headquarters for collecting canning jars to be used h the 600 "thrift gardeners" in the Southwestern Community Council District, it was announced today as the campaign for jars continued.

Miss B. Mae Perry is directing the collection work in the territory surrounding Sheridan avenue.

Mrs. J. W. Madden is in charge of the campaign in Brookline.

CHIEF ON BAIL IN SLAYING

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Chief of Police Otto Bertz, of Royersford, was released in $2,000 bail last night to await grand jury action on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Victor Lockhoff, a former pugilist, slain when he attempted to escape from the chief.

Lockhoff had been arrested on a warrant obtained by his wife, charging aggravated assault and battery. Harry Lockhoff, a brother of the slain man, told District Attorney Nase, however, the victim and his wife had settled their differences and there was no need for his arrest.

Bertz said he and other officers were bringing Lockhoff to Spring City by automobile when Lockhoff leaped to the street and attempted to flee, although handcuffed. The police chief said he fired three shots in the air to frighten the fugitive.

PONDER CHARGE IN 'SOAP RACKET'

It took East End Police Court attaches an hour today to determine the charge to place against Joseph Soffer, 19, of 501 Priscilla street, and Harry Schrader, 21, of 301 South First street, Duquesne, accused in what the authorities termed a new kind of racket—soap coupons.

Finally determined at fraudulent conversion, Magistrate Charles Papale held them for court in $1,000 bond, discharged Julius Dari, 36; John Michaels, 21, and Joseph Kohler, 34, all of South First street, Duquesne. Then, a short time later, he changed the order and held Soffer and Schrader for further investigation.

Testimony developed that although the three discharged were participating in the alleged racket, they were innocent of wrongdoing. Police said the accused were going from house to house collecting soap coupons calling for soap valued at 30 cents and giving in return an inferior product.

REDUCE HOURS, GREEN URGES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Shorter work hours were called for again today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, as a first step in creating "millions of jobs" for the unemployed. He said in a statement:

"Labor wants to earn its own livelihood. It wants the jobs that would come from a shorter work week, slum reclamation and building, homes for workers, government works, and the increased activity of regular production channels that would be stimulated by such undertakings."

Saying "no measures taken thus far have even scratched the surface of the problem," Green cited his organization's preliminary June estimate showing 11,023,000 out of work. He said industry laid off more than 1,300,000 persons the first six months of this year.

GIRL'S SLAYER STARTS TERM

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., Aug. 5.—(INS.)—After a night of sound sleep and a hearty breakfast, Francis "Rusty" Nash, 31, was taken to Marquette State Prison today to serve a life sentence in solitary confinement for the murder of pretty 17-year-old Evelyn Sanford.

He had been held in the County Jail here since late yesterday afternoon, being rushed here from Ludington soon after he was sentenced for one of Michigan's most brutal crimes.

Meanwhile, at Free Soil, the quiet little village where the girl lived, 300 inhabitants joined in last rites for the girl who was waylaid and murdered by Nash last Saturday night, as she was passing through a swampland en route to her home.

Driven to near collapse by the tragedy, the girl's mother appealed to State Police to search for Evelyn's black and white purse, the family's gift to her when she graduated from the local high school in June.

Smashes Window, Foils Gem Thieves

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Although nursing a painfully lacerated hand, Isidore Renner, jeweler, today thought it was worth the price of saving $100,000 in gems from burglars. It was the second time he foiled hold-up men by smashing his plate glass window to attract attention. Two bandits who menaced him with revolvers were frightened away.

Tom Mix Sued Over Tax Return Help

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Tom Mix, film actor, was sued in Superior Court yesterday for $10,000 by Maurice Judd, Washington attorney, who said the money was due him in unpaid fees. Judd's representatives here said the attroney had assisted the actor in making up his income tax returns.

Pay Cut for Island Authorities Urged

MANILA, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—A plan to save $2,000,000 yearly by reducing salaries of American officials of the Philippine government appointed by the President of the United States was submitted to the House of Representatives by a special committee yesterday.

3 ROBBERS KILL MAN, BEAT WIFE

ALLIANCE, O., Aug. 5.—Ralph Baker, 44, farmer near here, was killed, and his wife, and his aged father were beaten by three Negroes who broke into the house at 1 a. m. today.

The Negroes demanded bread when they aroused Baker, then forced the door before he could open it. Commanded to raise his hands, he was slow in complying and was fatally shot by the leader. Mrs. Baker was beaten.

Going upstairs, the men found Daniel Baker, 80, arising to investigate the trouble. They beat him with their revolvers, ripped open the mattress on his bed and returned to the first floor, where they ordered Mrs. Baker to prepare a lunch.

14 States Ratify 'Lame Duck' Change

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—If you plan to attend the presidential inauguration in 1937, be sure to bring your overcoat. Fourteen states already have ratified the amendment to the constitution eliminating the lame duck sessions of Congress and advancing the inauguration date from March 4 to January 20. Most political observers concede the necessary 36 will complete ratification before inauguration in 1937.

W. Va. Dry Ripper Sent to Governor

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Two bills, abolishing the state prohibition department and transferring its duties to the state tax commissioners, were in the hands of Gov. William Conley today after passage by the special session of the Legislature.

Despite the fact that the Governor sent a special message to the Legislature a few days ago threatening veto, the House passed the Senate bills and sent them to the chief executive.

Renovo Man Killed In 6-Story Plunge

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Joseph Mainguth, 52, a janitor for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Renovo, Pa., today fell or jumped to his death from the sixth floor of the new Pennsylvania Railroad office building in West Philadelphia.

He had been sitting in the relief department office awaiting a medical examination.

LEGION PARADE DOWNTOWN

Wartime rumble of large field guns resounded downtown today as a parade of state American Legion convention exhibits passed along Smithfield street shortly before noon. Legion officers and committeemen heading the convention which opens August 18, led the procession from the Smithfield Street Bridge to the Gimble store, where the war exhibit will be on view during the local gathering. The Legion drum and bugle corps, of Duquesne, was in line with 10 all-white automobiles.

Woman Takes Stroll, She Fails to Return

Relatives today asked the Missing Persons Bureau to search for Mrs. Mary Brooks, 23, of 6735 Reynolds street, East End, missing from her home since Sunday. Police were informed Mrs. Brooks left the house for a short walk and failed to return.

Four Bandits Loot Bank of $13,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Four men raided the Savings Bank of Richmond Hill today, lined employes against the wall, scooped up $13,000 in cash and escaped in an automobile.

BRITISH GROUP ASKED TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Informal invitations have been extended to the delegates to the British Empire trade conference now in progress at Ottawa, to visit the United States before they return home, it was revealed in State Department circles today.

It is hoped that informal conversations between the delegates and officials of this government may have beneficial trade results to this country and the component nations of the British Empire.

Police to Curb Nude Bathing In Honolulu

HONOLULU, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Police were called on today to stop nude bathers from scampering upon Honolulu beaches.

Residents of the city's Kaalawai district were complainants.

Chief of Police Arthur Weber issued warning that such behavior was contrary to law, remarking:

"It may mean that a nudist cult has been started in Hawaii."

Both sexes have been appearing on beaches day and night and have paid no attention to requests to use more discretion.

ADMITS TAKING LOOT TWICE

J. B. Thomas, 17, of 236 Isabella street, testified in Morals Court today he had stolen the same clock and radio twice—once from the Allied Electric Shop, 118 Ninth street, and a second time from the home of Mrs. Philomena Diriggs, 44, of 517 Center street, Braddock.

The loot was part of 12 clocks and two radios Thomas is alleged to have told police he took from the Ninth street place, and gave to Thomas Boulson, 17, of 602 Foreland street, to sell. Thomas Boulson and Mrs. Diriggs were held for investigation.

POET-NOVELIST DIES IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—James Oppenheim, 50, writer of poetry, novels and short stories, died yesterday of a lung malady from which he had been ill a year.

Oppenheim was born in St. Paul, Minn., and came to New York in 1901 to take a course at Columbia. Among his works were "The Golden Bird," "The Solitary," "The Mystic Warrior" and "The Sea and Songs of the New Age."

He is survived by his widow, the former Linda Gray, of Boston; two sons, Ralph and James, and his mother, Mrs. Tillie Oppenheim.

Woman at 105 At Movies With Escort, 101

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Charles Eldredge and Mrs. Martha Weeks aren't going to set any tongues wagging if they can help it.

To be sure, they did dine and attend a moving picture show together yesterday, but they took along as a chaperone, Evelyn Barton Rittenhouse, director of St. Petersburg's Three Quarter Century Club.

Anyway it was a special occasion. Mrs. Weeks was celebrating her one-hundred-and fifth birthday. Her escort was a mere 101.

Mrs. Weeks enjoyed her usual after-meals pipeful of tobacco and said she felt just fine.

DIVORCE FACES WEISMULLER

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.—(Universal.)—Johnny Weismuller, internationally known swimmer and motion picture actor, and his wife, Bobbe Arnst, musical comedy favorite, are considering a divorce.

Both have discussed the matter with Attorney Ben C. Cohen, of the law firm representing Miss Arnst. Her complaint may be filed within the next few days, or action may be delayed until the finish of the Olympic games. She probably will charge incompatibility.

They were married secretly in 1931, at Miami, Fla.

Woman Wrecks Jug, Moonshine Evidence Lost

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—The six alleged moonshiners who came to Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter's court say they are not going to be convicted—not by a jug full.

The jug, as the police tell it, was full until Mrs. John H. Scoville discharged by the magistrate on a minor traffic violation charge, made a dash to get out of the court room.

As she did so she collided with Detective Ernest Leavell, who was carrying the jug full of alleged evidence. It fell and broke. The judge then took out time to air the place out.

And now the accused six say the state has lost its case. The court will pass on the question later.

40 GRADUATING AT DUQUESNE

The annual Duquesne University summer session was to close this afternoon in the Campus Theater with graduation exercises for 40. Degrees were to be conferred by the Very Rev. J. J. Callahan, president of the university.

Prof. Lincoln I. Gibbs, Antioch College, and Dr. Callahan were to make the addresses. Miss Mary Elizabeth Flood was to play the processional and recessional.

Outstanding summer school students to receive degrees are Miss Marie J. Henninger, of Pittsburgh, and the Rev. Joseph A. Cousins, of Columbus, O., both receiving the doctor of philosophy degree. Father Cousins merited a "cum laude" citation.

DISHWASHING IS A NUISANCE

BUT see what you can do with the New Oxydol, the soap that makes 50% more suds

● Dirty dishes—dirty dishes—dirty dishes!

Why not make this unpleasant job as easy as you can?

Try the New Oxydol—the soap that makes creamier, quicker, richer suds—50% more suds. Sturdy, long-lasting suds that cut grease like lightning and rinse off so dishes are sparkling clean—so there's no scum left in the dishpan.

Oxydol is easy on hands too, because it makes the hardest water soft and mild—and all water hardens when you put in greasy dishes or dirty clothes. Ask your grocer today for a package of Oxydol—you'll bless the day you learned its name.

ARTIST MAURER HANGS SELF

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Alfred H. Maurer, one of America's most widely-known painters, committed suicide yesterday, two weeks after the death of his father, Louis Maurer, who at the age of 100 was the oldest artist in the United States.

The body of the younger Maurer was found hanging from a door casing in the West Forty-third street home where he and his father had lived for many years. The son was 64 and was said to be despondent over ill health.

Born in New York, Alfred H. Maurer studied art here and in Paris. He had won many prizes for his work, academic in his youth, but modernistic in recent years.

His father was still on the staff of Currier and Ives, print-makers, at the time of his death two weeks ago. He originated the "Fireman" series of prints.

SOCIETY WOMAN KILLS HERSELF

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Mrs. Charles Mason Remey, 46, prominent Washington society woman, died early today from two bullet wounds, reported to have been self-inflicted. She was found critically wounded in the bedroom of her home by her husband, a leading capital architect.

Remey told police he heard a shot and ran to his wife's bedroom, finding her on the floor, a bullet wound in her head. Lifting her to the bed, he telephoned for a physician.

During his absence, he told police, his wife took the gun from the bed and fired a second shot into her brain.

Mrs. Remey was the widow of Col. Karl Danzer Klemm, who committed suicide. Before her first marriage she was Gertrude Heim, of Kansas City. The Remeys were married in Paris a year ago.

4,000 LEAVING GRETNA CAMP

CAMP O'NEIL, MT. GRETNA, Pa., Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Summer camp duty for more than 4,000 Pensylvania National Guardsmen ended today as soldiers completed their scheduled training and prepared to entrain for home armories.

Western Pennsylvania guardsmen will board special trains at midnight for the journey homeward. Eastern Pennsylvania troops will remain in camp until tomorrow morning and entrain at daybreak.

This morning, Maj. Gen. William G. Price, commander of the 28th Division, presented, the cavalrymen of Troops A and L, of Clearfield and Punxsutawney, with a trophy for winning the small-bore markmanship competition.

ROAD JOB URGED ON U. S. CASH

The William Flinn Highway Association, whose purpose is procuring of improvements on Route No. 8, between Pittsburgh and Butler, has requested Gov. Pinchot to reconstruct the road with part of the $5,267,060 available for Federal aid highway construction. The money is provided in the $2,000,000 relief bill passed by Congress.

The $5,267,060 is Pennsylvania's share of $120,000,000 apportioned for highway construction throughout the country. Eugene L. Connelly, secretary of the association, today urged that the highway be improved at once.

Officials Accused In 'Shakedown' Ring

CHESTER, Pa., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—William McClenachen, assistant district attorney, says he will investigate today the activities of an alleged "shakedown ring" in three counties, following confessions of two men.

McClenachen said there was evidence that some 20 officials, including magistrates, constables and deputy sheriffs of Delaware, Chester and Montgomery counties, have been victimizing small-time bootleggers and innocent citizens.

Convict Who Fled Rockview Captured

Richard Thomas' freedom from Rockview Penitentiary, Bellefonte, was short-lived. Thomas, who escaped yesterday while working at the superintendent's house, was captured at State College today, according to announcement over the Pittsburgh police radio. He was serving a two-year sentence from Allegheny County.

Boy Apple Picker Shot Myseriously

Police Chief Richard Wagner, of Greentree, today was searching for the rifleman who wounded Stanley Mizienski, 12, of 94 Steuben street, while he was picking apples on a farm in Greentree, late yesterday. The boy, shot in the left arm, walked more than two miles to his home.

Stahlstown Plans Flax Scutching

'LUCKY BUCKS' DAY PLANNED AT PARK

"Lucky Bucks" as printed in the Comic Weekly of the Sunday Sun-Telegraph, were originally designed as play money, but an arrangement has been made by which the kiddies can use them for real money. There's going to be a "Lucky Buck Day" at Kennywood—the park beautiful—Friday, August 26, and "Lucky Bucks" will be as good as gold, when presented by boys and girls, for the rides and amusement devices.

Mr. McSwigan

Isn't that a snap for kiddies? All they have to do is to clip the "Lucky Bucks" from the Sunday Sun-Telegraph and save them until "Lucky Buck" day at Kennywood. And, so that the boys and girls will have plenty to spend on this special picnic day, more "Lucky Bucks" will be printed in the daily Sun-Telegraph — every day beginning Monday.

Now, boys and girls, go ahead and clip and save your "Lucky Bucks" so that you will have a big bankroll when "Lucky Buck" day comes along.

It's going to be a big day at Kennywood. A. B. McSwigan, president of the park, says that he will make special arrangements for the entertainment of the youngsters.

Start your bankroll next Sunday by clipping the "Lucky Bucks" in the Comic Weekly and then get a bigger bankroll by clipping the special "Lucky Bucks" to appear every day in the Sun-Telegraph beginning next Monday.

ADAMS PRAISES NAVY HEROES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Kind words went from Secretary Adams to three Navy men who took prompt action in emergencies growing out of a hurricane, a fall overboard and a plane crash.

Lieutenant Commander Thomas L. Morrow, of the Medical Corps, was commended for flying from Managua, Nicaragua, to Belize, in British Honduras, after the hurricane in 1931, to set up a relief unit, and for his effective work after he got there.

A high dive which Richard Everette Douglas, of Hawthorne, N. J., took into the Han River in China last March to rescue a fellow seaman brought praise and the recommendation that Douglas be given the silver life saving medal.

Ensign Frank F. Gill, Berkeley, Cal., attempted to rescue a passenger after their airplane fell into San Francisco Harbor in April. The Secretary of the Navy told him that by his effort he had upheld the best traditions of the service.

Capitol Burglars Steal U. S. Supplies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Burglars jimmied a metal guard rail from a basement window and entered the House stationery room, stealing fountain pens and other supplies. The stationery room is across the hall from the headquarters of the Capitol police in the House Office Building.

The cash register in the stationery room was robbed of 45 cents.

Duke Ellington At Conneaut Lake

CONNEAUT LAKE, Pa., Aug. 5.—Duke Ellington and his band, known as Harlem's Aristocrats of Jazz, is playing for a dance tonight at Dreamland ballroom, Conneaut Lake Park. Supplementing the Ellington program will be Freddie Carlone and his orchestra. Ellington's blues singer, Ivie Anderson, will also appear with the orchestra.

Young Republicans Organize in W. Va.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 5.—Organization of young Republicans throughout West Virginia is going forward as part of the party's preparation for the fall elections. Nineteen clubs are now in existence.

A state convention of the clubs is being arranged for October 8, at Parkersburg.

FREE SERVICE BY HOSPITALS MENACED

Hospitals in Pittsburgh and Pennsylvania are risking disorganization of their service, because of the necessity for stringent curtailment in operating costs, in the opinion of Miss Jessie J. Turnbull, of Pittsburgh, of the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania.

In discussing the "dangerous financial state" of the hospitals today, she observed:

"The trouble with making effective economies in hospitals is that they always have limited themselves in their expenditures. They always have faced deficits and exercised rigid economies. They have watched their postage, telephoning, food and their linens and their power and even their surgical supplies."

She declared that hospitals never have paid high salaries.

She gave this as a probable reason why their present salary reductions—even as much as 35 per cent—have not overcome their deficits.

Miss Turnbull pointed out that the hospitals would be forced to limit free patients, adding:

"Some already have served notice they could no longer accept without questioning patients from other districts or counties. Some have had to bar all except emergency hospitalization cases."

Armstrong County Reaudit Demanded

KITTANNING, Pa., Aug. 5.—A reaudit of the 1930 auditors' report for Armstrong County, in which the former treasurer, Harry B. Rearic, is charged with fraud in an alleged $50,000 shortage, will be sought. County Commissioners claim Rearic failed to charge himself with $50,000 loan while Rearic claims the money was used to pay off part of the county's bonded indebtedness and that the audit is incorrect. The Commissioners asked for a reaudit.

Dates for Voters To Qualify for November Polls

Here are the dates on which residents of Allegheny County may qualify to vote for President and other offices at the November election:

September 7—Last day to be assessed for payment of poll taxes, a tax receipt being necessary to register.

September 8—First registration day in second and third class cities, including Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Duquesne and Clairton.

September 20—Second registration day.

October 8—Third and last registration day, also last day to pay poll taxes.

September 6 and 7—Register assessors will sit at polling places in boroughs and townships to list those who may have been omitted in house-to-house canvass.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

What an appropriate scene to do on a stage for a girl like Mary Nolan, who has been struggling against stiff odds so long . . . Her fling into vaudeville features that scene from "Rain" in which the persecuted woman emotes loud and long about the injustice of men and laws—and Mary certainly isn't acting when she emotes it . . . Strange seeing Mr. Fuller of the once renowned Wall street combination known as Fuller & Magee . . . I remember when his very entrance into any of the asylums served as a signal for the entire personnel to begin bending and bowing . . . The other midnight they didn't even suspect that he was among them . . . Stranger was encountering some of the cuties who once served in the cafe floor revues in the Eve manner, who now use little makeup on their cheeks and lips while "campaigning" for one of the Presidential parties . . . And at sugary wages, too . . . Can't imagine Lila Lee with gray hair . . . Seems as though it was only yesterday when Gus Edwards found her on the Union Hill street and put her in his revusical . . . That was in 1910 and she was 3 . . . She's packed a lot of life into the brief span, at that . . . Remarkable what a little confidence and some ready cash will do to a town like New York . . . The brisk market, which brought some gold to many of the fortunate speculators, put them in the festive mood and they caroused . . . Last week-end seemed more like New Year's Eve.

That "White Zombie" movie is too spooky . . . The two women who fainted the other midnight performance weren't "plants," either—they were out cold when the shudders were plentiful . . . This type of flicker does bring some girls to their senses, at any rate . . . Nearly every couple was in a clinch when the ghosts went gay . . . And after all, most of the lads who take their dolls to the midnight shows do not always go just to see the picture . . . I never believed Garbo's movie employers when they argued that they were not acquainted with her plans, or where she was hiding—until the day after she sailed . . . Then it was that they acquitted themselves by innocently taking great advertising space in the gazettes—urging Greta to witness herself in "Grand Hotel"—while she was on the seas! . . . The only melody that keeps beating on the temples is the "Wintergreen For President" tune in "Of Thee I Sing!" . . . Another reason why so many of these inferior "humor" mags that go in for shady drawings should be discouraged is that they encourage a great army of idea-lifters to thrive . . . Arno suffers most from their burglary.

Times have changed in the Broadway area, indeed . . . When an opening night theater ticket in the orchestra, down front, is priced $1.10 . . . Wonder if the show is worth it? . . . Ring Lardner is a guy to cheer . . . An ailing man is he—yet he continues to turn out the breeziest copy . . . The long-belittled Minsky Brothers and their burlesk shows seem to have snapped back at Broadway with a vengeance . . . Nearly everywhere you ankle along the Artery you see the Minsky name blazing away in tall letters on theaters once controlled by the giants of the profession . . . Probably the only lads in the show industry who weren't ashamed of their handle, either, and never altered it . . . The most exciting event left, it appears, is standing on corners waiting for the sirens on the police cars to blast—and then racing after them . . . A thriller was afforded the other 2 a. m., when some of the cars sped west on an east-bound street to trap their prey—a new gag to bait the sinners . . . And then cornering a group of baddies, all loaded with artillery, who were held behind an iron gate in a theater alley—before going away for a long holiday. . . . What amazed me was the youth of the plain-clothesmen—looked more like kids.

Wonder why some people can't stand success, after struggling for it for years? . . . Take that guy who let it go to his head, as so many others have done before him . . . Just when the breaks turned sugary and the money was rolling in—he quarreled with his squaw, and the act went to pieces . . . He spent his nights and mornings in the sin-spots roasting her and blaming her for the come-down. . . . Oh, he was so bitter . . . But he didn't mean a word of it . . . He couldn't have . . . When she suddenly expired after a major operation, his "In Memoriam" advertisement in the theatrical journals was larger than all the rest . . . Now when I encounter him in the dives I wonder what's to become of him, poor fellow. . . . His money is gone, his appearance has faded—and his wit is no longer clever . . . And most of those who once basked in his glory now avoid him—because his tales bring on melancholia. . . . Those Hollywood movie men who are planning to build a flicker about the life of Ziegfeld will do well to engage someone who knew him intimately . . . His exploiter, frinstance, an intelligent chap, too, who served him faithfully for many years and would know what not to do. . . . There is no need to exaggerate a moment of his career, either . . . And there isn't an author out there, for that matter, who could do the job without Bernard's co-operation.

The show district in New York certainly is the last place you'd expect to find discipline . . . But up at the Hollywood rendezvous N. T. G. has his own system of keeping the girls in order . . . When any of them shatters a rule, he asserts, she is her own judge and gives her own penalty . . . When, frinstance, he said to one of them: 'Now, what shall I do with you?" the violator of some strict ruling said: "I think I ought to be fired"—and she was . . . More often, it appears, the girls penalize themselves with a fine—they set the amount at $2 or $5—which is deducted from their wages . . . Or they are laid off for a day or so—it all depends on what they do to irk him. He irks easily . . . But he isn't the sort to congest the unemployed ranks — and keeps a corps of 35 femmes working, when, he says, he can give as worth while a show with considerably less . . . It's all a big, happy family, you might say . . . And most of the darlings who labor there dwell in the same hotel in the 60s, their landlord being the proprietor of the cafe . . . If he doesn't get back his money in fines, he gets them at rent time.

One of my favorite persons in the Times Square sector is a gambler, who is indifferent to what happens to his money at the racetracks . . . I know for a fact that one day he wagered $50,000 on a horse that lost the honors by an eyelash, but he merely considered it another bad guess and that was the end of it . . . Groups of men about him, however, screamed their heads off when the same horse lost, and when I asked him why he didn't feel as badly as they did, he said—the five and ten dollar wager makers always suffered most . . . At a Canadian track not long ago it was told how the husband of an adored celebrity wagered a goodly sum on a steed bearing his wife's name . . . The gee-gee even surpised its owners by coming first by a wide margin, and paying the sweet sum of 7 to 1 . . . The horse, it seems, had never before won a race—and the husband had made the bet purely for sentimental reasons. . . . Another lad, however, who went broke backing the same horse for two years—left the track shaking his head . . . He was the guy who christened the horse—when he was romantic.

Stars' Flaws Hidden by Camera

By HARRISON CARROLL

(Copyright 1932, King Features Synd., Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.

If your chin looks too square, if your face shows up too plump in that recent portrait, then your photographer isn't up on the tricks of his trade.

Bert Longworth, Paramount still-man and a veteran of 14 years' experience, tells some of the ways in which the camera can be made to correct any desired irregularity of feature.

You may not know it, but Richard Barthelmess also has a square chin. But the cameramen take care of this by the simple trick of shooting high on his face.

Marlene Dietrich.

Marlene Dietrich's face is a trifle plumper than it shows on the screen. This star's look of mystery is enhanced by overhead lights which bring shadows to the right side of her cheek. Miss Dietrich is never photographed except in this lighting.

When a star has a prominent nose, the cameraman highlights nose and chin, so the eye will not be attracted to any one feature. Prominent ears are sometimes times flattened by the application of a bit of tape. In the case of small eyes, the camera is moved as close as possible to the face. Thick lips have to be thinned by the retoucher. But the cameraman can lessen the effect of a large mouth by shooting at an angle. A long face calls for a straight-on shot, with the lens aimed right at the nose. High cheek bones call for high lights on each.

It's an old story, of course, that some stars prefer profiles to full-faces, or one side of their face to the other.

The smart photographer knows all of these tricks. That's why the stars clamor for certain cameramen and still men on their pictures.

For the last week, all of the studio commissaries have been crowded with Olympic games athletes.

Two scenarists were discussing it the other noon.

"When are these luncheons going to stop?" asked one.

The other flipped cynically:

"When these fellows start getting second and third places."

Will Rogers got his wish. His picture won't start for a week, giving the comedian time to see some of the Olympic games . . . Nearly all the stars turned out for the opening day ceremonies. In some cases, schedules were re-arranged to allow this . . . Lita Grey Chaplin returned here and will go into conference with Fox officials about the picture in which her two sons make their firm debut . . . Instead of the usual studio luncheon Elissa Landi had the Italian Olympic team up to her home . . . A new pair of ballroom dancers, Enrico and Novello, are attracting attention at the Frolics here. Saw Harry Langdon dancing with Marjorie Ainsley at this bright-light spot. And Monroe Owsley seems to be interested in Milla Sonde, the blues singer . . . Out at Fox, a couple of German Olympic officials asked Will Rogers if it were true that he will sing in his new picture. The comedian grinned sheepishly.

Lita Chaplin

"Well," he replied, "you'll do a lot during depression that you wouldn't do in good times."

How would you like to see Clara Bow play "Zaza?"

Lowell Sherman is trying to persuade Sam Rork to allow the red-headed star to play this colorful role as her next picture. Mr. Rork, who still has the first Bow picture to get off his mind, isn't committing himself, but he admits he is giving the suggestion consideration.

Come Back?

Vilma Banky, star of many a silent movie, may co-star with her husband, Rod LaRoque, in a forthcoming talkie, according to the latest gossip.

Screen Bills Changed

"Skyscraper Souls," Faith Baldwin's Cosmopolitan Magazine story of life in the big city, opens today on the Penn's screen. In the lead roles are Warren Williams and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Barbara Stanwyck has the role of a night-club entertainer in "The Purchase Price," opening today in the Stanley. George Brent also appears in the picture.

"Bring 'Em Back Alive," filmed by Frank Buck in the Malayan jungle country, goes into its second and final week in the Warner today.

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell have the lead roles in "The First Year," romantic comedy beginning tomorrow in the Enright.

Beginning tomorrow in the Sheridan Square is "Roadhouse Murder," featuring Eric Linden and Dorothy Jordan.

Landi, Lukas In Fulton

By EDWARD W. GOSS

An entertaining picture, "A Passport to Hell," with Elissa Landi and Paul Lukas in the lead roles, is showing on the Fulton screen.

Unhappily, the picture is laid in the tropics. Many movie audiences have come to expect awful things from pictures with a tropical locale. When film writers set down the word "tropics," it often connotes gin bottles, hula-hula gals and a terribly mushy romance. Then, too, somebody is always saved from Deamon Rum and the natives.

"A Passport to Hell" is not like that. It is a rather well-contained picture nicely directed. Certainly there's a wee bit of non-licensed love, but it doesn't loom like a mountain on a landscape, blotting out the entire action of the film.

The picture has to do with an undesirable English girl who, unluckily, is booted from one military outpost to another. In her meanderings she arrives at a German outpost. There she meets three officers. One she hates, one she tricks and the other she loves. Quite an engaging situation.

The three officers are played by Paul Lukas, Alexander Kirkland and Warner Oland, who do the job very well. Miss Landi also is convincing.

On the same bill is a Hearst Metrotone News reel showing the opening of the Olympic Games, and the evacuation of Washington by the bonus army.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS By William J. Lewis

Sissle and Blake and Miller and Lyles were a couple of teams familiar to everybody a few years ago, when "Shuffle Along" came along and proved to be the most attractive of Negro revues. Noble Sissle and Eubie Blake turned out the material and Flourney Miller and Aubrey Lyles were featured in it. In the intervening years Sissle and Blake have been going their separate ways and death recently separated Miller and Lyles, the latter having died last week. Now Sissle and Blake have reunited to bring out a successor to "Shuffle Along" and it is probable that Miller will appear in it with a new teammate. Moreland Manton is being mentioned. He appeared with "Singing The Blues" and other productions.

* * *

George White has gone to work turning out material for another "Scandals," his first assistant scandalizer being Irving Caesar, who wrote five songs for the coming Al Jolson picture, "The New Yorker." In search of a little quiet and privacy for their brainwork, Messrs. White and Caesar have ensconced themselves in Atlantic City.

* * *

Our Vince Barnett is getting into more and more pictures, and now has been selected for the cast of "The New Yorker," the star of which will be Al. Jolson . . . Richard Arlen has been chosen for the lead role in "All-America," another football picture, for which Ralph Graves had been selected . . . Lee Tracy has been signed for the principal role in the film, "Washington Merry-Go-Round," based on a sensational book . . . "Irene," popular musical comedy of a few years ago, will be condensed for presentation in combination houses, with Dale Winter, star of the original production, in the title role she created . . . Ben Lyon has been selected to play the leading male role, opposite Sally Eilers, in "Hat-Check Girl" . . . Fifi D'Orsay, one of the daughters of Canada, entertained the Canadian Olympic team at the studio where she is working in "The Girl From Calgary," the title of which has a Canadian sound, too.

SUN-TELEGRAPH WANT-AD

MOVIE LOVERS' CONTEST CLOSES TODAY

Last Minute Instructions

Do not submit more than one title for each picture. There is only one correct answer.

Be sure that your name and address are written plainly and attached to your set of answers. Also place name and address on the outside of your envelope or package. Most important of all, see that you have sufficient postage on your entry—otherwise the entries will not be accepted. Address all entries to Sun-Telegraph Movie Lovers' Contest Editor, P. O. Box 594, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Read the rules for additional instructions.

There is still a little misunderstanding about Pictures No. 34 and 35 on account of the Sunday picture being inadvertently numbered 35 in an early edition of the Sunday Sun-Telegraph. No. 34 (Sunday) is the picture of the aviator, and No. 35 (Monday) is the picture of the man questioning a girl.

CONTEST PICTURE No. 60

*The correct title of this picture is:

*There are 3 movie titles hidden in the above puzzle. The title with the largest number of letters is the correct title.

Don't Fail to Follow These Simple Rules

(1) The Movie Lovers contest will consist of a series of 60 cartoons to appear in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph—one each day for 60 consecutive publication days—starting Monday, June 6th. The contestants are to find the correct title for each picture from a list of motion picture titles that will be printed every day, scattered among the WANT ADS every day throughout the life of this contest. Mere lists of answers will not be accepted as an entry. The answers must be accompanied by the pictures you think said answers represent. Do not submit any pictures or answers until the entire set of 60 has been printed. Entrants are advised against an elaborate arrangement in submitting entries. Remember, the awards will be made for correctness of identity of the pictures, correct spelling of titles in your entry and neatness. Misspelled titles in your entry will be counted as total errors.

(2) The contest is open to everyone living in Pittsburgh or within 100 miles of Pittsburgh, with the exception of employes of the Sun-Telegraph and of WCAE, Incorporated, or any member of their families.

(3) As explained in the list of prizes herewith printed there are three divisions or classes. It is not necessary to subscribe or send in a subscription to the Sun-Telegraph to compete for one of the Class A prizes. The Class B prizes are open to entrants who send in one six-month subscription for the daily Sun-Telegraph. Class C is open to entrants who send in two six-month subscriptions to the daily Sun-Telegraph.

(4) There is a total of 148 prizes in the Sun-Telegraph Movie Lovers contest. The maximum amount to be paid out in prizes is $2,500.00—the smallest amount is $525.00. There will be only one first prize awarded, one second prize, etc. In other words, a contestant submitting the largest and neatest number of correct answers, according to the rules, will receive the first prize regardless of what class he or she is in, but the amount to be paid such prize winner will be determined by the class he or she is in. The same rule applies to each of the 148 prizes. In case of tie, contestant so tied will be paid an equal amount of the prize for which they are tied—subject to the above classification rule.

(5) It is not necessary to buy a copy of the Sun-Telegraph in order to compete for these prizes but it is absolutely necessary that each contestant shall have on file in the office of the Sun-Telegraph an enrollment or registration blank, form of which may be clipped or copied from the Sun-Telegraph. Please pay particular attention to this stipulation. In the meantime, if you prefer, tracings of the contest pictures will be accepted and for this purpose you may have free access to the files of the Sun-Telegraph at the Sun-Telegraph office or at the leading public libraries.

(6) The Contest Editor's decision on all matters pertaining to the contest is absolutely final and legally binding and this is an express condition accepted by the entrant in filing the enrollment or registration blank.

(7) The contest will close at midnight Friday, August 5, 1932. All sets of pictures and lists of answers must be delivered to the office of the Sun-Telegraph by mail or by hand before midnight Friday, August 19th. Entries received later than this date, governed by the postmark or the time of the hand delivery, will not be considered. Address your entry SUN-TELEGRAPH MOVIE LOVERS CONTEST EDITOR, POSTOFFICE BOX 594, PITTSBURGH, PA.

NOTE—The closing date originally printed for submitting sets of answers was Friday, August 12th, but so many entrants are out of town on account of the vacation season that this date has been extended to August 19th.

Box 594, Pittsburgh, Pa., enclosing 3 cents for each daily picture wanted or 10 cents for each Sunday picture.

BITS OF LIFE

All in a Day

By Mark Hellinger

In Which the Customers Do the Work

"OF ALL the human failings," writes Lionel Toll, "the lack of gratitude for favors done is one of the most outstanding. And thus it is with surprise that we come across people who are grateful and thankful for all that they have, and who really feel indebted to others for many of their worldly comforts. Emma, a cook for an internationally known banker, is in the latter class.

"About 30 years ago, when Emma was 25 years old, she went into the employ of Charles B. Ross, which is a pseudonym for this famous financier. As time went on, Emma was treated as though she were one of the family. Her employer gave her many presents. Every year she had her vacation. And when she was ill, it was Mr. Ross who hurried a doctor to her side and paid all expenses.

"For all this, Emma was extremely grateful. In return, she would take care of all Mr. Ross's comforts. She cooked all his favorite dishes, and she kept watch over the housekeeper and the valet to see that they fulfilled their duties faithfully. She was, in other words, much more than a cook; she was the overseer of everything that had to do with her benefactor's well-being.

"And so—for many, many years—this fine relationship between servant and master went on. Never once did either of the two complain. Mr. Ross was perfectly satisfied with Emma's comfort and Emma felt nothing but the deepest respect and gratitude for Mr. Ross.

"In 1927 Mr. Ross decided on a move. He told himself that Emma had worked faithfully for a long time. Why shouldn't she be given a pension so that she might enjoy the rest of her days in peace? So he summoned the woman and gave her the wonderful news.

"'Emma,' Mr. Ross told her, 'you have been an extraordinary cook and a faithful servant. I have decided to reward you by giving you a pension. You will receive three-quarters of your present salary for the rest of your life.'

"Whereupon the girl thanked him so fervently that the financier was embarrassed . . .

"Mr. Ross hired an expensive French chef and things proceeded as before—until the crash arrived. From then on, the man's resources diminished with astonishing rapidity. Not that he was a poor man, but the values of his vast holdings began to decrease at an alarming rate. He refused, however, to make any cuts in his home. His servants were all treated with great kindness and Emma's pension was sent out each week.

"This state of affairs continued until about six weeks ago. At that time, Mr. Ross was quite low financially. All of his stock holdings were away down in price, and his ready cash was small. It was necessary for him to cut down on expenses immediately. And one thing that he had to do, although it hurt him to do it, was to discharge his high-priced French chef and put Emma back on the payroll at her old salary.

"Emma didn't mind this in the least. On the contrary, she seemed very happy to be able to look after her old master once more and to see that he received his favorite dishes. And so she returned to her kitchen in much the same fashion as a restored king returns to his throne.

"Her salary came to Emma every Monday afternoon. Last Monday, after she had been paid, the woman complained of feeling ill. Mr. Ross urged her to remain at home until she felt better. But Emma shook her head emphatically. Mr. Ross needed her now, she said, and she wasn't going to shirk her work. And so, on Tuesday, Emma came to work.

"Tuesday night, Emma became very ill. Mr. Ross sent her home, and there she got a stroke. A doctor and two nurses attended Emma at her employer's expense. All that night, the financier sat up and anxiously awaited word of her condition. For three days, the woman was unconscious. And on the third night, with the doctor and a nurse beside her, Emma opened her eyes.

"'Mr. Ross,' she murmured feebly.

"The doctor and the nurse smiled sadly. The nurse took the patient's hand.

"'I'm sorry,' she said. 'Mr. Ross isn't here. Is there any message I can give him?'

"Emma looked at the nurse through dull eyes. The nurse bent closer to hear the message of cheer for Mr. Ross.

"'Tell Mr. Ross,' whispered Emma haltingly, 'that he owes me one day's pay.'

"And she sank back into unconsciousness." . . . .

"THE STEEL company," writes Sid Herman, of Chicago, "had three chemical laboratories—one main and two small ones. The main lab was the center of activity, while the small ones were just the opposite. During the previous years known as prosperity, two men were required as workers in the smaller labs. Now only one was employed.

"This little yarn concerns a young man who had worked for several years in the main lab and who had seldom spoken to his fellow employes. Nobody could get a word out of him. The only thing you could hope for was a feeble hello—if you spoke first.

"Came the day when he was assigned to one of the smaller labs where he had to work by himself. After several months, he was again returned to the main lab, where he worked beside me. I asked him how he had liked working in the other laboratory.

"'No good,' replied the man who never talked. 'It's too lonesome. And besides, there's nobody to talk to!' . . .

"I DON'T care what you say, Mark," writes Gloria Geiser, of Chicago, "I've got the dumbest girl friend in the world.

"'I think it's a dirty shame,' she said to me yesterday, 'that the depression had to come along in these hard times!' . . .

Beginning of Olympics Shown

THE GLOBE TROTTER

Picturesque and colorful scenes of the opening of the tenth Olympic Games in the great stadium at Los Angeles are contained in the current issue of Hearst Metrotone News. Cameramen in airplanes flying over the stadium picture the great oval jammed with a crowd of more than 100,000 spectators. Other cameramen in the stadium show the arrival of Vice President Curtis, representing President Hoover, and the presence of many other notables. Then follows the parade of 2,000 athletes from all over the world, representing more than two-score nations, each one with its flag flying gayly. The vast crowd rises and thousands of voices join in singing the national anthem. Mr. Curtis then formally declares the Olympic Games open and the finish of his brief speech is the signal for the release of thousands of pigeons. The Globe Trotter gives a vivid description of the entire proceedings.

The current Hearst Metrotone News is being shown in the Penn, Fulton and many other theaters.

TROOPS, VETS BATTLE

Sensational scenes from Washington show mounted troops and infantry driving the bonus army from their Anacostia camp. The troops are seen marching down Pennsylvania avenue, the soldiers on foot carrying rifles with fixed bayonets. After the streets of Camp Glassford have been cleared the troops hurl tear-gas bombs into the pitiful shacks of the veterans while the mounted soldiers push back the stragglers. When the last one has been put to flight, the hovels are set on fire until all that remains of the temporary home sites and the scant belongings of the B. E. F. have been reduced to ashes.

The biggest aerial review ever put on at the Pacific Coast is pictured. More than 400 planes of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps take part and fly over San Diego and vicinity. The planes participate in mass formations and the final views show a mass smoke screen spreading a gigantic white screen across the sky. Amelia Earhart Putnam is among the interested spectators.

RIDE 'EM, COWBOY

The world's greatest broncho busters take part in the "Frontier Days" celebration at Cheyenne, Wyo., while a new twist is given to this remarkable rodeo by cowboys riding through the town and lassoing pretty girls whom they take along to cheer for them. Inside the enclosure the crazy horses and their castiron riders create thrills galore.

A new giant Christy tank that travels 120 miles an hour on the road and 65 miles on its own caterpillar track across country, is demonstrated to Army observers at Linden, N. J. Its most spectacular performance is a leap across a wide ditch at full speed.

Technicolor Cartoons Put on Screen

The first animated motion picture ever to be made in technicolor has just been previewed in Hollywood, and reports about it are sensational. The picture is "Flowers and Trees," latest Walt Disney "Silly Symphony," which will be released by United Artists.

Revue Principals to Play in Movies

William Gaxton, Lois Moran and Victor Moore, the three principals of "Of Thee I Sing," current Broadway sensation and Pulitzer prize winner, will be starred in the first of Columbia's "Lambs Gambols," which goes into production at the Eastern Service Studio.

COMEDY, MUSIC ON AIR

Lanny Ross Discusses Olympic Games

WHITEMAN, REISMAN, LOMBARDO

Page Boys of NBC Present 'Brass Button Revue;' Paul Robeson Sings

The page boys of the National Broadcasting Company's New York studios have another chance tonight to show what they can do in addition to wearing a uniform smartly when they present their "Brass Button Revue" over an NBC network, including WCAE, tonight at 10:30.

The program is presented in the form of a legitimate stage revue, with the boys exercising their talents as singers, actors and impersonators. Several "blackout" sketches also are included on the program, which is co-ordinated by a master of ceremonies chosen frim the brass-buttoned ranks.

Mr. Barbuti

The entire script has been written by the boys, and the broadcast is their second over NBC networks. Several months ago, they presented a drama, "The Duel," written by one of their number.

Ray Barbuti and Lanny Ross, two of America's best known middle-distance runners, discuss the Olympic Games during Ross' program on WCAE tonight at 7:30—just a few minutes before the 400-meter finals are run in Los Angeles. Barbuti won the 400-meter run at the 1928 Olympics, and Ross, then a member of the Yale track team, was the only man able to defeat him at 440 yards, the American equivalent of the 400-meter, during the preceding year. Lanny and Don Voorhees' orchestra also present their usual musical program.

The Westinghouse Pioneers, male quartet which has been broadcasting from KDKA every Tuesday night for a number of weeks, go on a two-a-week schedule tonight at 10:15. They will be heard every Tuesday and Friday at the same hour for an indefinite period.

* * *

Program Pointers

Louis Munnell, recent addition to the WJAS announcing ranks, whose 15-minute song programs previously have been heard at 10:30 p. m., goes on the air at 10:15 tonight. The change is made to allow WJAS listeners to hear a full half-hour of Guy Lombardo's music, scheduled at 10:30 . . . "Moonlight Rhapsody," a new composition by Nathaniel Shilkret is played from manuscript by Leonard Joy's orchestra as a highlight on KDKA at 8 o'clock . . . Leo Reisman offers a repeat-request program, including the torrid favorite, "Clarinet Marmalade," the comedy ditty, "I Got the Potatoes," and Dana Suesse's "My Silent Love" on WCAE at 9:30.

Mr. Munnell

* * *

Fan Fare

When Lenore Ulric made her debut as a radio actress during the recent Highlights program, she calmed herself by munching chocolates. . . . Broadway openings, she said, never generated the fear she felt on facing the microphone . . . Irene Beasley is back in New York after a vacation in Memphis . . . With Singin' Sam back from his vacation, Ralph Colucchio, Sam's guitarist, dons his sprinting shoes again. While local announcements are being made at the end of the minstrel's program, Ralph has to make a dash to another studio to play for Kate Smith.

Miss Beasley

Paul Whiteman is to introduce Dana Susse's new composition, "Concerto in Three Rhythms," to radio listeners soon.

Art Jarrett's Orchestra at Woodmansten Inn is featuring a woman accordionist, Clementine Heineman.

"Pittsburgh on Parade," an hour program of music sponsored by a number of Pittsburgh firms, makes its debut on WWSW tonight at 6:30. A brief American Legion talk is heard during the broadcast.

Buddy Rogers has refused movie offers because they don't include his band . . . Mildred Bailey's real name is Rinker. . . . Welcome Lewis takes her dog, Snip, with her on vaudeville tours.

Phil Dewey, who deserted the Men About Town to join the Revelers, will soon desert the latter to join the former . . . Charles Mack, of the Two Black Crows, was married in California recently . . . Frank Singiser, the NBC announcer, is engaged.

A lyric has been written for Ravel's "Bolero," and will be sung by the Revelers in a future program . . . Bennie Kreuger has invented a new instrument called the "Sousasax." It's a cross between a saxophone and a big bass horn.

Bert Lahr is writing a book . . . Fred Berrens, of CBS, is now directing 10 different orchestras.

Mannie Seff, who authored the play, "Blessed Event," may turn his talents to radio continuity.

A group of old favorites, including "In the Tavern" and excerpts from "The Five O'Clock Girl," comprises the dinner concert by the KDKA Orchestra, directed by Zoel Parenteau, tonight at 6:30.

Ted Lewis, Broadway's high-hatted exponent of blue jazz, is imitated by Ward Wilson as he announces the Vagabonds' program on KDKA at 7:15.

Lawrence V. Gibb, past commander of the Sewickley Valley Post No. 4, American Legion, is guest speaker on the WCAE salute to the state legion today at 4:45.

Alicia Fuller includes one of her own compositions, "Tousle-head's Lullaby," on her organ program on KQV tonight at 10 o'clock.

Two Here Elected To Insurance College

Henry W. Abbot, general agent in Pittsburgh for the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Miss Edna Hazlett, agency secretary for the Standard Life Insurance Company of America, have been elected to the American College of Life Underwriters, the college announced today. There are 16 other members in Pittsburgh.

Nite Club Stars on Air Tonight

Artists starred on the Sun-Telegraph Nite Club of the Air on WCAE tonight at 11 are Charlotte Shallenberger, soprano, and Paul Gannon, tenor, with Pat Haley, master of ceremonies, and an orchestra directed by James G. Borrelli.

Louis L. Kaufman, Globe-Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News, relays the latest news flashes to WCAE listeners four times daily—at 9:05 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 2:30 p. m. and 6:30 p. m.

Safe Pleasant Way To Lose Fat

How would you like to lose 15 pounds of fat in a month and at the same time increase your energy and improve your health?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent hips and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get a bottle of Kruschen Salts, which will last you for 4 weeks and costs but a trifle. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 salts of Kruschen have presented you with glorious health.

To take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY, take Kruschen every morning—don't worry—it's the SAFE way to reduce.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at any drugstore in the world and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not joyfully satisfy you—why, money back.

EX-DRUNK HUNT STILL IN VAIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—The search for a drunkard who has quit drinking because it is against the law has reached Capitol Hill.

A modern version of Diogenes' tub, a huge silvered bus which has been driven 12,000 miles through 35 states looking for "the honest man"—an ex-drunk reformed by the dry law—visited the two national prohibition organizations in the shadow of the Capitol without success.

The bus belongs to the Crusaders and the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform, which seek "the honest man."

The searchers first visited the Anti-Saloon League and learned Supt. F. Scott McBride is out of the city. At the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, Dr. Clarence True Wilson also was reported out of town. Paul Morris, director of the search, said:

"We have searched all over the country and have not yet found a single ex-drunk who quit because liquor was outlawed."

Log Rider Starts Journey Down Mississippi

BRAINERD, Minn., Aug. 5.—AP.)—Thanksgiving dinner in New Orleans is a long way from here, especially if one's mode of travel is a common log, 20 inches in diameter, floating in the Mississippi River.

But Tom Connelly, 55, New Richmond (Wis.) lumberjack, is confident he will eat turkey down Louisiana way by riding his log down the Father of Waters. He left Grand Rapids, Minn., July 22, and travels eight to 30 miles daily. High winds delayed him two days this week.

Connelly undertook his novel feat to win food and lodging. He is unemployed, married, and has seven children.

Knew San Francisco As City of Shacks

SAN FRANCISCO.—(INS.)—A city of tents and sand dunes, gun fighting every day in the streets, a shack the only school house in town. That was the San Francisco that Mrs. Mary Prag saw 80 years ago.

Mrs. Prag, former member of the Board of Education, said she came with her parents across the isthmus by way of Nicaragua, landing in San Francisco at Washington and Montgomery streets, then the docks, now the site of tall office buildings. She said:

"I didn't like the city at first, but I think I'll learn to like it soon."

NEW CONTRACT CLUB FORMED

The Pittsburgh Contract Bridge Club today was being organized under R. J. Henderson, managing director, as a successor to the old Pittsburgh Bridge Club.

Clubrooms are being maintained in the William Penn Hotel quarters of the former organization which was sold at sheriff sale Saturday. Henderson was a director in the first club which was headed by H. J. Bailey, president; C. E. Moody, vice president, and Mrs. H. J. Bailey, treasurer.

KIN IDENTIFIES WOMAN KILLED IN LEAP

Invalid Plunges 12 Stories to Roof Of Theater

Relatives today identified the woman who leaped to her death from a window on the twelfth floor of the Fulton Building, Sixth street, to the roof of the Alvin Theater, during last night's rush hour, as Mrs. Ida B. Delaney, 40, of 616 Jackson street, North Side.

Thomas M. White, a cousin, 908 Beech avenue, made the identification and notified the Coroner's office that the woman's son, Horton, 10, was also at the Jackson street address. She was not living with her husband, he said.

Mrs. Delaney has a brother, Walter F. Bazard, principal of the Midland High School, Beaver County, who is a captain at the Reserve Officers' camp, Fortress Monroe, White declared.

Following a nervous breakdown in Philadelphia a year ago, Mrs. Delaney was living in Pittsburgh while undergoing treatments, according to White.

Mrs. Delaney broke from the grasp of Miss Marion Klass, of 618 Center avenue, Avalon a stenographer, who attempted to frustrate the attempt, and leaped from the window. Taken to Allegheny General Hospital, she was pronounced dead. Her neck was broken.

A note, found in the washroom, requested that I. B. Delaney, of 15 North Thirty-second street, Philadelphia, be notified. It read:

"This is the result of complicated circumstances. I realize I cannot get well. The agony of getting no sleep, night or day, is more than I can bear.

"I cannot torture my people any longer. They have done everything in their power to help me."

The note was signed Mrs. I. B. Delaney.

DRYS TO MEET ON STRATEGY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—The course of the National Prohibition Board of Strategy in the presidential campaign will be charted in September, it was announced today by Dr. Edwin C. Dinwiddie, executive secretary.

A special meeting of the board's executive committee will be held in the capital the second week in September to weigh the wet and dry pronouncement in President Hoover's acceptance speech, Dinwiddie said.

Strong differences of opinion developed at a meeting of the board following the Republican and Democratic national conventions. Some of the members wanted to indorse President Hoover while others opposed this action.

As a compromise, a statement was prepared giving the record of the chief executive and his Democratic opponent, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, on the wet and dry question. This statement was intended as a tacit indorsement of Hoover's prohibition record.

Honest Bootlegger Praised—But Jailed

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Judge Charles G. Briggle encountered what he described as the most honest bootlegger ever to come before him in Federal Court and promptly sentenced the man to six months in the Milwaukee House of Correction and imposed a fine of $500. He is Edward Harper, of Mercer, who admitted he had been selling liquor for nine years in his boarding house.

KIDDIES ENJOY PARK OUTING

Hundreds of boys and girls are at West View Park today as an overflow from Tuesday's National Kiddies' Day celebration. It will be recalled that, owing to the tremendously big demand for these strips of free tickets, the supply for Tuesday was exhausted and many youngsters were unable to redeem their Sun-Telegraph coupons. Owing to this situation the Sun-Telegraph secured another supply of tickets good for today. All of the exchange stations were given these supplies and all holders of unredeemed Sun-Telegraph coupons were taken care of.

This brought another big crowd of happy boys and girls to West View today, many of whom were accompanied by their parents, with lunch baskets for a day's outing.

The next big outing of this kind for the kiddies is scheduled for Kennywood Park, Friday, August 26. Details will be found in another part of today's Sun-Telegraph.

Carpenter Seeking Legacy of Million

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Wesley Shaw, 72, Detroit carpenter, is in St. John seeking evidence to bolster his claim to part of a $1,000,000 fortune left by an ancestor.

He wants documentary proof of the identity of Robert Purdy II, said to have died here a few years after the American Revolution, whose father left the fortune in trust with the Bank of England for distribution among his heirs 100 years after his death, Shaw said.

Brother's Best Man, Drowns Next Day

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Twenty-four hours after he had served as best man at his brother's wedding, Donald Westgate, 21, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was drowned yesterday in Lewis Lake, Susquehanna County. Westgate dove from a boat and failed to reappear. His body was recovered.

80TH MEMBERS RAP ATTACK ON BONUS VETS

Resolution Denouncing Force to Be Offered At Reunion

HARRISONBURG, Va., Aug. 5. — Gen. Adelbert Cronkhite, overseas commander of the 80th (Blue Ridge) Division arived here last night for the thirteenth annual reunion of his troops which opens here today.

Among those welcoming him were Gen. William A. Mitchell, former chief of the U. S. Air Corps, and Lieut. Rodney Bonsall, Philadelphia, national commander of the 80th Division Veterans Association.

15TH ANNIVERSARY

This reunion marks the fifteenth anniversary of the organization of the division at Camp Lee, Va., and is the second one to be held in Virginia. Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania are well represented among 750 veterans present. More than 1,000 veterans are expected here before the reunion adjourns Sunday.

Resolutions asking cash payment of the bonus and deploring the force used by the government in evicting the bonus army from Washington were expected to be presented to the convention committee today. The veterans are almost unanimous in their condemnation of the use of troops to drive out the B. E. F.

STRAGGLERS ARRIVE

Stragglers from the bonus army are drifting in from Johnstown, Pa., on their way to homes in the West. The veterans are taking up collections to provide them food and gasoline and send them on to the next town.

Gen. Cronkite and Lieut. Bonsall were to address the convention today. Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley will speak at Saturday's session. Reunions of various units comprising the division, composed largely of Western Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia men, were held throughout the day and night.

Parked Car Struck, Woman Badly Hurt

When the parked automobile in which she and her husband occupied was struck by another machine in Ardmore boulevard, early today, Mrs. Evelyn Detchon, 36, of 326 Center street, East Pittsburgh, was injured seriously. Police arrested Oscar R. Suess, Jr., of 1407 Perrysville road, West View, as driver of the other machine.

PINCHOT NAMES TAX DELEGATES

HARRISBURG, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Gov. Pinchot has named 11 Pennsylvania delegates to the twenty-fifth annual conference of the National Tax Association in Columbus, O., September 12 to 16.

They are Dr. Clyde L. King, secretary of revenue; Leon D. Metzger, deputy secretary of revenue; M. Clyde Sheaffer, commissioner of corporation taxes; Linn L. Reist, commissioner of county collections; Frederick P. Weaver, Pennsylvania State College; Hale Hill Pittsburgh; Charles A. Waters, auditor general; Frank H. Lehman, deputy auditor general; Philip S. Moyer, deputy attorney general; Walter J. Kress, secretary of the state board of finance and revenue, and Dr. Edward B. Logan, budget secretary.

DOG 'PAROLED' TO OWNER

ASSISTANT SUPT. ROBERT TITUS AND BARKING TERRIER

"Jiggs," the dog arrested and jailed by North Side police for annoying squirrels in West Park, given a hearing and paroled into the custody of his mistress, Mrs. Rollo McBride, superintendent of the Parting of the Ways Home, East Stockton avenue, where discharged prisoners make new starts. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

Dog Freed, Man Fined For Chasing Squirrels

"Jiggs," fox terrier pet of Mrs. Rollo McBride, superintendent of the Parting of Ways Home, who chased West Park squirrels, today was free. Thomas Madison, Negro, who had been exercising the dog, when it sent a family of squirrels up a tree, was adjudged guilty of hunting within the city limits by Magistrate John J. Sweeney and was fined $5. Both had been arrested, yesterday, Madison charged with violating a city ordinance.

City Could Economize By Merging Welfare Work With County's

The theory that the taxpayer assumes the cost of only the most efficient government gets many a jolt in the city of Pittsburgh and in the County of Allegheny.

And no more glaring example exists than in the welfare work. It is costing the taxpayers, this year, nearly $1,000,000.

Grant that it is highly efficient in operation and service. There still remains the fact that it has overhead costs that do not properly belong.

The Poor Board directs welfare work in the county outside the city. The city conducts its own welfare within its boundary.

One thing in common, in city and county, in congested streets or open road, is poverty.

One welfare department to include the entire county would suffice. City and county welfare departments could merge.

Some amendment to the city charter might be necessary. This doubtless could be arranged if politics did not interfere.

And the economy resulting would at least be the saving of general office expenditures, listed in the city budget for this year at approximately $80,000.

A saving of $80,000 here and $10,000 there and $1,000 somewhere else, accomplished by consolidation and other measures, would mean that the city not only could balance its budget, but produce a lower tax rate next year, either by lower assessment or low millage, or both.

The necessity for economy is apparent, with the industrial payrolls of the district down below 45 per cent of 1929.

The City Welfare Department cost taxpayers $1,291,838 last year. Much of its service could have been utilized by residents of the county at little if any additional cost. But county revenues, added to those of the city, would have greatly reduced the cost to the people. The same is true of county welfare work.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 5.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

Will Rogers

In the bicycle events out here in the Olympics, our riders could not get there in time to change a tire for the foreigners. Too many Fords parked outside our school houses for our young folks to even know how to ride a bike.

Folks had nothing laid up when this depression hit us. But it looks like they think autographs will save 'em the next time.

Yours, WILL.

Mattern, Griffin Due Home From Europe

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—James Mattern and Bennett Griffin, who failed in their first attempt to break the round-the-world flight record, were due to arrive from Europe today. Mayor Walker arranged a reception at City Hall for the aviators Monday. The next day they planned to fly to Washington.

Armstrong County Prosecutor Marries

KITTANNING, Pa., Aug. 5.—District Attorney William A. Ashe, of Armstrong County, and Miss Gladys Clark, 23, of this city, were married Wednesday in the Little Church Around the Corner, in New York City.

Ashe is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh Law School.

FLAG REPLACED BY RISKY FEAT

A flag adorns the main flagpole of the Courthouse today for the first time in 15 years, but Harry Tatnall, 54, of 1458 Greenmont avenue, Dormont, had to suspend himself on ropes in midair high above gaping noon-hour strollers in Grant street to get it there.

A broken rope had prevented the pole's use and sent Tatnall on the hazardous suspension. A seat on a 125-foot drop of rope tied high on the Courthouse tower held Tatnall, a physical culture instructor.

A rope flung from an eighth floor window of the Frick Building reached across Grant street to the seat. A helper pulled Tatnall from the Courthouse wall to a point almost half way across the street. Smoking a cigaret, Tatnall pulled out the broken rope and replaced it with new copper cord 250 feet above the street.

Tatnall was physical director at the old Lyceum when the Cathedral stood at Fifth avenue and Grant street.

Movie Lion Leaps To Freedom; Caught

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Jackie, a 500-pound lion, jumped into the camera too realistically at the Mack Sennett studio yesterday. He pushed it out of its hole in his otherwise barred cage. He jumped right on through the hole and all work had to be suspended half an hour while Melvin Kootz, his trainer, and a posse captured him.

Brew, Moonshine Seized in 6 Raids

Confiscation of moonshine and home brew was reported by prohibition agents in six raids yesterday. Those arrested, according to the agents, were Abe Kalin, of Webster avenue; Andrew Karpuk, Bethel road, Bethel Township; D. C. Petrich, Water street; Anthony Federoff, McLaughlin road, Bridgeville; John Mauroevis, Sampson way, and Joe Thomas, R. F. D. No. 2, New Kensington.

Cow Kills Cripple Crossing Meadow

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Aldus Eby, 63, of New Manheim, died yesterday after he had been tossed and trampled by a cow which charged him as he crossed a meadow.

Eby, slightly paralyzed, was unable to escape from the cow, which mangled his face and chest. The cow walked away as two men ran up to save him.

Farm Lost, Man Kills Self in Son's Home

Heartbroken over the loss of his little farm near Nanty-Glo, Peter Phillips, 67, walked four days to reach the home of his son, John Phillips, 3119 Wadlow street North Side, and, police say, fired a bullet into his head last night several hours after arriving.

The aged man, tired and hungry from the long trek, wept as he told his son of the loss of his home, lost because of his inability to pay taxes.

After searching through a bag he brought with him, the elder Phillips went to the second floor. A few minutes later the son, hearing a shot, ran upstairs and found his father on the floor, the revolver nearby.

The wounded man was taken to St. John's Hospital where he died two hours later.

KERR CUTS PAY OF EMPLOYES, HIS OWN, TOO

Other Officials Seeking Economies in Fear Of Empty Treasury

A five-day week for virtually all city employes not engaged in absolutely essential public service appeared certain today following announcement of the adoption of this policy by the Department of Public Works.

A flat salary cut of 5 per cent over the rest of the year has been announced by Controller James P. Kerr for the Controller's office employes, Kerr included himself in the order.

In the Department of Welfare, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, its director, has ordered a survey of the savings to be effected by the installation of the five-day week. This check-up includes the payroll at the City Home and Hospital at Mayview. The results will be submitted at the economy conference to be held next Wednesday.

CITY DEFICIT

The five-day week movement at City Hall follows announcement of a current city deficit of more than $1,200,000 and the threat of payless paydays during the last three months of the year.

Many of the city department heads appeared to be doing an about face yesterday from the attitude of determined opposition which they had previously shown to any suggestion of budget reductions.

At the conference with the Mayor and Council Wednesday, the department heads vigorously defended their expenditures, saying that cuts were "impossible." They were told that the real impossibility lay in trying to get money out of an empty treasury.

LANG ECONOMY

Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works, who has included himself in the five-day week order, announced the five-day program in a letter to his department heads. The order is retroactive to August 1.

The only activities exempted from this order are those which require 24-hour service, seven days a week. The saving in this department, one of the largest in the city, will amount to many thousands of dollars.

Other city department heads are investigating and will make their reports to the Mayor and Council on what form their economies will take.

$20,000 BLAZE IN EMLENTON

EMLENTON, Pa., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Fire today leveled two barns and damaged four buildins. Fire Chief Emil Ebner estimated the damage at $20,000.

Ebner said that spontaneous combustion or sparks from a passing freight train ignited the barns and that heat from the blaze set fire to the frame buildings.

Firemen from Parker City helped subdue the flames.

Borah Won't Risk Being Other Half Of Forgotten Man

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Politics are hopping along so fast that the ticker is a week behind the market.

All we know now is that Senator Borah ain't going to allow anybody to stick pins in his war map.

Borah says he ain't for Hoover, will not support Roosevelt and doesn't intend to start a third party.

He is a political thistledown wafting along in midair, dallying where the breeze blows.

He is as independent as the boy who ran away from home, has no more connections than whiskers on the barber shop floor and is as exclusive as the Cabots, of Boston.

If he can hold out to November he will break all existing records for self-imposed boycotts. But, by that time, we fear he will relax and gallop into line like a doughboy at mess call.

For Senator Borah hasn't the slightest idea of becoming the other half of the Siamese forgotten man.

RAIDER'S HOME BOMBED, FIVE IN PERIL

The home of Herman Funk, deputy constable and former prohibition agent, in Brinton road, Braddock Township, was bombed early this morning, periling himself, wife and three children.

Funk blames racketeers involved in raids he has conducted. The bomb was thrown in a cellar window. The blast demolished the furnace and plumbing, tore through the floor into the living room, ripped doors from several other rooms and shattered all windows in the two-story frame dwelling.

DOGS AWAKEN WOMAN

Mrs. Funk was awakened at about 4:30 this morning by the barking of dogs. She aroused her husband. They, with their 18-month-old daughter, Beverley, were occupying a rear room on the second floor. As he went into the front room, where his other two children, Charles, 10, and Lettie, 12, were sleeping, he heard a crash in the cellar.

Running down the stairs to the front door he saw two men jump into a car and drive away. As he pointed his revolver to fire at them, the explosion shook the house, tearing boards from the floor near where he stood.

LINKS BLAST TO RAIDS

Since leaving the federal prohibition department 15 months ago, Funk has been a deputy constable. He has been conducting raids on liquor establishments and believes, he says, this is the cause of the bombing. He said:

"The racketeers did the bombing because I raided their places. It is not safe to live in Allegheny County if you are honest."

WOMAN, THREE CHILDREN HIT

Four persons, three of them children, were injured when struck by automobiles yesterday.

Charlotte Seifried, 31, of 1310 Diana street, suffered bruises when struck by a truck driven by Leo J. Reagle, 25, of 5302 Clarwyn stretts, police said. She was taken to Presbyterian Hospital.

Suffering lacerations and bruises when struck by an automobile near her home, Elizabeth Kim, 7, of 2321 East street, was treated by a physician. The automobile was said to have been driven by Roy S. Cooper, 30, of Valencia.

Arthur Dunn, 11, of 2911 Glasgow street, was cut and bruised on the face when struck by an automobile while riding a bicycle at Hammond street and Zephyr avenue.

Bernard Cohen, 6, of 307 Dinwiddie street, was treated at Passavant Hospital for bruises suffered when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home. He was taken home.

CITY'S HORSES IN EXHIBIT

The first annual horse show and inspection of city horses and equipment will be held tomorrow afternoon at Schenley Oval. The event replaces the city's entry in the workhorse parade, eliminated this year.

There will be prizes for the two winning drivers in each department. Besides these awards, there will be a blue ribbon and a red rosette for the two officers riding the winners in the Black Squad, the compliments of Edgar and Oliver Kaufmann. The best police rider will also receive a prize.

William McGonigle, Thomas Brierly and James Nolton will judge the workhorses. Police horses will be judged by George R. McNary, of Greensburg; R. T. M. McCready, of Sewickley, and Charles Scully. Fred Burgett will be in charge of the judging ring.

TRUCE ON CHACO BELIEVED NEAR

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—A belief that a truce between Paraguay and Bolivia in the quarrel over the Gran Chaco is near was expressed semi-officially today.

The truce, it was said, would be pending new negotiations for a complete settlement of the controversy which already has been the subject of intervention by the League of Nations and a group of 19 western hemisphere nations, including the United States.

Foreign Minister Ssavedra Lamas, of Argentina, said that while Argentina was ready to proclaim neutrality if hostilities began, he was certain it would not be necessary.

A report to La Nacion, however, from its correspondent at Quiaca, a few miles from the border, said another armed clash had occurred in the disputed area.

TOWN HALL FEE PARLEY SET

Prothonotary John Vogt has fixed August 15 for the arbiters meeting in the suit of Alderman John J. Verona, against the Schenley Farms Corporation for a commission of $150,000 for the sale of the proposed town hall site to the county. The arbiters are Attorneys Wilbur L. Austen and William B. Secrist and Harry E. Leety of the Fidelity Title & Trust Company.

Judge Thomas M. Marshall Tuesday directed Vogt issue a writ of mandamus on the Commissioners, County Controller and County Treasurer, ordering them to carry out the provisions of the contract for the purchase of the Oakland site. The writ was made returnable August 22.

Democrats to Aid Campaign With Sale of Soap

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 5.—AP.)—A plan to "clean up America with Democratic soap" was announced today by Tyre C. Taylor, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

Soap wrapped in red, white and blue wrappers will be sold throughout the country, Taylor said, and four of the 10 cents charged for each bar will be turned into the Democratic treasury. Locally-manufactured soap will be used wherever possible.

Each bar of soap will be stamped "Democratic Soap—Let's Clean Up America."

Man Found Stabbed Refuses to Explain

Found staggering in Fifth avenue at Grant street early today, Elijha James, 26, a Negro, of 1215 Wylie avenue, was taken to the Allegheny General Hospital, where it was found he had stab wounds in the head and arm. After being treated at the hospital he was taken home. He refused to explain how he had been injured.

HOLDUP STORY BRINGS ARREST

Investigation of the "credentials" of John H. Williams, 30, of 913 Locust street, North Braddock, when he reported to McKeesport police he was held by two armed men in the McKeesport-East Pittsburgh boulevard and robbed of $19 shortly before last midnight, resulted in his arrest on a larceny charge, police said.

He was arrested by McKeesport police at the request of North Braddock officials after, police said, he identified himself as a North Braddock policeman. Lieut. James Kelly, of North Braddock, said Williams, formerly employed as an extra policeman at the Meyer Bowl, is wanted on a larceny charge.

CANAL BACKERS PROTEST U. S. OPPOSITION

The negative report of federal engineers on the proposed canalization of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Rivers has spurred shippers and large business interests in Pittsburgh and Youngstown into activity. It is feared that this report might have an adverse effect on the proposed $100,000,000 Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal.

Col. George R. Spalding, United States Army division engineer in charge of the Upper Mississippi Valley, announced late yesterday that the federal engineers who had completed a two-year survey of the proposed canalization of the three rivers, had reported against the projects involved. Backers of the proposal canal will hold a conference as soon as copies of the engineers' complete report is available.

SURVEY LIMITED

Alexander W. Dann, chairman of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal board, said that the report of the engineers does not cover the entire canal project from Astabula, O., on the lake to the mouth of the Beaver River. He said that the report is for the division engineers while the entire canal project is before the United States Board of Rivers and Harbors at Washington.

Col. Spalding stated that the principal grounds upon which the adverse conclusions are based are that the unfavorable characteristics of the upper Beaver, Shenango and Mahoning rivers impose such physical limitations upon their improvement that the resulting waterway system would be inadequate to carry sufficient commerce in a manner to make the savings necessary to justify the large capital outlay and operating costs involved.

WATER SUPPLY PROBLEM

He said the unfavorable characteristics include restricted widths due to concentration of rail facilities and encroachment of industry; meager water supply and the complexity and magnitude of necessary bridge alterations.

The question of meager water supply was taken up by George M. Lehman, engineer for the canal board, who pointed out that this did not apply to the through canal project connecting the Ohio River with the lakes. Water for the later, he said, would be easily obtainable from the Pymatuning dam and reservoir, now being constructed.

SIEGE LIFTED, MINE DESERTED

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—The Dixie Bee coal mine, scene of a two-day siege by union pickets, during which one man was killed and eight wounded, was quiet and almost deserted today.

The more than 800 members of the Indiana National Guard whose mobilization at the State Teachers' College here caused the pickets to release 65 nonunion workmen imprisoned at the mine, were gone, most of them returned to their homes.

A provisional battalion was sent to barracks at Shakamak State Park, in Sullivan County, the heart of the mine region, where it will be readily available should further disorder occur.

Exhausted Marcher Picked Up in Road

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Harry Nickerson, 39, of Madisonville, Ky., a former marine, bonus marcher on his way home from Johnstown, Pa., was found exhausted by a motorist along the road near here last night.

Nickerson was found to be ill of an old abdominal operation, the wound of which was not healed. He said his wife is dead and he has two children.

PAUL RICHARDSON, 5

'Whistle in Nose' Championship Proves Costly

Paul won.

Paul, who has not yet seen his sixth birthday, and some other very young gentlemen were discussing this and that on the front porch of his home at 2712 Charles street, North Side, when, out of a clear sky, Paul offered to wager one and all that he could hold a small whistle in his nose for two hours.

Three hours later the whistle was removed by a downtown specialist, to whom Paul had been taken from the Presbyterian Hospital.

His mother, Mrs. Marguerite Richardson, reported that the young champion whistle-in-the-nose holder was resting on his laurels today, more or less retired.

2 WEEKS' FIGHT ON FIRE SEEN

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Fire today still gnawed at the charred ruins, on the Chicago River, of a grain elevator and a meat packing establishment, reduced to heaps of debris overnight by flames that caused serious injuries to one fireman. One hundred firemen and employes were overcome or slightly hurt in fighting the blaze.

The blaze wrought damage estimated by company officials at $6,000,000, by fire chiefs at $7,250,000. Firemen expected a fortnight's struggle to subdue the smouldering flames in the grain storage bins.

The Quincy grain elevator, 60 years old, containing 871,000 bushels of grain, mostly wheat, and the plant of the Omaha Packing Company, with all its stores of livestock and meats, were wiped out despite the efforts of 700 firemen and three fireboats.

2 Men Executed For Killing Farmer

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Two Negroes, John L. Green, 20, and Ernest Johnson, 18, were electrocuted in the state prison here early today for the murder of Frank Kempf, Medina County white dairyman, who was beaten and robbed.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Several persons were killed today when a tornado swept a wide area 30 miles north of Helsingfors. Property damage was estimated at $1,000,000.

WILL BANS GANNA WALSKA

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Alexander Smith Cochran, carpet manufacturer, philanthropist and yachtsman, who died June 20, 1929, at Saranac Lake, N. Y., left a net estate of $38,977,237, a transfer tax appraisal today disclosed.

Most of the estate was left to relatives, and the philanthropist left specific directions in his will that his former wife, now Ganna Walska McCormick, "shall not share in any part of my estate."

Another paragraph in his will directed that in the event he should have failed to dispose of any property and "the said Ganna Walska McCormick would by reason of such failure be entitled to share therein, then I hereby expressly give, devise and bequeath such property or interest thereon to my next of kin according to the statutes of distribution of the State of New York."

The largest part of the estate, approximately $20,000,000, was left to a nephew, Thomas Ewing, Jr. Cochrane's three sisters and two brothers each received $1,000,000 and each of 16 nieces and nephews received $500,000.

CARLSBAD, Germany, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Mayor Anton Cermak, of Chicago, arrived here last night on vacation.

Troops Help Catch Truant Buffalo

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Mounted men of the Wilkes-Barre police force and the 109th Field Artillery went buffalo hunting yesterday in Kirby Park.

A 1,900-pound buffalo stampeded through a cyclone fence at the city zoo and raced over the park. He was allowed to tire himself out before he was goaded and guided back to his pen.

Twelve New Cases Quarantined by City

The City Department of Health today reports these new cases in quarantine: Scarlet fever, 1; measles, 1; whooping cough, 5, and pneumonia, 5.

GARBO TO DODGE FETE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Elaborate plans made by Greta Garbo to escape a reception scheduled for her arrival in Sweden on Monday were revealed to International News Service today.

The famous film star, it was learned, intends to sidestep the reception, and, with this aim in view, has made preparations by wireless to disembark from the liner Gripsholm before it reaches Gothenburg and flee northward as speedily as possible.

When the Gripsholm is one hour out from Gothenburg, the actress will be met by a fast motor launch and taken at full speed to an isolated point on the Swedish coast.

There a high-powered automobile will be waiting to take her to Varnnand, where she will remain for a fortnight as the guest of Mini Potllack, noted Swedish actress and a close friend of Garbo.

At the end of two weeks, it was learned, Garbo plans to come to Stockholm for an official reception.

Scores of newspapermen are trekking to Gothenburg, planning to charter motorboats and meet the Gripsholm at sea before Garbo disembarks.

We hope to have enough to last tomorrow!

Prudence Penny's Recipes

CREAM OF CABBAGE SOUP—2 cups chopped cabbage, 1 slice onion, 2 cups water, 3 cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, salt, pepper. Cook the finely chopped cabbage and onion in the water for 10 minutes. Add the milk and when hot stir in the butter and flour which have been blended together. Cook until slightly thickened, and season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with paprika just before serving. The recipe serves 4 or 5 persons.

* * *

CRAB, LOUISIANA—1 small onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 4 medium-sized tomatoes, 1 cup water, ½ green pepper, chopped, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper, cayenne, 1 can crabmeat.

Chop the onion fine and simmer it in the butter for a few minutes. Stir in the flour and let it brown lightly. Add the tomatoes, peeled and cut in small pieces, the water, green pepper, and chopped parsley. Season highly with the Worcestershire sauce, salt, black pepper, and cayenne. Add the crabmeat and simmer for 20 minutes.

* * *

CORN BREAD—1¼ cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ teaspoon soda, 2 eggs, well beaten; 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup yellow corn meal, 3 tablespoons shortening, melted; 1¼ cups sour milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, soda and sugar, and sift again. Add corn meal. Combine milk and eggs. Add to dry ingredients, mixing well. Bake in greased shallow pan in 425-degree oven for 40 minutes or until done.

* * *

PIMIENTO SCRAMBLE—5 eggs, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 two-ounce jar pimientoes, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons butter.

Beat eggs slightly with fork; add salt, pepper and milk. Heat pan, put in butter, and when melted turn in the mixture. As the eggs begin to cook, add the chopped pimientoes. Cook until of creamy consistency, stirring constantly and scraping from the pan.

* * *

DUTCH PLUM CAKE—2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, ⅓ cup shortening, 1 egg, about ⅔ cup milk, fresh plums, sugar, cinnamon, butter.

Mix and sift the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in the shortening, and add the beaten egg and enough milk to make a soft dough. Spread the dough in a greased baking pan and cover with a layer of plums which have been stoned and cut in quarters. Sprinkle the plums with sugar and a little cinnamon, and dot with bits of butter. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes. Serve hot, with or without cream.

* * *

SHRIMP PIE—1 small onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 slices stale bread, ½ green pepper, No. 2 can tomatoes, 2 cans shrimps, salt, pepper, 2 hard-cooked eggs, buttered crumbs.

Chop the onion and green pepper and cook in the butter until lightly browned. Break the bread into small pieces, mix with the tomatoes, and add to the onion mixture. Add the shrimps, season with salt and pepper, and simmer for 20 minutes. Add the chopped eggs, turn into a buttered baking dish, and cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven until the crumbs are

BETTER BECAUSE THEY'RE OVEN-BAKED

Now Heinz offers you more baked beans for your money! It's the biggest value in Heinz history. In these new bigger cans there's a whole heaping helping more than you used to get!

What's more—Heinz offers you better baked beans—America's very finest baked beans. Beans that are really baked—in real ovens. Most so-called baked beans aren't baked at all. They're steamed or boiled. And what a difference baking makes!

Oven-baking makes Heinz Beans marvelously light—tender—more digestible. It lets the savory flavor of that famous Heinz tomato sauce penetrate through and through.

Take advantage of Heinz's bigger values—revel in these best of all baked beans! Stock up this very day. Your grocer has them.

4 KINDS... all in bigger cans!

1. Heinz Oven-Baked Beans with Tomato Sauce and Pork—plump, luscious fellows that will make any husband hurry home for supper!...
2. "Vegetarian" Style in Tomato Sauce, without Pork—rich, savory and downright delicious!...
3. Boston Style—with Pork—the kind of beans that makes New Englanders pray for Saturday night!...

Prudence Penny's Recipes

brown. The recipe makes 4 or 5 servings.

* * *

MOCHA MOUSSE—1 teaspoon gelatin, 1 tablespoon cold water, 1 cup double-strength coffee, ½ cup sugar, pinch salt, 1 cup cream or evaporated milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Soften the gelatin in cold water and dissolve it in the hot coffee. Add the sugar and salt, and chill. Fold in the cream or evaporated milk, which has been whipped. (To prepare evaporated milk for whipping, scald it and then chill thoroughly. It must be very cold.) Add the vanilla to the mousse mixture, turn it into the freezing tray of a mechanical refrigerator or pack in ice and salt, and let stand until frozen. The recipe makes four or five servings.

* * *

CRABMEAT, MORNAY—1 can crabmeat, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups milk, 1 cup grated cheese, salt, pepper

Flake the crabmeat. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour and milk. Stir in the grated cheese, and season with salt and pepper. Turn into a shallow baking dish and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit) until browned. The recipe makes four servings.

* * *

SWEETBREAD AND CELERY SALAD—Cut 1 pair sweetbreads which have been parboiled and blanched into small dice and add half as much diced celery. To prepare sweetbreads simmer for 20 minutes in water to which 1 tablespoon vinegar has been added for each quart. Marinate in a cold place in French dressing until needed. Mix with mayonnaise dressing. Serve in a cup of crisp lettuce leaves and garnish with slices of sweetbreads coated with jellied mayonnaise.

* * *

JELLIED MAYONNAISE—Soak 1 teaspoon gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes; dissolve over hot water. Beat into 1 cup mayonnaise. Before it hardens spread over the slices of sweetbreads. This recipe will serve six.

* * *

TONGUE AND SPINACH—Cook 1 peck spinach until tender, drain and press out liquor thoroughly. Water should not be added to spinach when cooking, as that which clings to the leaves will be sufficient. Season with salt, pepper, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and ½ teaspoon onion juice. Pack in small timbale molds and chill. Mask each slice of tongue with jellied mayonnaise just before it gets firm and chill. Unmold the spinach to the center of a platter. Top each spinach mold with a mayonnaise rose made with a pastry tube. Arrange slices of tongue around spinach molds.

* * *

VEAL OR PORK SALAD—Cut cold roast veal or cold roast pork into match-like strips, about 1½ inches long. Add one-half the quantity of crisp celery cut into thin rings. Marinate with French dressing in a cold place. When ready to serve mix thoroughly with mayonnaise. Season with salt, pepper and paprika. Pile lightly in crisp lettuce cups and place in the center of a large platter. Garnish the platter with slices of pineapple which have been sprinkled with riced cream cheese.

* * *

FRUITY-CAKE COOKIES—2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup rolled oats, ¾ cup shredded cocoanut, ¾ cup pasteurized dates (sliced), ½ cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, ⅓ cup milk.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Add rolled oats and cocoanut. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, then the well-beaten egg and sliced dates. Add flour mixture alternately with milk. Drop from a teaspoon on a greased pan about two inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven (275 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 to 15 minutes. Thirty cookies.

Stuffed dates are always a welcome gift. To pack them you can buy inexpensive glass boxes which later may be usde for powder, cigarets or bon bons.

Candy is acceptable in almost any receptacle, even a plain box, especially if it be creamy date Creole Roll. But if you want to be thought a "smart person" pack it in one of those little cardboard stocking boxes. Line the compartments with tissue, with festive "snipped ends."

* * *

SAND TARTS—One cup butter, 2 cups light brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup milk; 3½ cups self-rising flour; 6 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, ½ cup finely chopped nuts.

Cream butter and brown sugar together thoroughly, add egg yolks and beat; add vanilla and milk, add flour to make a soft dough. Roll thin and cut with a small cutter. Place on a greased baking sheet and brush tops with the egg whites slightly beaten and mixed with six tablespoons sugar, the cinnamon and nuts. The cookies should be placed at least an inch apart on the baking sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven for 10 minutes.

* * *

CHOCOLATE CRISPIES—Two squares unsweetened chocolate, ½ cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, unbeaten, ½ cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup nut meats, chopped.

To the melted chocolate add butter, sugar, eggs, flour and vanilla and beat well. Spread mixture on baking sheet, 12x16 inches, sprinkle with nuts. Bake in 400-degree oven for 15 minutes. While warm, cut with cooky cutter or make in two-inch squares. Cool and separate. Makes 48 crispies.

* * *

PORTO RICOS—On one slice of white bread, put mayonnaise. On a second slice put a slice of canned pineapple (drained) and on the pineapple lay strips of canned pimiento. Press slices of bread together. (In making a quantity of sandwiches, remember that one No. 2 can pineapple and one 7-ounce can pimientoes will make 16 sandwiches.)

* * *

BROWN BEAUTIES—This is that school box favorite, so popular with children. Spread brown or graham bread with butter. Then spread one slice with cottage or cream cheese. Press sliced pasteurized dates into the cheese and put on "the lid." One package of cream cheese and ½ package of dates will make 12 sandwiches.

* * *

ORANGE COCOANUT TOAST—Toast bread on both sides, butter and spread with Orange Cocoanut Spread. Then return to toaster to melt mixture and brown cocoanut. For 12 rectangles of toast, mix the following amount of spread: 2 tablespoons orange

If You Want Girls You'll Have to Call Them Up

Why can't Sam find a girl friend?

He can't, and when he sees other guys "roaming in the gloaming with their sweeties by their sides" he is absolutely sunk.

"I just can't figure it out!" he groans. "But girls just don't seem to like me!"

And is he doing anything about it? Is he using his head and trying to figure out what's haywire?

Nope. Not him. He's just slumping around, convinced that he's being picked on by a tragic fate.

SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE

Miss Martin:

I have been reading your articles giving people advice, and they seem to unravel a lot of things, so now I am thinking that perhaps you can help me as well as other folks. I hope you can, because I am very unhappy.

I am a young man of 30. I am not good looking, but passable. And here is the big trouble.

I have been trying for the last 10 years to find some nice girl who will go with me, and maybe learn to love me some day, but it seems impossible.

They all seem to snub me. Why, I can't seem to find out. Once in a while I meet some girl I know on the street and stop to talk to her and ask her for a date. Well, here's what they all say to me: "All right, I'll call you up some night." But that night never comes.

When this happens I think that there is no one who was meant for me, and I get very disgusted and miserable. Of course, I can't compel anyone to go with me, but I wish they would give me a break, anyway. I can't dance, but I like other ways of having fun—shows and things like that. It's getting so it seems as if I'll never get anywhere in this world.

TERRIBLE FEELING

Gee! If only I could find some nice girl who would go out with me life would be worth living. Sometimes I go places and see other fellows with their girls and it makes me feel terrible. Sometimes I wonder why I was ever born, when the breaks are all against me. But what can I do? Nothing, of course.

Please help me. I feel so unwanted and lonesome that it is driving me crazy. What is wrong? SAM.

What is wrong?

Well, you haven't told me much about yourself, son, so I can't say for sure, but I can give a good guess. You say, "What can I do?" and then answer yourself, "Nothing, of course!" Does that give you a picture of anything? It should!

GO AFTER LIFE

You think those other fellows find love and life and happiness because "the breaks" are in their favor, and that you don't because "the breaks" are against you. Well, you're mistaken. Those fellows find life because they go after it. They don't sit down and wait for life to happen to them. The don't wait for girls to call them up. They step on the starter and get going after what they want.

And that go-get-'em attitude is what the girls admire in a man, and it is what they should admire. Why did life put the need of a man in the heart of a woman? So she could find a strong husband for herself and a strong father for her children. A husband or father who isn't strong is worse than none at all. So women instinctively look for strength and despise weakness.

How can you make girls like you? That's how. By asserting yourself and building up courage and confidence in yourself which you can assert. If you want the breaks, make 'em, son.

Man Who Marries for Riches Makes Great Mistake, Says Fay King

By FAY KING

The young man who turns from the girl he really loves to marry a rich one makes a great mistake.

It is a great temptation to a young man to discover a rich girl loves him and he can win her.

But the more real merit he has the more he will resent the obligations to an advantageous marriage.

Men don't like to feel that they owe their success to any woman, and how much worse if her wealth and connections undeniably indicate this.

It often creates an inferiority complex which stifles his ambition and abilities.

Better to marry the girl who brings you only love and great faith in your future and who will be the beloved responsibilty that inspires you onward.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Trachoma Is a Highly Contagious Disease

Stubborn inflammation of the the eyelids, usually spoken of as "granulated eyelids," is not at all uncommon, and there is one form of this disorder, called "trachoma," which is contagious.

Dr. Copeland

Trachoma is found in persons dwelling under unsanitary conditions. It is prevalent in China, Japan, Egypt and Russia, is seen in southern parts of this country, and is very common among American Indians. Since the disease is highly contagious, all immigrants are carefully examined for it before they are permitted to enter this country.

Trachoma begins with a mild itching and burning of the eyes. The eyes water and the afflicted person believes there is some foreign substance in the eye. Indeed in many cases the disturbance follows exposure to dust, sand or wind. As the disease progresses the eyelids become red and thickened. Sunshine, bright lights and exposure to wind produce intense pain.

If the condition is not treated a cloudiness forms over the eyeball that interferes with the vision. Scars that form on the inner edge of the lids pull the edges of the lids inward and cause the eyelashes to rub and scratch the eyeball. This is extremely painful.

Infection is quickly spread from one individual to another, carried on fingers, handkerchiefs or towels, or by direct contact with discharges from an infected eye. Persons suffering from trachoma must protect others by being extremely careful about the discharges from their eyes, and they should sleep alone.

Bed clothing and linens used by infected persons should be kept separately and thoroughly sterilized before being used by other members of the family. A safe plan is to burn or boil all handkerchiefs and all linens that have been used on infected eyes. Children afflicted with trachoma should not be permitted to attend school until cured.

Too often the symptoms of trachoma are looked upon merely as due to a passing irritation or cold, and although home remedies fail, medical advice is delayed until the disease has reached a serious stage. This is too bad, because many cases of neglected trachoma result in partial or complete blindness.

If you have granulated eyelids or chronic sore eyes, consult with your physician. Bear in mind that neglect is dangerous, and that trachoma can be cured only by persistent and faithful medical attention.

Contract Bridge

HOW TO PLAY and HOW TO WIN

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

Developing a Side Suit

There is a tendency, apparent in a great deal of bridge literature, to treat the game as one of the utmost simplicity. Writers feel that they can deal with any one of the main features in a few trenchant and eloquent sentences, and thus they consistently ignore the finer points of the game.

Much of the matter written on the game of bridge is valueless to the great majority of readers, because it is too general. It will deal with such topics, for instance, as "The Approach-Forcing System," "The Play of the Hand," "Opening Bids," or some such general title. All very well in its way, but what would be thought, for instance, of a musical critic who headed his weekly column with such titles as "Grand Opera," "Oratorio," "Wagner," or "Folk-Song?"

This fault of writers was pointed out to me by Mr. A. G. Figgins, of London, who submitted the hand below, which he played recently. The success of the hand, which had been overbid due to an unwise raise, depended on making use of a side suit, while opposing trumps were still undrawn, a situation in which the side suit is frequently a two-edged sword, and which therefore requires delicacy of treatment.

South—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠ 7 6 ♡ A 6 5 4 3 ◇ K 8 6 ♣ K 7 5
♠ K Q J 9 ♡ Q J 10 9 ◇ Q 7 ♣ Q 8 6	North West East South	♠ 8 ♡ 8 2 ◇ J 10 4 3 2 ♣ J 10 4 3 2
	♠ A 10 5 4 3 2 ♡ K 7 ◇ A 9 5 ♣ A 9

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2♠ (1)	Pass
4♠ (2)	Double (3)	Pass	Pass
Redouble (4)	Pass	Pass	Pass

(1) A most unwise raise. Adequate trump support is always required. The correct response is two hearts.

(2) With a six-card trump suit, and 3½ honor-tricks in his hand, South, assured of the adequate trump support, is probably justified in bidding for game.

(3) With three apparently sure trump tricks and queens in all the other suits, West's double is perhaps justified.

(4) The redouble is almost a matter of course. South does not realize the unsound nature of North's raise.

West opened the heart queen, and when the dummy went down Mr. Figgins was rather nonplussed. Taking stock of the situation, it was apparent to him that West must hold at least 3 trump tricks to justify his double. If the contract were to succeed, he must therefore lose no trick in any other suit.

The losing diamond presented a problem of which the long heart suit in dummy seemed to furnish the only possible solution. Accordingly, he took the first trick with the king of hearts, and immediately led the suit again, winning the second trick with the ace and leading a third round of hearts from the dummy. East's discard of a club on this round was not entirely unexpected, as West had probably led from a four-card suit.

South ruffed, and re-entered dummy with the club king and led another round of hearts, East, with the praiseworthy motive of forcing a high trump from the declarer, played the spade 8. South overruffed with the 10 and re-entered dummy by leading a small diamond to the king, then led the last heart, upon which he discarded his losing diamond.

West, of course, trumped, but 3 trump tricks were all that he was able to make, and Mr. Figgins made his redoubled contract—a result brought about by a correct realization of the necessity of finding a discard for his losing diamond.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Mrs. Culbertson will be glad to answer any specific question on bidding or play sent in by readers. Address her in care of this newspaper, inclosing a three-cent stamped self-addressed envelope.

Today's Question

South is Dealer.
The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	?

What should North bid, holding:

♠ K J 8 6 2 ♡ A 2 ◇ 5 ♣ Q J 10 4 3

Answer—Three spades. Although this hand contains but 2½ honor-tricks, the distribution plus the fact that North is sure of a fit in either spades or clubs, and probably both, due to partner's no-trump bid, justify the forcing bid. In addition, a no-trump bid is less liable to contain a free rebid if partner does not force more than a bid of one of a suit.

Household Hints

Tea is improved in flavor if a small piece of dried orange rind is kept in the caddy.

If the cover of a knife-board wears out, a piece of linoleum may be used to replace it.

A clean whisk broom is a splendid article with which to sprinkle clothes. Dip it in warm water and then shake over the articles.

Add a few drops of olive oil to the water when washing chamois leather gloves and they will not become hard or stiff. The oil preserves the leather.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Table Manners

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

At home we have been discussing table manners. There are two questions I would like very much to have you answer.

1. Should the daughter of the house, a girl of 17 or so, remain standing behind her chair until her father is seated; should he hold her chair for her; or should they both be seated without further ceremony when they are both in the dining room?

2. Should the hands be allowed to remain in the lap; should they be kept with just the finger tips on the edge of the table; or should they rest unobtrusively on the table?

Both of these requests are in respect to just every night informal family meals.

E. J. M.

1. The girl of 17 should remain standing until her mother is seated, or until women guests are seated, but not until her father is seated. After the father has held the mother's chair until she is seated, it is polite and courtly for him to hold his daughter's chair. (Of course if there are women guests, he will hold their chairs.) I am most enthusiastic about these courtesies and amenities in the family . . . very few things in life are more important than the day-by-day courtesies between members of a family. They leave the indelible impression on our manners that "jells" into social accustomedness . . . knowing what is the kind thing to do, and doing it.

2. The hands had best be kept in the lap when we are not eating.

Ice Cream Is Wholesome and Easily Digested Food

This tasty dish is universally used in the diet of patients convalescing from severe operations.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York,
Former Health Commissioner of New York City.

For a long, long time ice cream has been a favorite dish. It is only within recent years that it has been accepted as a nutritious and healthful food. It is hard to believe it was ever looked upon as a harmful food and believed to be the cause of many digestive disturbances.

All the food authorities agree there is no harm in the eating of ice cream. It is regarded as a wholesome and easily digested food. It is universally used in the diet of patients convalescing from severe operations. It is regarded as of particular value as a food in high fever. If you ever had your tonsils removed you will appreciate the soothing and refreshing effect of ice cream.

There are many children who refuse to drink milk, but there are indeed few who would set aside a dish of tempting ice cream. Its use is a desirable method of giving milk to children. It is valuable, too, for active children because it supplies energy. Its carbohydrates are important for persons of any age.

FORMERLY CONDEMNED

In olden times, ice cream was condemned because it was believed its coldness was "harmful to the lining of the stomach." Fortunately, the antiquated and imaginary danger of "freezing the stomach" with ice cream has been discarded. It has no irritating effect upon the lining of the stomach. On the contrary it has been used successfully in the diet of many individuals suffering from ulcer of the stomach.

The chief ingredients of ice cream are cream; dried, evaporated, or unsweetened condensed milk; liquid milk, sugar and flavors. French ice cream is made by adding eggs to the mixture which is cooked before freezing. This is really a frozen custard.

Pasteurized milk is used by most manufacturers of ice cream. Rigid inspection and supervision by public health officials insure the consumer a healthful and wholesome product.

VITAMINS SAVED

The nutritive value of ice cream is increased when fresh fruits are added. Vitamin C is found in such fruits and it makes a valuable addition to the diet. Though this important vitamin is easily destroyed by the heat of cooking, freezing has no ill effect. Ice cream also contains vitamins A and B, which are found in the milk and cream used in the making of it.

Ice cream may be served between meals without fear of causing indigestion or interfering with the appetite. A recent series of experiments was conducted with a group of underweight children. It was found that when these children were given a large portion of ice cream as a part of their mid-day meal, marked improvement occurred. The children were benefited physically and mentally.

There can be no doubt that ice cream deserves its popularity. Made of good materials and properly served, it is an ideal food.

TOASTER MUSHROOM DELIGHTS—1 loaf white bread, ½ pound fresh mushrooms, 1 3½-ounce can pimientoes, ⅛ pound butter, 1 small slice onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, cayenne.

Wash mushrooms, drain the liquid from the can of pimientoes. Chop mushrooms, pimientoes and onion. Melt butter in a small saucepan; add the chopped mixture; cook over a low flame until mushrooms are tender. Stir occasionally. Sprinkle flour over the surface of the mushrooms and stir until the mixture thickens. Season to taste with salt and cayenne. Cool. Trim crusts from bread and cut into thin slices. Spread lightly with soft butter. Cover half the slices with the mushroom filling. Put together in pairs and toast. Cut sandwiches into inch wide strips and serve piping hot with a beverage. Three dozen sandwiches.

SWEET ROLLS
1 cake compressed yeast,
½ cup lukewarm water,
1 quart milk, scalded and cooled to luke warm.
1 cup mashed potatoes.
1 cup sugar.
1 cup butter or other shortening.
3½ quarts (approx.) sifted flour.
2 teaspoons double action baking powder.
1 teaspoon soda.
1¼ teaspoons salt.

Combine yeast and water and stir until smooth. Add milk, potatoes, sugar and shortening. Sift 1 quart of flour with baking powder, soda and salt and add to yeast mixture. Cover and let rise in warm place about 1 hour or until bubbles form. Add remaining flour until stiff dough is formed. Knead until smooth. Keep closely covered with a damp cloth and waxed paper. Store over night, or longer, if desired. Will keep four days. When needed, take out desired amount of dough and shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Place in greased pans, brush tops of rolls with melted butter, and let rise in warm place 1 hour, or until about doubled in bulk. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes five dozen small rolls.

This is a rather sweet dough and may be used in making tea rings, sweet rolls, etc.

PUFF PASTE
2 cups sifted flour.
2 tablespoons lard.
⅓ cup butter.
1 teaspoon salt.
Ice water.

Chill all ingredients and utensils thoroughly. Cut lard into flour, then add just enough ice water to hold dough together. Place the dough on a lightly floured board and roll out. Dot with small pieces of butter, fold the two sides to the center, then fold at center, so that there are four layers, then roll out. Dot with butter again, fold and roll. Continue in this way until all butter has been used. Chill 24 hours before baking.

BUTTERSCOTCH COOKIES
1½ cups butter
2 cups brown sugar,
3 cups flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
2 eggs.

Cream butter, add sugar and well beaten eggs. Mix well. Add flour and baking powder sifted together. Mix to a dough. Shape in rolls, wrap in waxed paper and store in refrigerator. Slice thin and bake on a floured cookie sheet in a hot oven. (375 degrees.)

Flowers that Kill
All Flies or Mosquitoes with a
Perfumed Mist

Some years ago it was discovered that a certain field flower grown in Japan drove away winged insects. A shipment was sent to America for testing in a research laboratory. Here an extract was made from the flowers and sprayed in a closed room filled with flies and mosquitoes. Every insect perished at its touch.

Now that extract is the basis of Fly-Tox, developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. Ten years and over $100,000 have been spent by us in perfecting it. This Fly-Tox, used as directed, fills the room with a perfumed mist, at a cost of only 1 or 2 cents. That mist is harmless to people, stainless to anything. But every fly or mosquito that it touches dies at once. And they can't escape it when the room is filled.

These pests are deadly, for they carry the germs of over 30 diseases. They deposit those germs on foods or in blood streams. Many thousands of children die every year from this cause. Fly-Tox rightly used, frees your home and keeps it free, in an easy, certain, economical way.

Think what that means to you and yours.

FLY-TOX ONLY
A Rex Research Product

Use Fly-Tox only, and always in a new-type Fly-Tox sprayer. Every lot is tested on flies in our laboratory. The efficiency is guaranteed. The odor is pleasant, the extra strength makes it very economical. Use it because nothing is too good for the safety of your home. Go get it today—it's sold everywhere. Harmless to people. Stainless. Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Conner, of Rochester, Minn., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Charlotte Conner, to Dr. James Stuart McQuiston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. McQuiston, of Pittsburgh, which was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of the bride's parents. Officiating was the Rev. B. C. Gillis, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Western Marriage

The ceremony took place in the drawing room before an embankment of ferns, palms, rubrum, white lilies and tall cathedral tapers in candelabra. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory lace, with a veil of tulle, caught with orange blossoms. She carried Ophelia roses and white sweet peas. Mrs. Harold C. Ochsner, of Indianapolis, Ind., was her sister's matron of honor, and Dr. Ray Quade served as best man. After the wedding dinner Dr. and Mrs. McQuiston left on a northern motor trip and will be at home in Rochester.

40-8 PREPARES FOR CONVENTION

The Society of the 40 and 8 and its auxiliary, the fun organizations of the American Legion, in two meetings last night discussed the part they will play in the state legion convention to be held here, August 17 and 20.

Officers of Allegheny County Voiture No. 5 met at 2210 Jane street and planned for the grand promenade. The Allegheny County Salon No. 174, the auxiliary, held a meeting in the home of Miss Bess I. Franz, 540 McClintock street, North Side. Members of the auxiliary will be hostesses to the convention guests. Miss Franz is president of the auxiliary.

The state convention will be brought to a close with an outing in Kennywood Park, to be held August 24, at which time "Miss Pittsburgh" will be selected in a beauty contest. The girl chosen here will represent this city in a national pageant to be held in Wildwood, N. J., next month.

FIREMEN SEEK DRY REPEAL

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Characterizing the Volstead act as the "most universally despised and violated" law in the nation, representatives of 35,000 firemen adopted a resolution urging immediate repeal as the convention of the International Association of Firefighters neared an end.

The resolution asserted the Eighteenth Amendment has "brought about the general disrespect for all laws."

It was presented by Abraham Rosenbergh, New York, secretary of the resolutions committee.

The only opposition was voiced by J. F. Watkins, of Birmingham, Ala., who declared prohibition was not a question for consideration by the firemen "because of its political aspects."

INTEREST IN BEIGE TINTS REVIVED BY NEW CREATIONS

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Beige, as an afternoon and evening color, is staging a Paris come-back. Deserted the last few seasons in favor of brighter hues, beige is now reappearing as a smart color for afternoon dresses to be worn under brown or green coats, for formal suits, for evening frocks and for daytime accessories.

* * *

THE NEW beiges are not, however, the soft wishy-washy tones of yesteryear. Frank gray is preferred to those beiges which are grayed and grayish; the smart new beiges have a dash of yellow in their make-up, or verge on light greenish tones. These are the tints which combine best with the dark green and the warm browns of the coats that are being worn for afternoon, and they are the beiges most flattering to skin tones under night lights.

* * *

CHANEL USES beige to make afternoon clothes of the semi-formal type. She fashions them with elaborate sleeves and with feminine ruffled trimmings—always using, however, shantung, in its practical versions, as the fabric.

* * *

THE DRESS at the right in today's sketch is one of the new Chanel afternoon frocks. It is worn with a little sleeveless bolero of the same fabric one which is collarless and fits smoothly under the collar of the dress. Brass buttons are lined down the front and there is a metal belt.

* * *

PALE BLUE, probably second only to beige as the present favorite among afternoon colors, is the tint of the Maggy-Rouff afternoon dress sketched. In spite of its simple cut, it manages to get graceful fullness into the skirt and sleeves and has its scarf neckline held in place by one of the Maggy-Rouff bird-head pins.

Women's Alliance Holds Series of Porch Parties During Summer

By MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG.

Members of the Women's Alliance of the First Unitarian Church are constantly on the go during the summer, but those who remain in town always have the delightful Alliance porch parties as a means of keeping in touch with each other. For years these affairs have been the only official activity of the Alliance during the warm weather.

A buffet luncheon is served, each woman bringing some contribution to the menu and after luncheon there are cards, or sewing or "just talk." Next week Mrs. H. C. Wilson, of Babcock boulevard, will be hostess at one of the series. Then in a fortnight, Mrs. Roswell H. Johnson will entertain the members at her so aptly named summer home "Sky High," near Bardona.

In September, the dates are the seventh and the twenty-first, with Mrs. George P. Halliwell, of Overdale road, Forest Hills, and Mrs. J. Hartley Anderson, of Fifth avenue, as hostesses.

* * *

The president, Mrs. T. M. Stahlman, and the third vice president, Mrs. S. B. Heppenstall, will serve as hostesses for the Congress of Clubs' second bridge breakfast, on Wednesday. Mrs. H. D. Stark and Mrs. W. H. Packer are accepting reservations for the affair and Mrs. H. M. Irons is general chairman.

Second Affair

Miss Gertrude Gordon, a member of the Women's Press Club, who is living now in New York, is expected in Pittsburgh on Sunday for a week's visit. She will be the guest of Miss Antoinette Moran, of Chislett street.

Members of Argyle Lodge, No. 48, Daughters of Scotia, will have a card party in Moose Temple, Saturday evening, August 13.

Mosaic Chapter, No. 50, Order of the Eastern Star, has planned a card party for Wednesday evening in Malta Temple, North Side, in charge of Mrs. Evelyn McPherson.

Thursday afternoon, November 3, is the date set for the annual president's reception at the Twentieth Century Club. Mrs. Charles S. Shoemaker, beginning her second year, will again be honor guest.

Greek Beauty Says Turkish Rival Won Unfairly

ATHENS, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Greek beauty, which once launched years of war on the windy plains of Troy, may again start another international row.

Miss Hellas, Greece's entry in a recent beauty contest held in Belgium, returned today protesting that the victory of Miss Turkey was partially due to diplomatic intervention.

All of which recalled that the earliest beauty contest on record, in which Paris chose Aphrodite as the winner and which occurred in this neighborhood, also is recorded as not having been on the level.

Flying Boat Hop To London Planned

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Another trans-Atlantic flight was in the offing today with assurances a large flying boat will be ready to leave Lake Minnetonka, near here, August 24, for London by way of Labrador.

Plans call for 22 passengers, a crew of five and two officers to make the trip. Capt. P. J. McCarty, one of the sponsors of the trip, was en route East today to meet Capt. Bernt Balchen, who will pilot the ship.

German Vineyards Ravaged By Storm

BERNCASTLE, Germany, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Half the grape vines in this district, home of the choicest Moselle wines, were destroyed last night by a terrific thunderstorm.

Great masses of mud and rock were swept down the hillsides, burying the fields to a depth of three feet.

Mrs. Ora S. Stone Plans Ocean Voyage

Mrs. Ora Studa Stone and her daughter, Miss Regina Stone, leave Friday, August 12, for New York and sail the following day on the SS. Belgenland for Bermuda and Halifax.

Mrs. X. G. Millinger, of Friendship avenue, has left for a tour of the New England states. In Maine she will visit with her son, the Rev. W. H. Millinger, in York, Me., and will return by motor.

Mrs. Nathaniel Spear, Jr., of Northumberland street, has sailed for Europe and will travel on the continent for several months.

Mrs. Edward E. Eggers, of Termon avenue, is at Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, Atlantic City.

Women's Group Plans Benefit Card Party

It looks like the story of Alice James is to have a happy ending. Alice has been a cripple since childhood, but a little more than a year ago the women of the Twenty-seventh Ward (where she formerly lived) interested themselves in her case and placed her in the Mayo Clinic. All sorts of wonderful operations have been performed. Alice has been placed on her feet, is able to stand, but will have to learn to walk, and this will take time—and money, since she must remain at the clinic a little longer.

To raise that money, the Women's Community Association of the Twenty-seventh Ward will sponsor a benefit party in the parish hall of All Saints Episcopal Church, McClure avenue, on Thursday evening.

Six Saved as Crash Sinks Boat in Bay

BALTIMORE, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Six survivors of the powerboat William Jesser were brought here today by the freighter Armistead which struck the former in Chesapeake Bay last night.

The powerboat sank within five minutes, but the members of the crew saved themselves by climbing the freighter's anchor chains to the deck.

Cholera Death Balks Sailing of Liner

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada, scheduled to sail from here today for Vancouver, was held in quarantine and her departure delayed for from three to five days because a Chinese stoker died of cholera. All the passengers and members of the crew faced examination.

Reds Add Barriers On Canadian Trade

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Russia has decided to tighten her embargo on Canadian trade by boycotting all goods of Canadian origin and by refraining from employing Canadian steamers, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Riga today.

2 New Submarines Join French Navy

PARIS, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Two new submarines had joined the French Navy today, each a 660-ton craft 211 feet long.

They were the Psyche and the Sultane, the former being launched at Havre and the latter at Chalon Sur Saone.

SPORT COMMENT

Grid Season Near.
Coaches Discuss Code.
Rap Fumble Rule.
Chandler Egan Back.
Local Bookies Hit.
Boxing in Olympics.

HOW ABOUT FREEMAN VS. PIRRONE?

FOOTBALL IS JUST around the corner, although we're only two-thirds of the way through the baseball season. In another month the colleges will begin to mobilize their squads and by mid-September the first games will be played.

A NUMBER OF leading coaches, in California for the Olympic Games, got together the other day and discussed the changes in the rules, especially the one that makes a dead ball of all fumbles. Following a long debate, it was decided to recommend to the rules committee that the ball be declared dead only within the territory five yards on either side of the line of scrimmage. Under the change now in the code, the ball is dead if any part of the carrier's body except his feet touches the ground, as in the event of a stumble.

POP WARNER
He dislikes new fumble rule.

Commenting upon this change, Pop Warner, former Pitt coach, now at Stanford, said:

"I don't like it, but I guess we will have to give the rules committee a chance to demonstrate the wisdom of the change."

A. A. STAGG, veteran coach of Chicago, said:

"It is a good rule. Something had to be done to restrict serious injuries."

Hunk Anderson, Notre Dame coach, said:

"The new rule is the bunk. There should have been a zone restriction. It's ridiculous to penalize a man who receives a forward pass in the clear, slips to one knee and gets up and keeps on going."

Bill Alexander, of Georgia Tech, said:

"It's there, so why worry about it?"

JESSE HARPER, Notre Dame athletic director, said: "Guess we'll have to give it a trial." Summed up, the sentiment seemed to be that the rule would not remain long on the books in its present form.

TWO GENERATIONS OF the Egans will compete in the Western amateur golf championship tournament at Rockford, Ill., late this month. They are H. Chandler Egan, one of the heroes of the 1929 national amateur, and his brother, Bradshaw, and his son, Bill. The name of Chandler Egan formerly was one with which to conjure in big league golf. He won the national amateur title in 1904 and 1905, and the Western amateur in 1902, 1904 and 1907. He made a comeback to reach the quarter-finals of the national amateur at Pebble Beach, Cal., in 1929.

SPEAKING OF GOLF, have you noticed the slump in big golfing news since Gene Sarazen added the national open title to his British open crown some weeks ago? Hardly anything of importance has happened among the bigwigs, amateur or professional. However, there will be a revival of interest shortly, with the national amateur scheduled at Baltimore next month.

A LEADING LOCAL bookmaker on the horse races reports that the play nowadays is only about one-third of what it was a year or two ago, and that the bookies are being hard hit with so many favorites going over. Most of the bets are on the favorites, or "hot tips."

JOE ZIVIC, brother of Jack and Pete and Eddie and Fritzie Zivic, all boxers, has not kicked a single decision since he has been a judge at local boxing shows. He doesn't believe in draws, has not voted any, watches the bouts closely, uses common sense, knows how to score and is fearless in his verdicts.

HAS IT OCCURRED to you that out of the maelstrom of flying fists in the Olympic Games boxing tests may come several of the new world champions of the professional ring, at a time when new talent is very much needed to bolster interest in the sport? Fidel LaBarba, winner of the flyweight championship in the 1924 Olympics, went on to win the world title as a professional, as did Frankie Genaro, winner of the same laurels four years before. Anton Kocsis, of Hungary, was the flyweight champion in 1928, and he now is a star boxer in this country. Jackie Fields, a clubmate of LaBarba, won the featherweight title in 1924 and went on to win the world welterweight championship twice and is the present holder of that crown. Eddie Eagan won the light-heavyweight laurels in 1920 and might have gone on to win the world heavyweight championship, but refused to turn professional. Otto Von Porat, of Norway, was the heavyweight champion of the 1924 Olympics and later became a prominent professional.

TIGER JOE RANDALL, Negro welterweight, of Elizabeth, says a bout he wouldn't miss seeing would be one between Paul Pirrone and Tommy Freeman, middleweights, both of Cleveland. Freeman is the former welterweight champion of the world.

RANDALL RECENTLY MADE the mistake of giving away a lot of weight and trying to beat Freeman at Greenlee Field, and suffered a technical knockout in a bout in which he was floored 10 times before the referee intervened.

"I HAD NO idea Freeman was so big and strong until I entered the ring with him," Randall said today. "I went after him in the first round, which I won, but before the bell he picked me up bodily and set me down and I knew I was in for a bad night. He has a trick of holding you with either hand and belting you with the other one, and you can't keep him off or protect yourself against his body punching in the clinches. Pirrone also is big and strong and a hard hitter. Whoever makes a match between them will have a honey."

RANDALL, BY THE way, would like to fight Buck McTiernan, with the latter coming in at less than 155 pounds. He also would like to fight Jack King, who is being handled by James (Red) Mason. He says:

"I always could beat Mason's fighters. I ruined most of them. I knocked out Young Rudy, beat Jimmy Belmont twice while he was with Mason, lost on a foul to Cuddy DeMarco when I was getting ready to knock him out and knocked out Dominick Profio twice and won a decision over him another time. Randall also defeated Jack Zivic in one of the latter's last bouts, and has knocked out Davy Grove, Young Saylor, Tug Phillips and Billy Rose. His record is one of the finest in the district, and he was not disgraced in losing to Freeman, who previously has beaten McTiernan and knocked out Lee Sala in one round in bouts here.

THEY ARE HAILING Billy Southworth, former Pirate outfielder, as the wonder worker of the minor leagues. Winner of four International League pennants with Rochester in as many years, he was called in by the St. Louis Cardinals to take over the reins of another of their farms, the Columbus Club, of the American Association, when it began to slip under the handling of Nemo Leibold several weeks ago and he has that outfit playing winning baseball again and on the heels of the leaders. Nothing but winners grow where Southworth hangs his hat in the minors, and Columbus fans are glad to get him. Incidentally, Columbus is his home town.

LOCAL ATHLETIC FANS are recalling the fact that many of the track and field stars now representing the United States in the Olympic Games at Los Angeles competed in the National A. A. U. senior and junior championships in the Pitt Stadium, two years ago. Eddie Tolan and Ralph Metcalfe, Negro sprint stars, and George Simpson, of Ohio State, who monopolized the sprints, and Eddie Genung, the half-miler, all were here, along with many others. They failed to attract crowds in Pittsburgh, but have been basking in the spotlight of the world the past few days.

FINLAND HOPES FOR WIN IN 5,000 METERS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Finland's last-ditch fight to save at least one bright jewel out of the wreckage of its foot-racing crown today shared the Olympic spotlight with the third episode of the rivalry between Bill Carr and Ben Eastman, American 400-meter aces.

Ben Eastman

No slackening of the track and record - breaking carnival was in sight.

For five days the "build-up" for today's two track climaxes has sounded just like the old family phonograph, one record after another. Thousands who have been watching the astounding Olympic spectacle from the outset now mingle laughter with their cheers to greet announcer's old refrain: "Creating a new Olympic and world record."

BECCALI WINS CLASSIC

The response yesterday could have been heard in four different languages. Luigi Beccali won the classic Olympic 1,500-meters in the Olympic record time of 3:51.2, for Italy's first Olympic foot-racing victory of all time.

Matti Jarvinen led the first successful Finnish thrust with an Olympic record javelin throw of 238 feet 7 inches.

Chuhei Nambu, of Japan, the world record broad jumper, added the hop, step and jump championship and world crown to his credit with a mark of 51 feet 7 inches.

Finally, America's own Mildred Babe Didrikson scampered to her second world record victory in the 80-meter hurdles, in 11.7 seconds.

Finland's first championship, however, in an event which was hers simply for going through the motions of spear-tossing, won't be enough to offset her cup of bitterness, if youthful Lauri Lehtinen fails to take the 5,000 meters, the last flat race title that the Finns have a chance to salvage.

The Olympics so far have dealt a stunning series of blows to the EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY: A HINDU SAMSON—Hindu sport enthusiasts refer to Moni Dhar as the "Man with the Million Dollar Hair." He claims to be able to lift 400 pounds off the ground with his locks. While the accomplishment never has been officially recorded, there are two feats of strength credited to Moni Dhar which have official status. One is checking a running automobile with his bare hair, and the other is pulling a cart loaded with 20 children in the same fashion. This latter event, portrayed in my cartoon, is drawn after an authentic photograph.

Equity Bill Filed Against Hickey Park

Charles P. Luck has filed a bill in equity asking appointment of a receiver for the Hickey Park Boxing Club and that he be empowered to sell the assets. It is directed against Fred John Vogel and his agent, Walter Vogel, of Millvale and the Hickey Park Bowl Corporation, 1500 Evergreen avenue, Shaler Township.

It is averred they entered into a partnership March 14, 1930, to continue five years and which the court is asked to dissolve. Luckavers he has not been receiving any profits.

M'LARNIN GETS BAD BEATING

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—James Archibald McLarnin, the one-time "killer," came back to boxing last night for the first time in nearly a year, and himself was almost massacred in 10 rounds by a ferocious young butcher who was introduced as Lou Brouillard, the former welterweight champion.

It was Brouillard's first appearance in New York, and possibly McLarnin's last. He isn't exactly a case for the wet wash people, but, after what happened last night, he may have a future in the welterweight division, but it's strictly behind him. As long as Brouillard remains a welterweight, in fact, McLarnin will do well to remain a spectator.

Bent double through the last five rounds and heaving poignantly with the punches, McLarnin took a cruel beating about the body and was weak and tottering at the end. He wasn't the only one in pain, at that.

DRAW SMALL GATE

The promotion presented the maiden effort of Tim Mara, and the fight probably did less than $35,000, with the Actors' Fund sharing, if possible, in the profits, if any. Mara is the man who has been suing Tunney for the last six years. There isn't any money in that, either.

McLarnin, they say, was handicapped by loose boards in the ring and his long months out of it. Another handicap they forgot to mention was Brouillard. That young man is a downright hindrance.

Clearly outpunched in the early minutes, he came on through the third, fourth and sixth with a profusion of left hooks that landed with sickening regularity in McLarnin's bosom, and, by the time the bell had sounded to end the sixth round, McLarnin was practically ended, too. It was in this round that McLarnin started a cross a right a slit-second after

PIRATES LOSE DOUBLE BILL TO DODGERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Pirates were greeted with an open date today, but the league leaders were not the most companionable people to be found in New York, by any means. Any diamond star would bear some sort of a grouch after losing six games in a row and that is the exact status of the Buccos.

And that isn't all. The Buccos did not need the services of a statistician to acquaint them with the fact that the Chicago Cubs were only three and one-half games behind the Buccos on top of the happenings of yesterday. Lefty Grimm's buddies made his managerial debut a huge success by winning an overwhelming victory over the Quakers while the Dodgers were engaged in the somewhat mean task of taking the Pirates for a ride as they won both ends of a doubleheader.

BUCS' SPIRITS HIGH

What started out to be sensational eastern invasion by the Pirates has turned into something that is not nearly as desirable. When the Rovers left Manhattan Isle, about one week ago, they showed a card of six triumphs and only one setback after seven engagements with the Giants, but they have not won a single game since they shook the dust of the Polo Grounds from their uniforms. In other words, they have won six and lost seven games on the excursion to date.

Manager George Gibson and his hustlers, nevertheless, are far from being discouraged. Naturally, they are disappointed over the unusual turn of events, but they figure wisely when they insist they have the upper hand. Better things may be in the offing for the Pittsburghers, and, once they swing into a consistent stride, they are likely to make a lot of athletes moan.

The Buccos are listed for a single contest with the Dodgers tomorrow afternoon. Following this game the Pirates will move to Boston, where they are carded for four battles with the Braves.

O'DOUL CLOUTS THREE

The Dodgers gave the Pirates a decisive defeat in the opener of yesterday, but the second battle was anybody's fight until one was out in the tenth when Frank O'Doul connected for his third homer of the day to break a deadlock and give the Flatbush crew second success. The scores were 7 to 4 and 6 to 5.

The nightcap was a highly exciting contest. The Pirates were trailing by a run in the eighth when they scored twice to jump to the front. But the Dodgers deadlocked in their half when O'Doul hit his second homer of the afternoon. Frank also connected for a round-tripper in the early contest.

Kremer and Shaute were the opposing pitchers through most of the second game, but Thurston reached the scene in time to receive credit for the victory. Bill Swift, the second Pirate pitcher of the contest, doubled to tie the game in the eighth, but the Scranton boy was charged with the defeat.

SWETONIC CHASED

Swetonic failed to hold the Dodgers in the first contest. Clark was very effective against the Pirates until the eighth when the invaders nicked him for all four of their runs. P. Waner connected for his forty-second double of the season in this game.

Floyd Vaughan suffered from an attack of ptomaine poisoning and did not start either game, but he was able to play in the late rounds of the final contest. Tommy Thevenow substituted for Vaughan.

Nick Altrock Baseball's Humorist Says:

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—Well, folks, if Pittsburgh's steel industry had picked up as suddenly as her Pirates, we'd all be around that corner, grabbing Prosperity by the heels.

Nick Altrock

Old George Gibson has certainly pumped the elixir of life into his outfit and today the team looks so pretty they are calling them the Gibson Girls.

But, if I was a National League manager, do you know what team I'd watch out for? The Phillies—no fooling! For years the Phils have traveled about as fast as a mountain, but right now they have all the earmarks of a volcano about to erupt. And, when they bust loose in a lava of baseballs, Pittsburgh, Chicago and other National League suburbs, look out!

ROBERTSON STAMPS BECCALI SMART AND HEADY RUNNER

FINNS, YANKEES FALL DOWN IN 1,500 METERS

By LAWSON ROBERTSON
Head Coach American Olympic Team.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 5.—The victory of Luigi Beccali, of Italy, in the 1,500-meters final yesterday, was a surprise to many, but it shouldn't have been a shock. Our great trouble was that on this particular event we paid too much attention to what the Americans have done and what the Finns might do and failed to take into consideration the really brilliant efforts of Beccali in his homeland during the past year.

Beccali has run many brilliant races and his time for each has been excellent. His proven ability, plus his smartly judged pace, enabled him to come from back of the tiring leaders, move to the front and win as he pleased. Glenn Cunningham, of the U. S., tried to step out in front and gain triumph with a big early lead, but couldn't withstand the closing rushes of his rivals. Frank Crowley, U. S. A., never figured in the contest, but Pen Hallowell, of Harvard, was most conspicuous.

HALLOWELL BUMPED

He took an early lead and then elected to drop back of the pace. One of the foreign runners bumped him off stride and he dropped to fifth in the parade. As he was trying to make a later move, another foreigner crashed into him and nearly knocked him to his knees. These two accidents wrecked the chances of our ace.

I was amazed at the poor showing of the Finns. They had Larva, the 1928 winner; E. Purje, who ran third four years ago, and M. Luomanen, another star, yet none could get into the charmed trio.

Finland's failure in the 1,500, added to its defeat at 10,000 meters a few days ago, makes it appear less formidable than we had supposed and they cannot longer be regarded as probabilities in the 3,000 steeplechase and 5,000-meter run, or possibilities in the marathon.

Ben Eastman, of Stanford, and Bill Carr, of Pennsylvania, qualified for the semi-finals in the 400-meters. They won their races so easily that it seems certain they will duplicate in the semi-finals and then hook up for the third time to settle the question of supremacy.

EASTMAN, CARR WIN

Eastman, who was reported to have been suffering sinus trouble for the past six weeks, now seems to be in excellent health and so we may expect that if these two boys hook up with some foreigners to add thrills to the contest, that the race will be a magnificent struggle.

Japan furnished a thrill when its new hop-step-jump star cleared 51 feet 7 inches for a new Olympic and new world record. The old mark was 51 feet 1 inch, made in 1931, by M. Oda, also of Japan, champion in 1928, who was eliminated early yesterday.

The Japanese lack bulk and they lack something in brawn, but in agility they are remarkable and by 1936 they will be a menace to all nations that seek glory in the jumps and the vaults.

CHARLEY GRIMM, NEW MANAGER OF CUBS, GIVES PEP TALK AND BATTLES PHILLIES FOR SECOND PLACE

"Grimmly" determined to win the National League pennant, the Chicago Cubs have dropped Rogers Hornsby as manager and placed Charley Grimm, former Pirate first baseman, in charge of the club. The Bruins answered Grimm's pep talk before yesterday's game in Philadelphia with a 12-1 victory over the closely-pursuing Phillies, who had just beaten the Pirates four straight games and were pressing the Chicago team for second place. This is an International News Photo Service picture.

EASTMAN, CARR MEET AGAIN

foot-racing prestige that Finland developed so sensationally after the war.

First and bitterest blow of all was the banishment of Paavo Nurmi, the king of her runners, on the very eve of the games, destroying Finland's best chance to win the 10,000 meters and marathon.

Then came the youthful Iso-Hollo's defeat Sunday by the Polish star, Jan Kusocinski, in the 10,000. Yesterday the 1,500-meter crown passed for the first time to an Italian, while Finland's defending champion, Harry Larva, finished in the ruck along with his two compatriots, Purje and Luomanen.

FEAR U. S. STAR

With Nurmi and Willie Ritola no longer present to carry on, Finland's 5,000-meter hopes rested squarely upon young Lehtinen, best of the country's newcomers and a world record-breaker at the distance. The man they feared most, for the first time, was an American, Ralph Hill, of Oregon, still holder of the national outdoor mile record.

Yet to be run, of course, are the 3,000-meter steeplechase and marathon, but in these events, too, the opposition for the Finns is stronger than ever.

Meanwhile the Americans had their own private war to settle, between Eastman and Carr, each with a weather eye out meanwhile for the slim Englishman, Lieut. Godfrey Lionel Rampling. The latter is built very much along the lines of the spindly-legged Scotchman, Eric Liddell, who won the Olympic 400-meter championship in 1924.

Rampling didn't look so impressive in the trials yesterday, even under wraps, and there has been nothing yet to prove he can touch the record-smashing performances of Carr and Eastman.

GREAT DUEL EXPECTED

Run in lanes from "staggered" starts, the Olympic 400 favors Eastman's striding style, but it has yet to be proved he can travel as fast as Carr when the final "kick" is called for.

American as well as Finnish hopes were blasted by the withering closing pace of Italy's black-haired little racer, Beccali, in the 1,500 final. The United States sent three of her best college milers to the post, Glenn Cunningham, of Kansas; Hallowell, of Harvard, and Frank Crowley, of Manhattan, but they wound up fourth, sixth and eighth, respectively, in a field of 12.

The Finns finished 1-2-3 in the javelin, in which the leading competitors surpassed the Olympic record exactly seven times. Matti Jarvinen, the winner, got off four throws ranging from 233 to 238 feet, without even taking off his heavy athletic trousers for the run up to the take-off.

Despite Babe Didrikson's world record victory over her American rival, Evelyn Hall, in the 80-meter hurdles, the fifth day of the Olympic track and field championships was a big letdown for the United States forces, which had completely dominated the previous day's program. In the men's team battle, America picked up only eight points and lost one, on the decision putting Finlay, of England, ahead of Keller, United States, in the 110-meter high hurdles.

NET ACES GAIN SEMI-FINALS

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Men's singles semi-final clashes promise torrid action on this afternoon's program of play in the third annual Pittsburgh public parks tennis championships on the Frick Park rectangles. Frank Broida, defender of the man-to-man crown and of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph challenge trophy symbolic thereof, opens the bill by encountering his Harvard mate, Al Lazar, Highland contender, at 3 o'clock, with Harry Wald, Pitt driver, and Buck Maits, University of Pennsylvania star, following at 3:45 in the second semi-final fracas.

Feminine satellites hustled through the semi-finals yesterday and will not see hostilities again till tomorrow, when Mrs. Jean Artzberger, 1930 and 1931 victor, encounters Mrs. Helene Kauffeld. Mrs. Artzberger entered the trophy bracket by dint of 6-2, 6-2 verdict over Ruth Staiger, Riverview hope, and Mrs. Kauffeld landed similar distinction by reversing predictions to eliminate Mildred Klages, West Park chopster and runner-up of a year ago, 6-4, 6-0.

Maits, listed fifth, broke the charmed circle of the first seeded quartet with bitterly fought 8-10, 6-0, 6-4 triumph over Al McCabe, Wooster College product and fourth in the select group.

Neither Broida nor Lazar was pressed severely in hurdling the quarter-finals. The early wildness of Milton King, former Kiski netman, slipped Broida a quick lead and, though the ex-Saltsburger settled into more consistent shooting in stanza two, the premier bided his time till King faltered into a single lapse on delivery that terminated competition at 6-0, 6-4.

The summary:

MEN'S SINGLES

Third round, lower half—E. A. McCorkle defeated George Sobel, 9-7, 6-2.
Fourth round, upper half—Frank Broida defeated Milton King, 6-0, 6-4; Albert Lazar defeated Irwin Beck, 6-4, 6-1.
Lower half—Harry Wald defeated E. A. McCorkle, 8-6, 6-1; Charles E. Maits, Jr., defeated Alfred McCabe, 8-10, 6-0, 6-4.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

Second round, upper half—Mildred Klages won from Betty Jane Bethune by default.
Semi-final round, upper half—Mrs. Helene Kauffeld defeated Mildred Klages, 6-4, 6-0.
Lower half—Mrs. Jean Artzberger defeated Ruth B. Staiger, 6-2, 6-2.

Brouillard had hooked a left down below, the delay being almost fatal to James. He folded over with the punch, his eyes rolled strangely in his head, and, after that, he never was quite the same man.

BROUILLARD CLICKS

In fact, he crossed no more rights until the ninth, when, in desperation, he swung both hands to the head in a series of rallies that earned him better than a break on the round. He also scored with a long right directly under the belt starting the tenth but lived to regret it, because this only served to further incite the maniacal Brouillard and what he did to McLarnin's body in the ensuing minutes was something to make the witnesses shudder.

James' celebrated right hand was much in evidence during the early rounds, but the effect was not quite as expected. For one thing, it seems to have lost something. For another, he wasn't hitting the singers and Goldsteins. He was hitting Brouillard. The young man is quite a prize fighter.

Keed Whips Shea

By WILLIAM L. COLLINS
International News Service.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—You can have vanilla. We'll take chocolate.

Kid Chocolate—Eligio Sardinias to his folks in Cuba.

The Kid, the Cuban bonbon, handed Eddie Shea, Chicago Italian, a sound 10-round drubbing here last night to retain his world junior lightweight title.

His so-called "blinding speed" was just that.

The little brown-skinned battler blinded Shea as he slipped in and out, whipping over punches with lightning-like rapidity. The boxing of the Cuban dazzled the Italian and he often stood flat-footed as the blows rained on his face and body.

But, for all that, Shea kept wading in, taking two, three, or half a dozen to loop over a crushing right.

The challenger put on a tenth-round rally that sent a small crowd and One-Eye Connolly to their feet in a frenzy.

Chocolate won every round but the first and last. The opener was even and the finale went to Shea.

126-pound class—Gene Pier, North Side A. C., defeated Herbert Ladore, Linwood A. C., 3 rounds.

REESE BATTLES GOSS IN FINAL

BEDFORD SPRINGS, Pa., Aug. 5.—A pair of former Yale golfers, Jack Reese, captain of the 1931 Eli squad, and Leod Goss, a member of this year's graduating class, battle today in the 36-hole final for the Bedford Springs amateur golf championship. Both hail from Johnstown.

Reese, playing for the title for the second consecutive year, eliminated George Goodrich, of Lehigh, 1 up, yesterday, to gain the final round, while Goss put out the defending champion, Wilson (Billy) Marks, of Kiski and Princeton, 4 and 2.

Reese, tourney medalist and holder of the course record for amateurs, had an all-the-way battle of it with Goodrich. He finally took the lead on the sixteenth hole and managed to hold it until the end.

Between Rounds

Bunny Buntach, manager of George Panka, today stated his position with regard to a match between George Panka, big heavyweight, and Frank Novak, of the North Side. Stating that by saying he did not see how Novak rated a match with Panka, he declared he nevertheless was willing to close for it if the fans and the promoters want it, but at his own terms.

"The promoters tell me what a great natural the bout is," Buntach said, "and then offer me 15 per cent for Panka's services. At that rate, they must be going to pay Novak 3 or 4 per cent. A natural match is one that figures to draw a lot of money, and it should rate at least 50 per cent or better for the main bout principals. I'll take 55 per cent and pay Novak $75 for his end, which is what Panka accepted for the privilege of beating Pietro Corri, of New York, his last time out; and if Novak wants to make a reputation and his manager is so sure he can beat Panka, he can take that or leave it. The smart promoters are not pulling me in on any 15 per cent natural matches. I'll let Leo Clements fight Novak for 15 per cent, if that's all they can afford to pay. He knocked out Novak in McKeesport and can do it again."

Cowboy DeLuca is off the Hickey Park card for next Monday night, Young Rudy taking his place in the semi-final. Battling Gizzy and Chico Cisneros are in the top spot.—HARRY KECK.

Arior Star Wins In Ligonier Race

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 5.—A crowd of 3,000 witnessed the first day's racing events of the Ligonier Valley Fair Association yesterday. The card consisted of 2:30 pace for a $100 purse and a 2:24 trot for a $150 purse.

Seven horses started in the 2:30 pace, which was won by Arior Star, Haines stables, York. Arior Star finished first in the first heat, first in the second and second in the third.

BELMONT LOSES TO GOOSBY; DAVIES WINS

Things are beginning to look up a bit again in the local boxing realm. They drew a good-sized crowd at Greenlee Field last night for a good fighting card, and, with the clubs working on some natural matches, the more or less ailing sport won't be long coming out of the ether.

Frankie Goosby, Cleveland Negro, bested Jimmy Belmont, of Braddock, in the 10-round windup, a hard battle which found both tired in the closing rounds. Goosby had too much boxing class for Jimmy in the early stages, and also blasted away with a hard right to the head and body, but Jimmy stood up doggedly under the punishment and kept trying all of the way, with the result that things were more even toward the end.

One of the judges voted for Belmont, but the other one and Referee Al Grayber rightly scored the bout for Goosby. Jimmy was bleeding from a cut right eye and his nose from the third round on, and was knocked down to the tips of his gloves in the second, but didn't take a count, and he clipped and hurt Goosby several times later.

DAVIES BEATS LITFIN

Willie Davies, Charleroi veteran, called upon his ring cunning to win over Nat Litfin, of the Hill, recently returned from California, in the eight-round semi-final. Litfin showed good boxing form and also punched hard, but Willie kept on the move, stabbing and spearing and hooking and crowding, and piled up points to win five of the rounds and hold his own in the last session, when Litfin put on a strong finish. Red Mason seconded Litfin.

The bout was the two hundred and eightieth of Willie's career, all but 37 of them as a professional. Of these he has lost only 22, he said later. The referee's vote also decided this bout, one of the judges voting for Litfin.

SPEIGAL TAMES ELLING

Max Elling, Kingfish cut-up of the Hill, ran into his first defeat as a professional in the second bout, the more experienced Joey Speigal, Uniontown southpaw, beating him all of the way and having him in bad shape in the closing round.

Paul Monar, Homestead, flyweight, making his professional debut, beat Johnny Woods, Cleveland Negro southpaw, handily in the opening bout until just before the close of the fourth round when he was hurt by a left to the head and had to hang on. Paul claimed he was ill in his corner at the end of the round and refused to answer the bell for the fifth, losing by a technical knockout.

Jack Henderson alternated with Al Grayber as the referee and the judges were Freddie Lux and Jock Simco.

Chilly Sauce
By Charles J. Doyle

The events of yesterday in the National League had a strong tendency toward bunching the flag contenders in an unusual manner. The various rivals of the Buccos were close enough for comfort before the Dodgers kicked over Our Boys in both fights of a doubleheader; when the conflicts were finished a real scramble obtained.

The Dodgers, in fifth place, are only seven games removed from the Pirates, who are half as far in advance of the Cubs as they are in front of the Flatbush crew. The Phillies lost some ground in the second-place competition, but they, too, gained on the slumping Buccaneers. Meantime, the Braves won a hair-line decision over the Reds and are only six contests below the league leaders.

The Bruins certainly did provide a fine accompaniment for Galli Curci Grimm, as the coloratura firstsacker made his managerial debut. And speaking of music, if Grimm is able to engender as much harmony in a ball club as he exerts over his voice or on a banjo, the Bears are destined to be the happiest family in John Heydler's vast neighborhood.

If Grimm ever had an enemy in baseball, I have not heard of him. He has a good word for everybody and in turn he enjoys the respect an admiration for diamond stars all over the country. Folks with a kind disposition like that owned by the St. Louis Dutchman are apt to be as firm as a strict disciplinarian when the occasion calls for such treatment.

Frank O'Doul apparently was not barking at the moon weeks ago when he humbly suggested that a fellow named O'Doul might overtake P. Waner and other de luxe hitters of the National League before the season ends. O'Doul's two homers downed the Pirates in the second fight of yesterday. Frank is just about the last word in correct batting. As a stylist he is to baseball what Bobby Jones is to golf.

TOLAN TO GET RECEPTION

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—There will be a reception committee, designated by Mayor Frank Murphy, at the station when Eddie Tolan comes home from his triumphs in the Olympic games in California.

The eyes of the welcoming crowd will be on Eddie, but Eddie's eyes will be on the typical southern mammy whose toil over the wash tubs made possible his success—his mother.

Mrs. Thomas Tolan is proud of her son's athletic triumphs, but she is prouder still of his determination to be a physician. Recently she has been sole provider for the family.

Mrs. Tolan was born in San Antonio, Tex., 55 years ago. Her father, born in slavery, was a Union soldier in the Civil War. Her husband is a cook.

Dickey Returns, Makes Four Hits

Bill Dickey celebrated his return to the New York Yankee lineup after a 30-day suspension yesterday by walloping a home run and three singles and driving in five runs as the league leaders crushed Chicago 15-3.

SCHOSKI LEADS M'FARLAND IN GOLF FINAL

By TOM BIRKS

Alex Schoski, who has proven one of the dark-horses in the North Park golf championship, was leading Bernie McFarland, former city champion, 2 up at the end of the first 18 holes of their 36-hole final match for the North Park title.

Schoski completed the first half of the match in even par figures of 72, while McFarland was two over par with a 74.

The championship will be decided this afternoon when the second 18 holes will be played.

McFarland achieved the final round by two fine victories yesterday, defeating J. B. Swain 5 up in a postponed match, and then eliminating Maj. J. O. Longstaff in the semi-final round, 4 up.

SCHOSKI WINS

Schoski, a newcomer to local golf, hogged the limelight when he defeated the medalist, Steve Borovich in a grueling match 1 up. Borovich was on overwhelming favorite to win the title following his winning of the qualifying medal and his victory over Bill Mercer, captain of the undefeated Kiski team.

George Chubb won the title in the second division, defeating Bob McNaughter in the final round, 1 up, in an extra hole match.

Mike Evans, a product of Schenley, had to turn in a crackerjack 75 to win the crown at South Park yesterday. Mike defeated E. W. Patterson in the final, 2 up. Patterson also played fine golf, carding a 77.

In the second flight, W. Hartzell defeated D. W. Hurley in the final, 1 up.

MISS WARMCASTLE VICTOR

Barbara Warmcastle, Dave McKay's classy young protege at the Pittsburgh Field Club, won another tournament yesterday afternoon. She grossed an 82 to lead a big field, over the Butler Country Club course, to win over Mrs. L. G. Riley, of Edgewood, who had a gross 88.

Miss Warmcastle also won the low net prize, a five handicap giving her a net 77, but as a player was entitled to a single prize. Miss Mary McCune, of Montour Heights Heights, and Mrs. Tom Gray, of Kittanning, shared the low prize net with 80s.

It will be Women's Day at Butler's Golf Club at Buena Vista today. Professional Fred Loeffler is expecting a banner crowd of the fair sex to play over the popular course.

Chicago to Give Grimm Big Welcom.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(INS.)—Civic and business organizations today were mapping plans for an enthusiastic reception in honor of Charley Grimm, new manager of the Chicago Cubs.

Grimm's first appearance here since his elevation to the managership will be on August 16 when the Cubs return home to engage Boston. That date will be designated as "Charley Grimm Day" at the baseball park.

MORGANTOWN LEADS

ST. MARYS, W. Va., Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Morgantown's junior American Legion baseball team won the first of a three-game series with St. Mary's for the state junior American Legion championship yesterday. The score was 3 to 2.

"SOME NEWS is cheerful. The India Tire & Rubber Company, of Akron, O., increases wages 20 per cent to make up for a similar cut in January. Employes were told that if they made the concern profitable, wages would come back.

"They did it, working six hours a day, seven days a week. The management says the increased leisure, freedom from factory monotony, enjoyed by the men account for an unusual production record.

STOCK ADVANCE MEETS WITH RESISTANCE

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP.) — With bullish enthusiasm still fired by growing expectations of autumn business recovery and by efforts to boost commodity prices, further sharp advances were achieved in the stock market today, although on the whole, prices did not get much above yesterday's highs.

While profit-taking checked the rise at times, and a sprinkle of selling came into the bond market, stock traders were encouraged by the tendency of trading to slacken on downturns. It was notable, however, that selling was met on successive advances.

The farm implements were in the lead, with Case making an extreme gain of 7 points, and International Harvester getting up about 6. Miscellaneous issues getting up 2 to 3 points at the best included American Telephone, American Can, United States Steel common and preferred, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, American Water Works, Public Service of New Jersey, Dupont, Drug, Eastman, Standard of New Jersey, and others. Advances of a point or so appeared throughout the list, although the coppers failed to participate. There were occasional recessions of a point or so from the best.

With rumors of a big bull pool in wheat taking more tangible form, speculative attention was turning increasingly to the commodity markets, where there were again numerous substantial advances. A definite figure of $30,000,000 has been widely named for the wheat pool, and Arthur W. Cutten was widely believed to be heading the group.

Some quarters in Wall street were inclined to see important distribution going on in the share market for the account of interests which had managed to accumulate stock at substantially lower levels, but new buying was still reported in good volume from many cities and abroad. The fact that brokers' loans again showed little change was regarded as further evidence of substantial investment buying. Nevertheless, inquiries among investment trusts indicated that they were mostly still taking a cautious attitude. At least one of the larger trusts, however, has done a fair amount of buying.

In metals, there was little change in domestic copper prices, but the red metal again advanced in the foreign markets, and at home, lead and zinc were again higher. Bar silver also mounted ¼ of a cent to 27⅛ cents an ounce. Among the day's earnings reports was that of Simms Petroleum, showing a loss of only $60,259 in the second quarter, against the large deficit of $1,303,277 in the like period of last year. Less encouraging was the report of Radio Corporation of America for the second quarter, showing a loss of $283,818, against a profit of $1,072,184 in the like period of last year.

WHEAT PRICES GAIN BRISKLY

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Grain prices shot upward early today, responsive to New York stock market bulges and to reports of unfavorable harvest weather in Europe. Further talk of a big commodity pool being organized was also a bullish factor, together with burning of 800,000 bushels of wheat in a Chicago elevator fire. Opening 1 to 1¾c higher, wheat afterward rose further. Corn started ½ to ⅞c up and continued firm.

In a general buying rush, wheat went up quickly 2 cents a bushel before beginning to fluctuate.

Meanwhile, unusual buying force developed in the corn pit. Despite active profit-taking sales on fresh upturns, bears made little headway. Suggestions were heard that such purchasing of corn, especially September delivery, was for traders who recently had been large sellers. Oats borrowed firmness from corn and wheat. Provisions were little changed.

HIGHER PRICES IN LIVESTOCK ENCOURAGING

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—If business has really turned the corner, the lowly hog and livestock will claim the honor of having led the way out.

In giving an insider's interpretation of the significance of the advance in livestock, T. G. Lee, president of Armour & Co., pointed out:

"We have had the most encouraging improvement in an important business index that has occurred in several years. Whether this improvement will be a lasting one, I cannot say. The livestock and meat business is certainly large enough and important enough as compared with other basic industries to be regarded as a business barometer, but continuing improvement in business generally depends upon so many factors, domestic and international, over which neither farmers nor packers have any control whatsoever, and evidences of betterment in these directions are as yet so obscure that I do not care to guess what bearing the recently better prices for livestock will have on the future course of general economic recovery. I am hopeful, however, that the improvement we have seen in this business in the last month may prove to be so well founded that we may later look back upon it as the opportunity which enabled the livestock producers and packers to lead the way back to better conditions."

Mr. Rukeyser

Mr. Lee explained that low prices for live stock and meat discouraged shipments to the market.

"Toward the end of June there was a decided let up in the heavy hog receipts coming to market. Contrary to expectations of nearly all students of hog producing, including government experts, receipts fell off, materially lessening the supply of pork. Naturally hog prices began to rise and inasmuch as the smaller amount of pork available reduced the aggregate supply of all meats available, steer and lamb prices also picked up."

The technical strength of the securities market is in part ascribable to the large amount of cash buying, not a little of it from abroad and a goodly part of it from odd lot investors at home. A number of the important New York banks were distinctly friendly to the rally, and encouraged their strong customers to buy such securities as they considered undervalued.

BUSINESS

Corporation Official Finds Good Signs in Europe

—By GEORGE H. SNYDER—

INDICATIONS OF IMPROVED business can be found in many parts of the world. This statement has been made by an official of a company which has its plants on foreign soil and sells its products in nearly all countries, with the exception of the United States.

The signs of better times cannot be found in widely scattered markets and in some cases they must be regarded more as indications of the future than as actual evidences of immediate gains in sales.

But the fact remains that this organization does see reasonable hope for industrial revival in several foreign countries.

* * *

Foreign Conditions Are Better Than Here

THE DEPRESSION has been world-wide, but business activity in most foreign countries has not slumped to levels as low as in the United States, according to the official of this organization. Europe is still struggling under the after effects of the war. It never reached the great heights of the business boom attained here in 1929 and, conversely, it has not experienced such drastic declines.

While an index figure of leading American [illegible] might stand at 20 per cent of capacity, an index of corresponding foreign industries would stand at about 40 per cent. The balance of the world did not have a period of such excessive inflation as the United States. Consequently it is not suffering to such a great extent during the period of excessive deflation.

* * *

Fall Activity To Be Watched

THE STRENGTH shown in security markets has continued to bolster courage in all parts of the world. The belief is growing steadily that these market advances will be followed by a greater volume of retail commodity buying as fears of the future are dispelled.

It is quite probable that such buying by individuals will lag several weeks behind the market rally. It also is likely that considerably more time must pass before these retail purchases will be reflected in better demand from wholesalers and finally in increased production by manufacturers. It will not be until this changed situation is actually reflected in orders from manufacturers that a material change in unemployment conditions can be expected.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Bonds failed to heed the call of the jubilant stock market today, and mild irregularity and dullness prevailed in most of the listed loan categories. Federal loans held practically unchanged, sales dropping to a minimum. German obligations again reacted, but those of France and Italy advanced. Japanese issues were off a point or more.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

BLONDIE OF THE FOLLIES

From Which M. G. M. Has Made
A Motion Picture Starring Marion Davies

By FRANCES MARION

Blondie Is Thrilled as She Attends Follies With Larry Belmont

CHAPTER XI.

Mortimer Pratt was sitting on the arm of the divan looking appraisingly at Lurline comfortably stretched full length below him, when Larry and Blondie entered the living room. Lurline's description of the yacht was never finished, as the two came in, Larry singing gaily.

"She was a village maiden,
And her life was full of pain,
Till she met her little Larry
And she lost her heart again."

As they approached the divan, Larry, with mock seriousness, said:

"This is little Blondie McClune — Miss Cavendish. I've been dying for you two to meet socially . . ."

Lurline was quick to appear friendly in front of Larry.

"Why on earth did you fly out like that?" she asked Blondie, rising and making room for her on the divan . . . "like a veritable sky-rocket."

"Lottie you're a scream!" and Blondie gave a slight imitation of Lurline's superior attitude. Then turning to Larry she said: "Doesn't she make you laugh?"

"Plenty," answered Larry. There was a moment of embarrassing silence, but Blondie wasn't going to let the conversation die now.

BLONDIE PUZZLED

"She was just the same down at the store—right out of nowhere she'd get so hotsy-totsy, even the customers would laugh . . ."

They all laughed except Lurline, who was doing her best to keep from flaring up.

"I think we've gone far enough on that store subject," and Lurline's voice was as hard as her look at Blondie.

"Oh, I get you . . . I would put my foot in it," Blondie smilingly confessed. Lurline was almost sure she saw Blondie give Larry a little nudge.

"Well—well—well!" Lurline said, and then beaming at Pratt, "Don't you think she's terribly naive?"

"I'm what?"

"Not unattractive!" replied Pratt, looking at Blondie with his usual valuating gaze.

"Were you kidding about the Follies?" Blondie asked Larry.

"Lurline—your little friend is dying to see you in the show. Would you like me to take her to the Follies?" Larry asked.

"Well, now, I think that might be charming—yes," and, turning a sharp look on Blondie, added threateningly, ... "if Blondie can go!"

"Heigh! Heigh! I'm there already," and this time Blondie purposely ignored Lurline's obvious displeasure at the idea.

"What about a hat and coat—could you lend her one?" Larry asked Lurline.

"I suppose so . . . . I suppose I have some little thing I'm tired of wearing." Lurline rose hurriedly and went to her bedroom.

LURLINE DISAPPOINTED

"You're a peach!" Blondie told Larry, bubbling over with excitement.

She didn't have time to say more, as Lurline came in with the hat and fur jacket Blondie had so hurriedly discarded a short time before.

"I know these will fit you," said Lurline, handing them to Blondie.

"Thanks," said Blondie, too excited to notice the look of disappointment on Lurline's face.

Larry quickly reached for the coat, as Blondie pulled the hat on and tucked in her abundant hair. As she slipped into the jacket Larry held for her, she said to Lurline:

"Can I come around back of the stage and see you after?"

"I hope you will," answered Lurline, giving Larry a knowing look.

"Well, let's get going," said Larry, laughing at Lurline.

"Must be going myself," chimed in Pratt.

"How do I look?" Blondie whispered to Lurline as she started after the men.

"All right, I suppose," Lurline replied coldly.

"So long," they all chorused, but didn't wait for Lurline's reply, even if she had any.

ASKS ABOUT SCENE

As they reached the hall Blondie ran ahead to ring for the elevator.

"Cute!" said Larry, watching her enthusiasm eagerly.

"Yes," agreed Pratt. "You did some good hunting."

"Don't be silly," said Larry in all seriousness. "This will be as refreshing as a Sunday school outing."

When Blondie and Larry were ushered into their box at the theater the curtain was already up. Blondie stood staring at the stage, wide-eyed and eager. The stage was so large, and so many people were in the number that to Blondie it was a kaleidescope of color and form and the most beautiful music she had ever heard.

Larry looked at her quizzically, then gently led her to a chair at the railing, but Blondie never took her eyes off the stage. Larry sat down beside her, and except for an occasional glance at the performance, watched her closely. During a lull in the brilliant number, Blondie asked in a whisper what it was.

"It's a ballet—it's supposed to be Paris—the artists give a ball once a year and it's a very gay affair—students and artists' models—they raise Cain . . ."

"Well, that was the ball we just saw, wasn't it?" Blondie asked, and then not waiting for an answer, "It was pretty gay—do people really cut up like that?"

"Sure they do. Didn't you like it?"

"Yes—it was pretty to look at."

"Would you like to be in the Follies?"

"Don't be sil: of course I would. But who would . . ."

"Remind me to speak to Mr. Ziegfeld . . ."

"Aw, quit your kiddin'."

Just then the scene changed, and Larry said: "This is the Place de Concord in Paris—it's like our Fifth avenue, and they're going home after the ball."

"They're all cock-eyed," Blondie said, watching closely.

"Sure! Look!"

"There's Lottie!" Blondie said excitedly. "My, but she's got a swell figure, hasn't she?"

"Wonderful . . ." he replied, looking at Blondie and putting his arm around her waist.

"Not bad . . . . no, no, not bad!" he said.

"Quit now . . ." and Blondie pushed his hand away. "Oh, look! It's beautiful!"

While Blondie was intently watching the stage, there were others behind the scenes watching the box. As Lurline walked into the wings, a girl stepped up to her and in a loud whisper said:

"Larry's in the box—he's got a dame with him—a blonde!"

LURLINE CALLED SAP

"I know—she's a friend of mine," Lurline said quickly.

"You're a bigger sap than I thought you were," replied the girl, moving on and making way for some dancers ready for their act.

Blondie leaned back in the chair and reveled in the perfect rhythm of the bodies and the music. She could feel her throat tightening and little shivers of pleasure run up and down her spine. Almost to herself she said:

"I love music . . . . I've never seen anything like this before."

As the number ended, the door of the box opened suddenly and a man in dinner clothes entered.

Synopsis

Blondie McClune and Lottie Callahan, friends since childhood, work in the same store. After work one evening, Lottie says she has a date and asks Blondie to join her. Blondie disapproves. Two men wait for them outside the building. When one becomes too familiar with her, Blondie slaps his face and goes home alone, to the poor section of the city. Later the two girls argue about the date and it ends in a rough and tumble fight. Blondie's dress is torn and she decides to get a new one. Looking for some money she had saved, she discovers that somebody has taken it. She greets her ailing dad when he arrives home and learns that he has lost his job. Lottie leaves home in quest of a career. After a few months, under the name of Lurline Cavendish, she becomes the newest sensation of the Follies. She visits the McClunes, but is anxious to get away from the place she once called her home. Blondie is self-conscious when she meets Larry Belmont, a young broker.

Now Go On

"Don't you think she's terribly naive?" asked Lurline.

Heart of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge and Lillian Return to Young Folks

I followed Lillian docilely into the living room where the young people were dancing. I knew, of course, that her intimation that we were needed because Noel and Ronald might be "at each other's throats," was only the diverting nonsense she meant it to be. She patently was trying in every way possible to keep my attention occupied during the trying time of waiting for the return of our men from the lonely place upon the bay where they were to meet Hugh Grantland and Lee Chow. I was grateful enough to follow her every suggestion, but I could not force myself to give any real thought to anything save the question of Dicky's safety.

OVERHEAR CONVERSATION

We came through the door unobserved, so occupied were the young people with their own affairs. On the floor Hank and Bill were dancing wholeheartedly with Marion and Carolyn, while Ronald and Bob Trevellan, near us, but with their backs to the door, were talking in low tones, which, however, we could not help overhearing.

"I'll do something to that Worcester insect pretty soon," Bob muttered, in his tone the disdain with which a college sophomore regards a boy from a preparatory school. "D'ye see what that Hank has been handing me—ME, the future hope of the Yale backfield?"

"Have a heart!" Ronald adjured him. "I'll admit he's been stealing your girl away from you pretty regularly, but——"

"Regularly!" Bob's exclamation was almost a squeak. "I haven't had a chance to dance two consecutive minutes with Carolyn since the music started. Every time I get comfortably going that mosquito comes buzzing around and takes her away."

"She doesn't seem to be protesting that I can see," Ronald said in a judicious tone, plainly calculated to irritate his friend.

RONALD AGREES

"Wow! Right on the wrist!" Bob retorted. "You can't get a rise out of me that way, old socks! Do they ever protest cutins, even from kindergarten tots who have just learned to walk? That shows their popularity. And if you had the spirit of a word-deleted-by-censor you'd haul that Hank over to the sidelines by the scruff of his neck, and keep him talking about football until I had one uninterrupted dance at least."

"All right, you poor dub," Ronald said. "Go along, cut in on her now, and I'll be close behind you with the hook for Hank."

"Thanks a lot. Whenever you want any dead buried, call on Mrs. Trevellan's little boy Bobbie, the quicklime expert."

He advanced toward Carolyn and the blissfully unconscious Hank with a determined tread, Ronald lounging lazily after him. Lillian touched me on the arm.

"Did you notice that Bob gave Ronald no word of raillery about Bill's continuous dancing with Marion?" she murmured.

"That's because he probably realizes the situation about Owen," I replied in an equally low tone. "Those boys will rag each other unmercifully about anything under the sun—except some real mishap or unhappiness. Then they have exquisite tact."

"They surely have," she replied, but her tone was absent, and, following her eyes, I saw that she was watching her young daughter closely.

SAME THOUGHTS

Lillian's thoughts were following mine. I knew that as she whispered to me, "Do you see Mary?"

At the left of the door through which we had come there is an alcove which I had lined with bookshelves and shut off with heavy curtains when I first came to the farmhouse. The curtains are generally always drawn aside unless someone is studying there and wishes to be free from interruption. I had not looked toward the recess as we entered, but at Lillian's query I glanced toward it, and saw that the curtains, while not entirely closed, were not as far apart as usual. Anyone inside was effectually sheltered from observation, and even as I touched Lillian's arm, and indicated my belief that Mary was behind the curtains, the girl's voice, low, sweet, so beautifully enunciated that every syllable was distinct, sounded in our ears.

"And you'll promise not to be jealous? You'll know why I am doing it?"

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

John H. Harris, general manager of the Warner Theaters in the Pittsburgh area—co-sponsors of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club—received the following letter from Mrs. Harry E. Kapp, 4731 Stanton avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Dear Mr. Harris:

"Would like a little information about the Junior Komic Club. I have five children from 5 to 15 years of age. What advantages would they have in being a member and what are the qualifications?"

Knowing that there are hundreds of mothers asking themselves the same question, Mr. Harris asked us to print his reply, as follows, in the Komic Club column:

"Your children as members of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club will have many advantages—just a few of which I'll enumerate.

TAUGHT LOYALTY

"Every Saturday a special "kiddie" program of entertainment is arranged for the members, most of this talent being recruited from among the members.

"They are taught the club pledge of loyalty and good behavior, which is repeated in unison at the opening of each meeting. They pledged allegiance to and salute the flag of our country.

"Various games of skill and novel contests, in which only members are eligible to compete, with prizes for those judged the best, are held each week in the Warner Theaters where the Junior Komic Club meets.

"Mothers, at least, know where their youngsters are Saturday mornings and know that they are getting wholesome instructions and entertainment.

MANY ADVANTAGES

"These are just a few of the advantages. Now as to qualifications, all that is required is that the boy or girl joining the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club shall live up to the club pledge and conduct themselves as little ladies and gentlemen at all times.

"I would suggest that you bring your five children to the Enright Theater tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock and attend the meeting. After the meeting the children can enroll and a membership card, copy of the pledge, and Komic Club button will be given them."

Congratulations to the following boys and girls, members of the club, who are celebrating their birthdays today:

Enright—John Ford, Harriet Bennett.

Plaza—Virginia Becker.

Rowland—Dorothy Gardener, Charlotte Jacobs, Junior Kerling, Mary Ellen Hix.

South Hills—Arelene Schroth, Billy Miller, Paul Getty, Mary Elizabeth Meyer.

I'VE traveled the world around," muses the Epicure, "and have tasted foods in many lands. One lesson I have learned. If one constantly seeks perfection, ultimately it is attained... as witness the marvelous cuisine at The WARWICK in New York." Add to that the spacious comfort... the luxurious accommodations... the perfect service... the fashionable, congenial atmosphere... and you will begin to understand the appeal of The WARWICK. Even a short stay will be memorable.

EXCITING START AT OLYMPIC GAMES

Some of the practice trials for the one-way walkathon, in the Olympic Games, are very exciting. Do not miss them if you can. For example, the camera has caught an incident which threatened to end in bad feeling between the athlete from Tasmania and the official starter. Of course everything is done to prevent charges of unfairness, but when the starter refused to use blank cartridges, the Tasmanian could hardly conceal his annoyance. "He wouldn't budge," explained the fair starter, "and I had to do something. After all, American womanhood has some rights."

The Chief Duty

The Provision of Relief for the Unemployed Remains the Main Task at Harrisburg.

The funds of unemployment relief organizations in Allegheny County will be exhausted in two weeks. While there are still some local resources that may yield money, if the prediction that 57,000 families will be dependent on charity before the end of the year is verified, we will have to get aid from the outside.

Gov. Pinchot and a delegation of state officials appealed to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Washington for a $10,000,000 loan for unemployment relief. But the request was refused.

The Legislature remains as the principal hope. It was convened to provide relief, and that remains its chief duty. It is the lawmakers' task to raise revenue. It is a difficult task, and one that will cause bitterness, but it must be done, and the sooner the better.

Grant that intelligent leadership may be forthcoming to see that the task is done intelligently.

The Geneva Conference

Its Failure Was Inevitable Because of the Lack of Basic Accord Among the Nations.

The Geneva disarmament conference has expired almost noiselessly. The delegates, spent with the futility of their labors, just folded their tents and, like the Arab, "silently stole away."

One of the American delegates said ruefully on departing:

"It is not going to be a triumphant return. We are going to have a lot of criticism."

The fear is exaggerated.

The conference was not taken seriously enough for even criticism, unless it be for the unconscionable time it took in dying, to quote the English King's apology for his lingering death.

It failed as all international conferences are destined to fail when the requisite antecedents of joint action are not present. Until there is unanimity among nations as to what is true, and until these beliefs become interwoven with the stock of convictions and faiths, held by the mass of civilized men, there can be no common opinion as to what it is expedient to do.

The field for international agreements has been restricted in the past to postal conventions, or conventions on points of international law, which were backed by humanitarian sentiments that had become universal.

Without such antecedent and basic accord among nations, an international conference is DEVOID OF SENSE.

Mr. Lloyd George, in commenting upon the conference and its failure, sensed this absence of agreement on what may be called the scientific foundation of accord.

"Military and naval experts," said he, "had only too well succeeded in their aim of diverting the thoughts of the conference from big issues and bold solutions to haggling over formulas which barely concealed the intention to impede real progress.

"'When is a battleship a defensive warship?' that was asked at one of these meetings. The reply of an expert was: 'When it is flying the British or American flag.'"

A similar reaction is reflected in the blunter statement of the German minister of national defense, Gen. von Schleicher:

"There are only two courses possible for Germany," said he. "The other powers must scale down their arms or we must organize our army to the point where it affords certain guarantees of security. I wish to leave no doubt that we are going the second way unless equality of rights regarding armaments is conceded to Germany."

This brings the Allied powers back with a bang to the dilemma from which they hoped the Geneva conference might extricate them.

If the Allies do not disarm, the Versailles treaty in express terms gives to Germany the right to bring her armament up to a plane corresponding with that of the Allies.

THE END OF THIS IS NOT IN SIGHT!

Another Gas Rate Cut

Reductions in Philadelphia, Washington and Detroit Emphasize High Cost of Pittsburgh Gas.

A five-cent reduction in the retail gas rate in Philadelphia is announced.

The cut, following directly on the heels of reductions in the gas rates of Washington and Detroit, makes Pittsburgh's unchanged rate stand out in sorry contrast.

The gas companies in other cities pass along to their customers part of the saving that has been effected through the fall in commodity prices, rents and wages. It reflects no credit on the local concerns that they continue to exact the same high rate that was charged when people were prosperous.

The city felt even when times were good that the gas rate charged Pittsburghers for domestic service was unduly high, and sued the companies before the Public Service Commission to compel them to cut the rate.

The Public Service Commission ruled against the city, but it has since been charged by Gov. Pinchot that Chairman Ainey, of the Commission, was in receipt of financial favors from the president of one of our gas companies.

Ainey has resigned, and several other members of the Commission at the time it decided against the city in the suit for a lower gas rate are also out.

A new suit would stand a better chance of success.

Marihuana

The Legislature Might Well Put the Dangerous Drug In the List of Outlawed Narcotics.

Harold V. Smith, chief of the Bureau of Drug Control, State Department of Health, reports that the practice of smoking marihuana cigarets is spreading throughout Pennsylvania.

There are many marihuana addicts in Pittsburgh. McKeesport police found foreigners there cultivating in their back yards the plant from which the cigarets are made.

Marihuana is a form of hashish. Smoking it causes loss of self-control and leads to crime.

The bureau brands it as a dangerous drug, but says that while it has been outlawed by 12 states there is nothing in Pennsylvania's narcotic laws to interfere with traffic in it.

The Legislature should put marihuana in the list of outlawed narcotics.

Handwriting on the Wall!

A warning and a grim command
That even they must understand.

What Wives Don't Tell

A man usually has only one reason for getting married—and half the time he can't remember what that was!

* * *

A woman, on the other hand, may have half a dozen reasons—and she could tell you every one of them. But she WON'T.

* * *

When you glance around at an assorted group of your friends' husbands, you may be inclined to wonder how and why their wives came to choose them out of the whole wide world. But, there's a REASON!

When a woman stands at the altar and gazes up into a man's eyes, she sees in him exactly what she's looking for—and a lot of things, besides, that you never imagined.

* * *

It may be that she sees "God's Gift to Women"—and it may be that she sees merely "an answer to prayer," an escape from the office grind, the daily monotony and the family nagging.

* * *

It may be that she sees in him a Prince Charming, a Conquering Hero or a devastating caveman. Or she may see in him merely someone to mother, to nurse, to coddle or to "reform." Someone whose ways need mending, whose digestion needs watching, whose backbone needs stiffening and whose soul—or whose money—needs saving.

* * *

She may see a fascinating "man-about-town"—the Perfect Escort and Ideal Dinner companion; someone to go places with; someone to act as scene shifter, chorus and background; someone to decorate the head of her dinner-table, pour the cocktails and give the house a "finished look."

Or she may see merely a man-about-the-house, to punctuate the day, fix the radio, take down the screens and make the dinner worth getting.

* * *

It may be that she sees in him the fulfillment of all her young and glamorous dreams. Or it may be that she sees merely an end to her doubts and disappointments and heartaches. A surcease from man-chase—and a swell chance to put over a big show-wedding.

* * *

You never can TELL!

* * *

Because, while marriage is often merely an accident or an incident to a man, it is to a woman a carefully premeditated step for a definite purpose. And she sees in the man who's putting the platinum band on her finger exactly what she's LOOKING for!

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Thoughts while strolling: George Raft is runner-up for Vincent Lopez' patent leather hair effect. The North Cohocton philosopher—Roscoe Peacock. Dean Cornwell suggests Puck's old drawing of an English toff. One word description of Percy Hammond—choleric.

Mildred Bailey and Kate Smith should enter a beam-tipping contest. What became of opal tie pins? Irving Berlin is always credited with originating ragtime. Ben Harney started it 10 years before, authoring "Mr. Johnson, Turn Me Loose." Those salmon pink shirts with green ties.

Dean Palmer, a St. Joseph (Mo.) boy, who made good in the city. I love that tabloid headline of the Siam upset: "King Aired." The small-town-weekly look of the Variety office. Overheard: "I'm plenty ditched, but there's always the breach of promise ace in the hole." The eccentric dancer—Hans Wilson.

Speakeasy barkeeps will now stand treat for treat. And out in the sticks they admit ladies free to ball games—save on Sunday. Rosamond Pinchot has a lovely name. Jimmy Johnstone, the fight promoter, always appears ready to swing from the ankle himself. Those horsily British ladies with buck teeth.

Charles V. MacArthur's impish expression. The deserted theaters ghostly gloom. One of my favorite people—Roy L. McCardell. Empty skyscrapers. I like the French way of putting things up in the air. They ran up the Eiffel Tower, which is the most useless thing in the world. Next to columnists.

Dr. George Rockwell and Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., look alike. And I'm always mistaking Pat Rooney for George M. Cohan at a distance. The speakeasy rowdy sum-up of a recent tragedy: "A cooch dancer on a bender." Name for a dachshund: "Lowlife." Didn't miniature golf go out like a light, though?

A bewitching young thing slipped over a nice meow for a sister of the chorus at the wonky Atlantic Beach Club. The rival chorine was being three-sheeted at a ringside table by a sedate and elderly rich boy. She was at her demurest when t. b. y. t., dancing past, cooed: "Lo, dearie, isn't it the berries how I'm always banging into you at all-night places?"

I like Ted Saucier's cynicism. An optimist asked: "Where are you spending the summer?" Saucier merely commented: "Anything for a laugh." And in Hollywood, they say, assistant supervisors are mice studying to be rats.

The perennially bankrupt but charming Duke of Manchester is Gotham's favorite Britisher. Genial, alive to smart slang, subtle in feminine understanding, he is a grand companion. He receives liner and hotel suites gratis. People like him around.

* * *

His Grace manages to keep a valet in his entourage—a Jeeves come to life. One of the long sideburned and owl-eyed boys, and dandy airing collectors. To intimates the Duke is "Kim," so known since school days at Harrow. Not after Kipling's "Kim," but because, before his dukedom, he was the Marquis of Kimbalton.

* * *

I attended a tea for the Duke one afternoon. Two uppish ladies, stimulated by a cocktail, attempted to impress him. One traced her ancestry back to a Revolutionary general. The other saw her bet and raised. Her ancestors came in the Mayflower in 1620. The Duke smilingly changed the subject. He could have produced documents showing his ancestors came over with William the Conqueror in 1066.

At the Cherry Lane Theater, in The Village, when a person stops at the box office to ask a question he or she is asked to see the play inside as a guest. Also, a few steps from Cherry Lane, I saw a decorative jewelry shop where those lisping lollipops buy "slave bracelets."

Somebody told me the majority of taxi drivers carry a brick at their feet in the front seat. It is a weapon of defense not illegal to tote. I peeked into 11 in the neighborhood of Grand Central. Six had bricks.

A pitchman in shiny serge near the old Belmont site was vending from his "tripes and kister—valise on a tripod—during the dinner lull. Trade was in utter stagnation but he kept up his sing-song spiel. Finally someone moseyed out of the Grand Central opposite and sauntered toward him. "Ah," he cried to no one in particular, "the mob in full cry!"

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

Never before have you read so much, heard so much, talked so much about conditions.

Three years ago, the only conditions that seemed real to you were your own personal affairs—the conditions in your own home, and your own job, and, perhaps, some of the conditions in your own city, which had a direct bearing on your own interests.

Sometimes you talked a little about national affairs, but you could not work up any great excitement over them. You did not really care which party was in the White House, or what its policy was. Washington seemed very far away, even if you lived as near as Baltimore, and the arguments that went on in Washington might as well have gone on in Mars, as far as you were concerned.

But you're not brushing them aside now. You can't! For, suddenly and terribly, the affairs of your country have become your affairs! The things you called politics yesterday are personal problems today.

Tariffs and foreign debts, wage schedules and taxes, farm loans and federal bond issues and the inflation of the dollar are no longer tiresome phrases which you do not seek to understand—something for Washington to settle. They are things which you MUST understand. They are things which you, as a voter, must PERSONALLY SETTLE.

FOR YOUR JOB, AND YOUR HOME, AND YOUR THREE MEALS PER NOW DEPEND ON THESE THINGS!

Will you have a job this time next year? Will you have a home, and regular meals, and a tidy bank balance?

YOU CAN HAVE ALL THESE THINGS, IT'S UP TO YOU IF YOU WILL DIG IN NOW AND FIND OUT WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT, AND VOTE NEXT NOVEMBER FOR THE RIGHT MAN AND THE RIGHT PLATFORM, YOU CAN HAVE ALL THESE THINGS.

Who is the right man? What is the right platform? I don't know—for you. I think I know, for myself. I know whom and what I personally, am going to vote for; but I can't tell you what you should vote for. But this I do know:

If you—and you—and you—will start today to study conditions—

If you—and you—and you—will make up your mind about what you want—

And then vote for the man who promises you what you want—

And then, having elected him, raise heck until he gives you what you want—

THEN YOU CAN HAVE WHAT YOU WANT IN AMERICA, AND NO PARTY MACHINE CAN STOP YOU.

If you want jobs, you can have jobs. If you want farm loans, you can have farm loans. If you want federal bond issues, you can have federal bond issues.

IF YOU WANT A NEW AMERICA, HOPEFUL AND HAPPY AGAIN, SAFE AND STRONG AND SERENE AGAIN—YOU CAN HAVE IT!

You can have it if you'll stop your beefing and blaming, if you'll cut out your peevishness and laziness and indifference; if you'll get busy and think, and study—AND VOTE.

NEXT NOVEMBER IS YOUR CHANCE.

Next November you can create the America you want and write your own platform—or you can sit back and let things go to smash. It's up to you!

REMEMBER NOVEMBER!

Plain Talk for Liberal Republicans

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

In the present national campaign no one is on trial to the extent that the liberals, real and alleged, in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Illinois are on trial.

They are on trial on prohibition.

Referendums in some of these states have shown overwhelming majorities. There is not a scintilla of doubt about the vast majority of the people being opposed to prohibition in New York.

And most of these agree, between elections, that the governmental problem involved in prohibition is of paramount importance to the country. They know that the "noble experiment" has destroyed respect for law, created a great army of subsidized criminals, deprived the Treasury of millions in revenue and a vast army of breadwinners of work and farmers of a market for their grain.

Between elections they insist that they are against prohibition.

* * *

Was It to Laugh Or to Cry?

Four years ago these liberals voted more like simpletons than like men qualified for the vote—for still clamoring against prohibition they voted against Smith who was against it and for Hoover who was for it.

Imagine the intelligence of the vote in New York and Jersey which went for the champion of the "noble experiment!" Was it to laugh or to cry?

But these hide-bound partisans had an excuse to offer for their inconsistency. Mr. Hoover had promised an investigation. That, of course, meant nothing at all. But it opened the way for the trickery and double-dealing planned. I know that Republican liberals were told "on the quiet" that the investigation was merely Mr. Hoover's way to rid us of the thing; for four or five have told me that such assurances were responsible for their votes for Mr. Hoover and against Al Smith.

* * *

Does Anyone Doubt That Now?

But that is the kind of trick that becomes threadbare in one campaign.

It makes a ragged banner in a second. For now these Republican liberals know just what Mr. Hoover did with his commission of investigation.

First, he tried to get out of naming one.

Second, when the clamor became too great, he named a commission to investigate everything under the sun and included prohibition.

Third, when the majority of the commission reported individually against prohibition, he gave the public a summary of the conclusions which was utterly false.

Does anyone doubt that now?

* * *

The Liberals Lost

Then came the Republican national convention. Republican liberals, disgusted thoroughly, determined to put their party on record in favor of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. The sentiment of the rank and file of the party justified the expectation that some such declaration would be written into the platform. The ablest men in the party were on hand to see that it was put there.

And what happened? Mr. Hoover, in conference with Mr. Garfield, Ogden Mills and others, and in evident conformity with his alliance with the Anti-Saloon League element, framed a plank which pledged the party absolutely to nothing.

When the liberal Republicans announced their plank in favor of repeal, Mr. Hoover put all the power of presidential patronage into the fight against a repeal plank. He had about 300 office holders in the convention.

The fight against repeal was led by Ogden Mills, of New York, who ignored the instructions of his own delegation, and he was the personal representative of Mr. Hoover.

Thus the liberals lost, and Bishop Cannon has come out for Hoover, and the head of the Anti-Saloon League in New York has come out for Hoover.

* * *

Roosevelt Declared Against 18th Amendment

In the Democratic convention the sentiment for repeal and for the modification of the Volstead act was overwhelming. Such a plank was put into the platform with a startling majority. Within two days, Mr. Roosevelt appeared before the convention and, in language with but one meaning, declared that he stood squarely with the party on that issue and that "from this hour the Eighteenth Amendment is doomed."

That makes the issue so clear that no one can possibly vote dry this year through ignorance or misapprehension.

Never in the political history of the country has an issue been so clear-cut and unescapable.

* * *

They Choose Their Own Company

New York is overwhelmingly against the amendment.

So is New Jersey.

And Massachusetts.

And Mr. Hoover cannot possibly carry any one of these states unless Republicans who are against prohibition vote for the "noble experiment" and Mr. Hoover. When they vote for Hoover, their 6-year-old child can tell them that they are voting for the Eighteenth Amendment, for prohibition and all its works.

And that they are enlisted under the same banner as Bishop Cannon and the Anti-Saloon League. They choose their own company this year with eyes wide open.

* * *

Plain as a Pike Staff

For the first time, the issue is as plain as a pike staff. In 1928 Mr. Smith was against prohibition, but the Democratic party side-stepped and did not declare against it. The issue in that campaign, such as it was, was in the personnel of the heads of the tickets, not in opposing party pledges. It was possible to persuade many Republican liberals that Mr. Hoover, who used phrases with double-meanings, would do what he could to rid the country of the greatest scandal any law ever had brought upon it.

This year Mr. Hoover still seeks to play both ends against the middle, and Mr. Roosevelt has pledged himself against the Eighteenth Amendment and the present Volstead Act to forty million Americans listening to his voice over the radio.

And this year, for the first time, a leading political party has taken the position these Republican liberals pretend to hold, and the Republican party has taken a stand against it after a spirited fight in the convention.

Where do these Republican liberals stand now?

If Mr. Hoover carries New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Illinois, they will have marched shoulder to shoulder with the Anti-Saloon League; and the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment will be postponed for a generation.

It will be an interesting study—the returns from these states. In no other self-governing country in the world could the result in these states be in doubt now. The fact that some do doubt, throws an interesting light on the weakness in American citizenship. The system is all right, for the chance is here.

Once Overs

By J. J. Mundy

Isn't it true that you want so many things that those you can procure don't give you any especial pleasure?

Always it is the thing just out of reach that you think would give you the most joy.

You have had the experience of desiring something which you have gained.

After a time it seems commonplace and ordinary—you tired of it.

You long for something better and being disappointed because you were unable to procure it you would not allow anything to take its place.

Isn't this childish?

It is possible for you to command about so much.

Others are able to get more because they have the knack, the know-how, the desire, so strongly that they are willing to submerge interests alien in order to possess it.

But you have divided your time, thought, attention and energy in too many different ways.

Consequently, instead of one objective you have had many and reached none.
